

Widening of 13th Voted

Over the protest of Mayor Al Loucks the City Council Monday night voted to widen and improve South 13th street for a block between State and Ferry streets.

The estimated cost is $4941, and the width will be extended from 30 to 40 feet.

Alderman Chester I. Chase, sponsor for the project, said it would become a traffic congestion area with completion of the School Administration building and the state car pool.

The mayor's objection was that other streets are equally in need of widening, and that the South 13th street matter had been brought up too suddenly. It appeared before the council on the supplementary agenda that is prepared only very shortly before the council meets.

Alderman Dan J. Fry attempted, just before adjournment, to get the vote reconsidered, but no one seconded his motion.

Humphreys On Ike's Policies

Chicago (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphreys says the Republican administration is working towards a national security based on "a sturdy defense supported by a sound economy."

At a $100-a-plate Republican dinner last night, Humphreys shared the rostrum with another Cabinet member, Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of health, education and welfare.

"Our concern for our economy is nothing less than our concern for the first line of defense for every freedom that we cherish," Humphreys said.

Mrs. Hobby told the 1,650 persons attending the dinner in the Palmer House that "peace in Korea" ranks first among accomplishments of the Eisenhower administration.

Humphreys said the Republican economic policies are "speeding the day" of tax reductions. But he said these reductions can come only as spending drops.

Laments Queen's Flight in U.S. Plane

London (AP)—Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express reminded its readers Tuesday that Queen Elizabeth II departed on the first stage of her commonwealth tour in a Stratocruiser, an American plane built in Seattle.

The mass circulation, empire conscious paper said in an editorial:

"The thought may come as a shock. For the British airplane industry has lately shot out such a high pressure stream of propaganda about the superior quality of its products that it would not be surprising if the British public has come to believe that Stratocruisers, and Constellations too, are made in this country. . . .

"There is not the slightest hope that the British Overseas Airways Corp. will have British planes on the North Atlantic run before 1955.

"It is certainly a shameful situation, and one which today merits gloomy consideration."

Woman Escapes as Train Smashes Auto

Woodburn—Quick thinking by Mrs. Betty Petty of Hardcastle Ave., Tuesday morning saved her life and that of her 7-year-old daughter when her automobile was struck and demolished by the southbound Shasta Daylight train.

Mrs. Petty drove onto the railroad tracks at Lincoln St., with her vision obscured by freight cars on a siding. While crossing the tracks the car motor stalled.

Seeing the train approaching, Mrs. Petty seized her daughter, and leaped to safety seconds before it was struck by the locomotive.

Mrs. Petty's only injury was lumpy nerves.

3-Story Fall Fails to Hurt Martin Culp

Window cleaner Martin Culp of Albany fell from the third floor of the State Capitol today and miraculously escaped with apparently no serious injuries.

He was cleaning the outside of the windows on the House gallery when a grill he was hanging onto gave way. He landed in shrubs which apparently broke his fall enough to keep him from serious hurt. Salem General hospital said X-rays had been taken, and Culp was "doing fine."

Culp is employed by the B and B Janitorial and Window Service of Salem.

Salem First Aid attended Culp.

To Reclassify Security Data

Washington (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson has set in motion at the Pentagon President Eisenhower's order to overhaul classification of data bearing on national security.

The presidential order, among other things, dropped the "restricted" label, leaving three classifications instead of four—top secret, secret and confidential.

A directive, signed by Wilson Nov. 19 and made public yesterday, ordered immediate cancellation of the "restricted" category. But it gave classifying officers until Dec. 15 to move up a notch any "restricted" information they consider "absolutely essential" as confidential matter.

Ike Pleads for Old West Code

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower, starting a Thanksgiving holiday today, says no one can "assassinate your character from behind without suffering the penalties an outraged citizenry will impose."

That was the code of the Old West where he grew up and it is a code Americans still cherish, the President declared last night in accepting the B'nai B'rith Anti-Defamation League's annual Democratic Legacy Award.

Eisenhower arranged to leave by plane today for Augusta, Ga., for a vacation of golf and a Thanksgiving Day turkey dinner with his family.

He will return to Washington Sunday.

Kiwanians Hear Thanksgiving Talk

"The first Thanksgiving was not a response to abundance," Dr. E. W. Warrington, for 30 years head of the departments of philosophy and religion at Oregon State college, told Salem Kiwanians today at the Hotel Senator.

He is now an associated pastor of the First Presbyterian church here.

Dr. Warrington in a brief Thanksgiving message, stressed the importance of "keeping open the east window of divine surprise," quoting from the poet Lowell. This is an age "pregnant with great possibilities," he said, adding that it would be extremely interesting if some of the original Pilgrims, such as John Alden and Priscilla could return now and see the country whose foundations they helped to lay.

Ronald Craven sang two songs appropriate to the approaching holiday, accompanied by Mrs. Craven. The Rev. George Swift secured and introduced the speaker.

Lattin said that 442 drivers in the six state operations of Pacific Motor Trucking Company this year received National Safety Council safe driver awards. These drivers have run up the staggering total of 1467 years of safe driving on western streets and highways. A total of 49 Oregon drivers for PMT received awards, a figure representing approximately 70 per cent of the company's eligible drivers.

Radulovich Reinstated

Washington (AP)—Secretary of the air force Talbot Tuesday ruled that Lt. Milo J. Radulovich "is not a security risk" and reversed a 10th air force board recommendation that the reserve officer be discharged.

Radulovich, now attending the University of Michigan under the G.I. program, had been slated for discharge following a hearing in which the charge was made that he was a poor risk because of alleged communist sympathies of his father and sister.

Radulovich's attorney, Charles C. Lockwood, said his client was accused because his sister had taken part in picket line activities and his father had read a "racial" newspaper.

Talbot, reversing the recommendation of the board at Selfridge Field, Mich., said Radulovich had served honorably and well for 14 months as an airman and six years as an officer on active duty.
