The 18-year-old beauty said she plans to give up the movie contract she won in the Miss Universe contest and settle down as a housewife.

"She really likes Stockton," said the beaming Marengo. "She thinks it's a wonderful little town."

River Flood Slices Orchard

Lebanon—Heavy flood damage was reported on the E. I. Landstrom farm on River road when South Santiam river water rushing around a bend by the farm, sluiced away 60 feet of orchard, taking out two rows of filberts and a large walnut tree. Considerable loss of land was also reported on the William Ellis place.

Concern is being voiced by residents in the River Road area that if flood water continues to cut at the present rate, a new river channel may be made which will seriously endanger portions of Lebanon's residential district.

Extensive releveling work completed this fall below Sanderson bridge in the Crabtree area, is reported holding firm against flood water. Formerly this area, at a wide bend in the river, was the location of the loss of much valuable land.

Other local damage includes the washing around a headgate of a Mountain States Power company's dam directly east of Lebanon. Several families have been evacuated from a flooded area west of the Grant street bridge.

Hell's Canyon Group Meets at Lebanon

Lebanon—An audience representing many parts of Linn county for the first meeting of the Lebanon Hell's Canyon association Friday night, heard Charles Porter of Eugene outline the needs of the northwest for power to develop its industry.

Porter, who represents the national Hell's Canyon association, traced the benefits of the series of storage dams already constructed on the Columbia and emphasized the need of the high dam on the Snake to complete the overall plan of water storage, increased electric power, and facilitate flood control.

At the close of the address, the film, "Look to the River" was shown illustrating the value of the Columbia basin dam development.

W. E. Miles presided at the session.

Child Wakes Up, 'Dog Licking Face' But It's a Tiger

Sydney, Australia (AP) — Seven-year-old Mavis Halcroft woke up in bed early Tuesday morning and called: "Daddy, quick, Daddy, help me. Stop this big dog licking my face. He's on my bed."

Her mother looked up and saw a tiger on the bed.

It was licking Mavis' face while her 3-year-old sister Fay slept beside her undisturbed.

Claude Halcroft, the children's father, picked up a .22 rifle, took careful aim.

"I did not have to tell Mavis to keep still," he said later. "She was under the blankets, very frightened, and as still as could be."

"I fired and the bullet went through the tiger's nose and jaw. It was away in a flash through the door and into the street."

The animal was found later, weak from loss of blood.

It had escaped from a circus after someone tampered with the lock on its cage.

Meanwhile Mavis spent the day in bed. Not because of shock, but because she has a cold.

Blaze Damages Widow's Home

Silverton—A property and furniture loss approximating more than $2,000, was reported from a fire at the 728 West Main street home of Mrs. Ethel Beck and her six children, early Saturday evening while the family was attending a show.

Intense heat and smoke were confined to the interior of the house. Beds and personal clothing were damaged only by smoke, due to the work of the volunteer firemen, who were unable to control the extensive damage to the floor near an oil heater which presumably started the fire. A large hole was burned through the roof and the plastered walls were badly damaged.

The volunteers arrived in time to save the family pet, a dog which suffered bad burns, but will survive.

The family was given shelter at a neighbor's home until other living quarters can be provided.

Mrs. Beck is a widow.

Applegate Faces Trial In Peiping for Spying

Hong Kong (AP) — Three Americans seized by the Communists last March while sailing to Portuguese Macau have been transferred to a Peiping prison and will go on trial soon for espionage, it was reported today.

The usually reliable Chinese language newspaper Wah Kiu said Richard Applegate, National Broadcasting Company correspondent and former United Press reporter; Don Dixon, International News Service correspondent, and American Merchant Capt. Ben Krasner only recently were taken to Peiping from Canton.

They will be tried by a joint court composed of public security forces and a people's court, the newspaper said.

The newspaper said Applegate's yacht, on which the three men were traveling when the Communists seized them, now has been taken to Whampoa, a seaport near Canton.

State Department officials in Washington have feared that the Chinese Communists are trying to force the three men into signing confessions that they engaged in espionage.

In the past the Communists have held Americans until they signed false confessions.

American officials said the three definitely were not carrying on spying activities and that any espionage charge would be completely unfounded.

Road Race Won By Argentina

Juarez, Mexico (AP) — Juan Manuel Fangio, crack Argentine driver piloting an Italian Lancia sports car, Monday won the international sports car class of the fourth Pan American road race.

Fangio flashed across the finish line a few minutes after Italy's Umberto Maglioli, driving a borrowed Ferrari, set a new record for the 225-mile final lap from Chihuahua City to this border town.

Maglioli's time was one hour 36 minutes and 30 seconds for the distance.

Fangio's elapsed time for the 1,912-mile of the border to border race was 18 hours 11 minutes—more than 40 minutes ahead of the record set in 1952 by Karl Kling of Germany in a Mercedes Benz.

French Arrest Union Leader

Paris (AP) — French police have finally arrested Benoit Franchon, secretary general of the big Communist-dominated General Labor confederation CGT and a fugitive since last March.

The 60-year-old metal worker was nabbed yesterday as he left a meeting hall where, in defiance of the eight-month-old warrant, he presided over a union meeting.

He is charged with endangering the security of the state. His arrest was ordered March 24 after police raids on Red offices and the arrest of several other CGT officials.

Finland's Spy Case Opened Tuesday

Helsinki, Finland (AP)—Finland's biggest postwar spy trial opened Tuesday. Seven men and a woman were brought before the court of appeals charged with gathering and channeling secret information to unnamed foreign powers.

Army Capt. Martti Salo, 35, was described as leader of the ring which the prosecution said transmitted information which could have endangered the security of the nation.

POTENTIAL DINNERS

Lebanon — Bea Miller, grower of one of east Linn County's largest turkey flocks, conducts the enterprise on his Rt. 2 farm, four miles west of Lebanon. His eldest son, David, right, is also a turkey man in his own right having worked with the 8,000 head flock throughout the summer and early fall. The Miller's plan to raise turkeys again next year, saving 800 hens from this year's crop for breeders. They have raised turkeys on a large scale for the past three years.
