

Rotary Told of New Zealand

The peoples of the United States and of New Zealand should be firm friends because they have so much in common, said Bert Ziegler, native of New Zealand during Wednesday's luncheon of the Salem Rotary club.

Ziegler, teaching at Parrish junior high under the Fullbright plan of exchange, spoke of the climatic likenesses of the two areas, their resemblance as to size and the commodities raised.

The exchange teacher stated that his native country was a land of great scenic beauty, including magnificent lakes and rivers, and quantities of game and fish.

Ziegler paid tribute to the teaching staff, administration and custodial force of the Salem schools for their ability and their friendliness.

The visitor sang one of the Mauri songs which resemble

Youth Killed In First Visit To Coal Mine

Somerset, Pa. — Many times 15-year-old Simon Albright Jr., of nearby Salisbury, Pa., pleaded with his father to take him to the coal mine where he works. Each time the father refused.

Tuesday Albright finally agreed. The youth, his eyes bright with curiosity, went into the old smokeless mine near Boyton with his father.

The day's work was nearly over and young Albright was helping pick up the mine tools when a huge rock fell and crushed him to death.

Milk Inspectors Will Go to School

Every Oregon milk inspector will go to school three days this winter. The state fluid milk act requires that they gather once a year, under direction of the state department of agriculture and the state college, to unify techniques of milk inspection all along the line from dairy farm through processing plant.

They'll gather in the second annual Oregon Milk Sanitarians Short Course, to be held at Oregon State College November 30 and December 1 and 2.

Feature speaker, who will appear three times during the sessions, will be Dr. C. J. Babcock, Washington, D. C., in charge of the standards section of the dairy branch of Production and Marketing Administration.
