

Moore Ordered To Defend Title Against Johnson

Washington (AP)—The National Boxing Association has ordered Archie Moore, world lightweight champion, to defend his title against Harold Johnson by Christmas eve.

If not, the NBA executive committee decided Saturday, it will take Moore's title away from him.

In other actions, the association ruled:

1. Freddie Beshore and Irish Bob Murphy, two onetime boxing luminaries who have been beaten severely of late, are retired "for the good of boxing."
2. Kid Gavilan, the welterweight champion, automatically surrenders his title if he wins the middleweight championship.
3. If Gavilan elects to stay among the welters, he must make his next title defense against Carmen Basilio, who lost a disputed decision to Gavilan earlier this year.
4. Percy Bassett, interim featherweight champion, must defend his crown against either Willie Pep or Red Top Davis. The NBA said Bassett is willing to fight either man at any time.
5. As soon as featherweight champ, Sandy Saddler, is discharged from the army, he must make a title defense against Bassett, provided Bassett is still interim champion.

The NBA agreed to explore the possibility of a nationwide system of insuring boxers.

DIFFICULTIES WITH A DEAD PINE

A year ago a Ponderosa pine tree on the P. Peterson place near Turner, four feet in diameter at the base and near 150 years old, died. Sunday an attempt to fell this 100 foot tree was made by experienced woodsmen. Numerous difficulties were encountered. Because the tree was rotten on the inside, wedges were not effective in springing it to fall. Additionally, the tree was filled with bees at its base and the day was sufficiently warm to make them a buzzing nuisance. Finally the tree was toppled by aid of a cable and a tractor. Shown is George Zimmerman, one of the fallers, examining the position of ineffective wedges.

Corporation Tax Drops Sharply

Washington (AP)—A sharp drop in corporation tax payments is holding federal revenue collections below last year's rate, Internal Service figures showed today.

The service said corporation income taxes amounted to $1,787,000,000 in September, compared with $2,442,000,000 in September 1952.

This brought total corporate payments to $2,744,000,000 since the fiscal year began July 1—about one billion dollars below the like period last year.

Individual income and employment taxes—the biggest item in government income—were up slightly in September, $2,032,000,000 as against $1,970,000,000 in September 1952.

That made personal income payments $8,764,000,000 from July through September, 662 million dollars above last year's rate.

But collections from all sources in September, the service said, slipped to $4,235,000,000 from $5,278,000,000 in September 1952, and the July-September total of $13,871,000,000 was 645 millions below last year.

ONE OF FIVE THAT REMAINS

Turner covered bridge spanning Mill Creek on Aumsville road is one of five covered bridges remaining in Marion county. This red-covered bridge is 78 feet in length and was built in 1936 at a cost of $750. It is still in good condition. Besides Turner bridge two covered bridges remain on the Abiqua and the Gallon house bridge and Esson bridges still stand in the Silvertop locality according to a member of the Marion county court.

Surplus Food Opportunity

Washington (AP)—Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse said Monday current farm surpluses should be dealt with as "opportunities" and not as "problems."

"We should be thankful," he said, "that we have this abundance, rather than the hunger and meager existence that plagues three-fourths of the world's population."

In a speech prepared for a convention of the Southern Seedmen's association, the farm official said surpluses stand as a challenge to management.

"Leadership needs frankly to admit failure to the extent that it fails to successfully move abundant production into use when there are unsatisfied needs in the United States and around the world."

Morse said the Eisenhower administration, with the help and guidance of farmers, their leaders and educators, will submit to congress "solid and approved recommendations for improved governmental farm programs" to deal with surpluses and farm price and income problems.

Body of Sisters Hunter Found

La Grande, (AP)—A week-long search has ended with finding of the body of Charles Warner, 40-year-old Sisters, Ore., elk hunter. Warner's body was found Saturday slumped under a tree. Searchers reported he apparently suffered a heart attack.

Seventy-five to 100 men, refusing to give up the search, combed the Odessa Springs area near Tollgate in a last-ditch effort to find Warner, missing since Nov. 21. Sixty of the searchers were from Sisters.

For the second time, members of the search party Friday voted to call off the hunt, but fellow townsmen from Sisters refused to quit and renewed the search Saturday.

William M. Curtis, state fire warden from La Grande, who directed the hunt, was discoverer of Warner's body.
