

FIRE SWEEPS PUSAN

Flames engulf a building in downtown Pusan, Korea, as a wind-whipped fire swept a mile-and-a-half swath through the port city. Some 3,000 homes and the U.S. Army's Korean base headquarters building were destroyed. Several thousand U.S. soldiers aided in fighting the fire which for a time endangered the U.S. embassy and tens of millions of dollars worth of equipment and material on American operated docks. A fall down basement stairs Friday resulted fatally Saturday for Mrs. Grace Estella Buell, 80, who had lived in the Salem community for 71 years.

The accident occurred at Mrs. Buell's home, 1909 North Fourth, and she died at a Salem hospital where she failed to recover consciousness.

Mrs. Buell was born in Indiana October 12, 1873. With her family she came to Oregon when she was 9 years old and they lived at Woodburn, later moving to Salem.

Hirohito Calls Special Session

Tokyo (AP)—Emperor Hirohito called Japan's Parliament into an unusual special money session today and urged the members to do their best in a "critical situation."

The legislators will act on a proposed supplementary budget bill which, if approved, would push this year's figure to an unprecedented one trillion yen ($2,777,000,000).

The proposed addition, second this year, resulted from the government's decision to raise the price of rice, the wages of government workers and education subsidies. The government buys the rice crop from farmers for rationing at controlled prices.

KGAL Given New Transmission Scope

Lebanon—With the completion of a $20,000 building program which included a second 250 foot tower, transmission lines, tuning units and other radio equipment, station KGAL is now authorized to broadcast unlimited time on 920 kilocycles with 1000 watts of power. It is the first station in Linn and Benton counties so authorized to broadcast full time at that wattage.

The night time coverage of KGAL was rated by consulting engineers to be superior, stated John Truhan, executive director of the W. Gordon Allen radio interests. "We have just one direction in which we do not transmit while other new radio stations now granted by the FCC have four or five directions in which they cannot transmit because of required protection of other stations," he said. "KGAL's main protection is in the direction of KXLY in Spokane."

Truhan also announced that station KGAL has applied to the federal communications commission for an increase of power from 1000 to 5000 watts. He is associated with Allen in the ownership of the Salem station.

Milk Price Increase Suspended by Board

Portland (AP)—The State Board of Agriculture has complied with a request by Gov. Paul Patterson to suspend an order which would have increased the price of milk in the Portland area.

The decision was announced Saturday night after chairman Fred H. Cockell polled other members of the board by telephone.

Patterson asked suspension of the order—which would have increased the price of milk on to 23 cents a quart—because it had been approved at a closed, unannounced meeting.

Cockell said the proposed increase would be reviewed at a public meeting Dec. 15, when "everyone would get a chance to talk."

Two Portland women, Mrs. Frank Taylor, state chairman of the Affiliated Milk Committee, and State Rep. Maurine Neuberger, have announced they will protest the increase.

William S. Weidel, milk marketing administrator, released a statement Saturday in which he said the increase was "necessary to carry out the provisions of the Oregon Milk Marketing Act."

He said there had been "numerous public hearings and extensive investigations" preceding the announcement of the price increase.

Weidel added that a 1-cent increase would have applied only in Multnomah, Clackamas, Washington and Columbia counties. There would have been a half-cent increase in Marion, Yamhill and Polk counties, where milk now sells at 22 1/2 cents a quart and no increase in Wasco and Hood River counties where milk now is selling at 23 cents—the minimum price provided in the nine-county order.

Xmas Party for Mt. Angel Legion

Mt. Angel—The Mount Angel post, American Legion, met Tuesday evening at the Legion Memorial hall, and outlined plans for their annual Christmas party, which is scheduled for Dec. 12. Commander Gene Hoffer named Leo Traeger and Joseph Faulhaber as a committee of two to make arrangements and work with the auxiliary committee.

Commander Hoffer urged every Legionnaire of the local post to be at the St. Mary's school auditorium sometime between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 8, to give a pint of blood when the Red Cross bloodmobile visits this area.

Peter Gores, blood bank chairman, reported that the need of blood was urgent and that the shortage of quotas in other areas made it all the more important that Mount Angel turn out 100 per cent in support of the program.

Comrades C. Becker, Jim Drysdale, and Jake Eberle were reported in the hospital and 86 members were reported signed up thus far in the membership drive.

Members voted to purchase rehabilitation stamps.
