

Star Chapter's Election

Mrs. E. T. Armstrong and Thomas Kelley were named worthy matron and worthy patron of the Chadwick chapter, Order of Eastern Star, during the meeting at the Masonic temple Tuesday night.

Others elected were Mrs. William E. Knower, associate matron; Ernest Peterson, associate patron; Mrs. Gordon Barker, secretary; Mrs. E. P. Phillips, treasurer; Mrs. M. Theodore Williams, conductress.

Installation of officers will take place at the Scottish Rite temple, December 19.

A social hour was conducted on the fifth floor of the temple following the business meeting. Co-chairmen for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Paxson. They were assisted by Mrs. W. W. McKinney, Mrs. Emery Wood, Mrs. L. M. Case, Mrs. Chester Mulkey, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Crabtree, Mrs. Lucy McDowell, Mrs. M. Theodore Madsen, Mrs. Mary Jane Watkins.

HOSTESS to her bridge club this afternoon was Mrs. Willard Marshall, the group meeting for luncheon and cards. Mrs. Ullin S. Page and Mrs. Vern W. Miller were additional guests.

A CLUB hostess of Thursday evening will be Mrs. Robert DeArmond, entertaining the group for an evening of cards with a late supper.

AMONG club hostesses of the week is Mrs. William H. Hammond, who is to entertain her group for luncheon and cards, Thursday.

RETURNING the first of the week from a trip to Port Townsend, Wash., where Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer H. Page and family who spent the Thanksgiving holiday and week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony DeLeo at Port Townsend.

Some Notations . . .

A sparkly affair, literally and figuratively, was the monthly style show at the Marion hotel, Tuesday noon, when Johnson's store presented their holiday time suggestions and styles under the theme "Holiday Gems."

es, and the new appliances out since the war . . . Also, there are pointers on setting the table and planning parties. . . The bright red, white and blue checked cover is an eye-catcher.

As usual, practically every seat was taken. . . Smart attire for Christmas shopping time; dressy tea frocks for holiday entertaining; glamorous formal; pretty orlon, jersey and flannel in the pastel blues, pinks and whites that come out at mid-winter time; and the prettiest prints imaginable in tissue taffetas, winter cottons, etc., all featured the style parade. . . But there was more this time. . . A clever act was put on by two of the models, Mrs. Harold Schick, Jr. and Mrs. Willis Ross who came out "wrapped up" in huge holiday gift boxes—and pinned over the box covers were many "little items" for gift suggestions—handkerchiefs, belts, dainty undies, jeweled collars, detachable cuffs, and many other items. Also featuring the parade was a display of "out of this world" lingerie—filmy nighties and robes in nylon in gorgeous colors and gay silps and can come petticoats. . . At the climax, during the parade of holiday time formal, Mrs. Thomas Joseph, wearing one of the formal, sang "White Christmas." . . Glitters of every description highlighted the fashions, keeping in tune with Christmas glamor. . . Mrs. W. C. Dyer, Jr. was commentator. . .

From Salem's postmaster, Albert C. Gragg, comes the following statement, reminding Salem folk of the Christmas mail and tips to help all in this great rush period of the year. . .

"No one is as busy these days as the average postal employe, unless it's the average housewife. I doubt if either will have time to think twice about anything before Christmas rolls around. . . It's true, Mrs. Homemaker. So true that it will pay you many times over to follow the Postmaster's advice on how to mail your Christmas cards and gifts correctly—the first time. . . For example, the Post Office has little interest in how pretty your gift packages are wrapped. But it is definitely concerned about how well each parcel is wrapped. . . The Christmas mail will be heavier than ever this year. If your gifts are fragile, mark them "Handle With Care." We'll do our best to protect them. . . Select a mailing carton of corrugated fiberboard. Use a heavy wrapping paper and strong cord tied over and under several times. Christmas seals and "Do Not Open Until Christmas" stickers should be placed on back of the parcel, so the address remains easy to read. . . The package itself may not be sealed, unless the return address and this inscription appear: (Contents, Merchandise—May be opened for postal inspection.) . . Both the sender's address and that of the recipient should be written inside of the mailing carton, for emergency use. Limit on size and weight this year vary according to destination. Ask about them when you visit the Post Office to buy stamps. . . "Right now is the best time to buy your stamps. The crowds are small, especially before 10:00 a.m. or between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. . . As for Christmas cards, the Postmaster strongly recommends that everyone forget the two and use the three. With a three-cent stamp Christmas cards are sorted and delivered first, and they will be forwarded or returned if necessary. . . That eliminates any worry about whether your Christmas cards went astray, provided they did carry a return address. Also you can write a personal message on them, when only a signature is authorized at the third-class rate. . . Delivery of your Christmas cards can be speeded up too. Just tie them in two separate bundles, and attach the special labels marked "ALL FOR LOCAL DELIVERY" and "ALL FOR OUT-OF-TOWN DELIVERY." These tags can be picked up at the Post Office, and you'll find other helpful mailing instructions printed on back. . . If you begin now, there's plenty of time for delivery by Christmas Eve. Christmas cards going to other states should be posted before December 15, those with local addresses at least a week before Christmas. . . Parcel post requires more time. So mail your out-of-state gifts by December 5, and the local ones by December 10. After these dates are past, better use air mail service for both gift packages and Christmas cards."

Among the guests glimpsed, Mrs. Thomas E. Rilea from Clackamas and Mrs. Rufus Holman from Portland; with Mrs. Judson Webster, Mrs. William Messel of Portland and Mrs. Ernest Lundeen; Mrs. William H. E. Batterman, Mrs. Lawrence N. Brown, Mrs. Vance Morrison, Mrs. Claude H. Post. . .

Brightening the array of "culinary department" gifts is the new Better Homes and Gardens cook book. . . The volume is the largest yet for this cook book, more recipes being included, many beautiful pictures and a lot of "latest information" tips on food and kitchen equipment. . . This cookbook has now sold more than 4,800,000 copies since it first was published in 1931. . . Included in information section are suggestions on frozen foods, package mixtures, and the new appliances out since the war . . . Also, there are pointers on setting the table and planning parties. . . The bright red, white and blue checked cover is an eye-catcher. . . From Salem's postmaster, Albert C. Gragg, comes the following statement, reminding Salem folk of the Christmas mail and tips to help all in this great rush period of the year. . .

Miss Vance Is Wed At Albany

Albany—A bride of the late fall was Miss Kathryn Marie Vance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wesley Vance, Albany, who exchanged her nuptial vows with L. Guy Lewelling, Albany, son of Mrs. L. G. Lewelling, Albany, and the late Judge Lewelling, on Wednesday, November 25, at an 8 o'clock candlelight service at the First Methodist church. The Rev. George H. Huber read the double ring service.

The bridal party stood before the chancel rail that was decorated with white chrysanthemums arranged in baskets, ferns and many lighted white candles.

Mrs. Glenn Taylor was the organist and Marvin Mariz sang.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, James R. Vance. She wore a white velvet wedding dress styled low waisted with a stand-up collar, long sleeves pointed at the wrists and the bodice buttoned down the back with small velvet buttons. The skirt fell in a full court train. The floor length veil of net was held in place with a band of white velvet. The bride carried an arm bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. George Chambers was her matron of honor. She was attired in a brown velvet dress.

Miss Marjorie Kay Vance, niece of the bride, and Miss Charlene Salmon were the junior bridesmaids. Miss Vance wore a frock of champagne shaded velvet, made with Peter Pan collar. Miss Salmon's champagne shaded velvet dress was made identically to that of Miss Vance's.

Master Mark Chambers was the ring bearer.

James Lewelling, Salem, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and those who ushered were Asa Lewelling, Salem, also a brother of the bridegroom; Donald Stryker, Albany, and Donald Vance, Portland, brother of the bride.

Lighting the candles before the ceremony were Donald Vance and Donald Stryker.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Vance chose a blue tissue tulle dress, lace trimmed, her hat being a coronet of tulle with feather trimming. Completing her costume was an orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a dusty rose dress of chiffon, made floor length and she also wore an orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding reception was in the church social hall.

The bride's table was decorated with a large, three-tiered wedding cake encircled with chrysanthemums and lighted candles in candelabras. Those who poured were Mrs. Fred McHenry, Corvallis, Mrs. B. R. Wallace, Mrs. Leon F. Bassett, Albany, Mrs. A. L. Lewelling, Salem, and Mrs. C. G. Vance, Pocatello, Idaho. At the punch bowl were Mrs. William Daugherty, Bend, Miss Melba Aylward, Albany, Mrs. T. A. Burton, Salt Lake City, Utah, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. S. A. Daugherty, Boise, Idaho, aunt of the bride, cut the wedding cake. Those who served were Miss Alice Merrill, Mrs. Rex McReynolds, Mrs. Peter Henshaw, all of Albany; Mrs. Berne Tiland, Portland and Mrs. Bruce Lyday, Kings Valley. Music during the reception was furnished by Mrs. Glenn Taylor, pianist and Glenn Taylor, violinist.

After the ceremony the bridal pair left on a wedding trip to San Jose, Calif., where they are now at home after December 2 at 64 N. 24th Ave. For her traveling costume the bride wore a tan suit and cape with green and white accessories and a corsage of green and white orchids. Both the bride and bridegroom were graduated from Albany high school and the bride attended Oregon State college. The bridegroom is attending San Jose State college where he is studying law.

Couple Plan Home in Salem

At a 12 o'clock noon ceremony, November 28, the marriage of Miss Eileen Mary Berger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Berger of Cornelius, to Robert Yeager, son of Mr. Glen Yeager of Salem, was solemnized in the Emanuel Lutheran church in Cornelius, with the Rev. Mr. Jahr officiating.

The couple was attended by Miss Fran Berger, cousin of the bride, of Lebanon, and Donald Berger, brother of the bride, Cornelius.

Music for the wedding was provided by Mrs. Iversen on the organ and Stan Halsman, who sang. Bouquets of white chrysanthemums on the altar formed the decorations for the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a rose wool street-length dress with matching accessories and a deep orchid corsage. The maid of honor wore a gray and rose wool dress with matching accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party and the immediate families were served a dinner at the home of the bride's parents.

After a honeymoon at the coast, the couple will make their home in Salem, where the bridegroom is employed in the office of the Oregon state highway department. Before her marriage the bride was a staff nurse at the U. S. Veterans' hospital in Portland.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Glen Yeager, Miss Esther Berger, and Mrs. Elizabeth Bagley, all of Salem.

Party to Honor Mrs. W. J. Cook

Honoring Mrs. William J. Cook, who will be leaving soon to join Lt. Cook to go to Washington, D. C., Mrs. Gordon Krueger and Miss Ruth Skinner are to entertain on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Krueger at a farewell party.

Lt. Cook will arrive in the states December 15 from overseas duty and will then be assigned to Washington, D. C.

Feting Mrs. Cook at the Thursday party will be Mrs. James White, Mrs. Vern Gleaves, Mrs. J. P. Schimberg, Mrs. D. V. Gemmill, Mrs. Warren Ling, Mrs. Hillary Steel, Mrs. P. Dixon VanAusdell, Jr., Mrs. Don McNeill, Mrs. W. E. Ritcher, Mrs. Clarence Gilmer, Miss Janet Kirk, Mrs. Ray Stommel, and from out-of-town, Mrs. Joe McHenry of Corvallis, Mrs. Walter Baughman of Corvallis, cousin of Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Eugene Thomas of New York City, sister-in-law of the honoree, and the hostesses.

COSMIS club's guests at the November dance on Saturday evening included Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Welch, Mr. and Mrs. George Madison, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Webster, Mr. and Mrs. William E. McMillan. The hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rhodes. The Christmas time dance of the club is planned for December 26 at Mayflower hall.

HOSTESS to her bride club for luncheon and afternoon of cards today was Mrs. Henry A. Simmons.
