5 Boys Locked In Refrigerator

Stockton, Calif. (AP)—Five Stockton high school boys who had gone into a big "walk in" refrigerator to smoke almost lost their lives Friday when older boys slammed the door on them and locked them in. Only quick police action on an anonymous tip from a woman who phoned that "some boys are locked in an ice box" saved them from certain asphyxiation.

"They would have been gone if their rescue had not been so prompt," reported George Woehrlie, juvenile officer investigating the case. "Oxygen in the refrigerator was exhausted and they were suffering from lack of air. The tiny hole they had managed to bore in the wall of the box was not sufficient to provide them with oxygen."

Woehrlie said he expected the "older boys" who pulled this dangerous stunt would be arrested.

RECORD WHALE CATCH

Tokyo (AP)—A Japanese whaling fleet in the Antarctic Saturday claimed a world record sperm whale catch. Kyodo News Service said the fleet caught 67 whales Thursday, more sperm whales than ever caught before on a single day.

Coughlin Back In Limelight

Detroit (AP)—The Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin is back in the headline limelight for the first time since 1939. And with a plea for a guaranteed annual wage for production-line workers.

In the 1930's Father Coughlin, known as the "Royal Oak radio priest," was one of the nation's most controversial public characters.

But Catholic superiors silenced him as a public speaker that year after he declared in a radio network speech that membership in the then young CIO United Automobile Workers was inimicable to membership in the church.

And oddly in his first public speech since, Father Coughlin paralleled one of the UAW's major goals in recommending a guaranteed annual wage for hourly-rated workers.

He spoke to Detroit's First Friday Club Friday night and drew an audience of 1,100, second largest in its 13-year history.

Santa Drives Reindeer Through Salem Streets

By MARGARET MAGEE

Santa Claus, that jolly fellow who loads his sleigh with gifts for children at Christmas time, took time out from his busy pre-Christmas schedule to visit Salem Saturday.

With Santa on his visit to Salem were four of his reindeer, Dasher, Dancer, Donner and Blitzen, who were pulling his red sleigh.

Also along with the reindeer was Rudolph, who joined Santa's group a few years ago. Each of the reindeer had his name tag on his harness so that the children could know them as individuals.

As his sleigh moved through the streets of Salem the gentleman whose home and workshops are at the North Pole, collected quite a following of youngsters, many of whom were accompanied by their parents or other grown-ups.

Final destination of Santa in Salem was a spot in front of Courthouse Square, where he distributed candy to the youngsters. The candy was the gift of members of the Downtown Merchants' Association, who were responsible for bringing Santa and his reindeer to Salem.

Oregon's capital city, instead of giving Santa and the reindeer the snow they have at their home, gave him a cold wind and rain.

However, that did not stop his youthful admirers from coming down to meet him. They arrived all during the morning and many stood for a long time, awaiting their chance to meet "Jolly Old Saint Nick" and get a close look at Dancer, Dasher, Donner, Blitzen and Rudolph.

Santa's arrival was not the only pre-Christmas event scheduled in Salem for the children Saturday. Downtown Merchants Association, Saturday still another touch of Christmas was added when they began playing Christmas carols from the top of the Livesley building.

Some Points in

James Hagerly, presidential press secretary, who was talking Saturday for the spokesmen of the three delegations, declined to answer any question about the points either agreed or still to be discussed. He said he doubted the note will be finished Saturday.

Question of Emphasis

Outlining positions taken by the Western Big Three at their initial Bermuda session last night, informed diplomats said differences expressed principally involved questions of emphasis.

Churchill reportedly told his colleagues the West should seek every opportunity to open up more contacts with the new rulers of Russia at every level.

Eisenhower was understood to have described the basic American view as: While tactics of the Kremlin have changed since Stalin's death, Russia's major aims of Communist world conquest remain unchanged under Premier Georgi Malenkov.

In the spirit of basic agreement that the interests of world peace demand willingness to talk over important questions with the Russians the Big Three approached consideration of a reply to Moscow on its acceptance of a Big Four foreign ministers' meeting in Berlin.

Notre Dame Wins From SMU 40-14

South Bend, Ind. (AP)—Fullback Neil Worden scored three touchdowns and All-America halfback Johnny Lattner two as Notre Dame applied pressure all the way for a 40-14 crushing of Southern Methodist Saturday. It gave the Irish an unbeaten but once-tied record.

The ninth victory of Notre Dame's 10-game season came with ease as the Irish scored once in the first quarter, twice in the second quarter and three times in the third quarter.

SMU's first touchdown did not come until the third period of the nationally televised game watched in person by 55,522. Both Mustang touchdowns came on passes.

Rosebraugh May Retire January 1

W. W. Rosebraugh, chairman of the Salem planning and zoning commission, who has served the city as alderman and commission member for 33 years, says he probably will retire from public official service at the end of this year.

Rosebraugh was a member of the city council when the commission was created in 1925 and was appointed by Mayor John B. Giesy as the council member of the commission. He continued on the commission by successive re-appointments after retiring from the council, and had a part in forming the first zoning code and the new one that recently has supplanted it.

Rosebraugh said he probably would ask Mayor Al Loucks not to consider him for re-appointment.

Holstein Men Elect Grimes

Members of the Oregon State Holstein Association, who this week held their annual meeting at the Marion Hotel, elected Edgar Grimes, Harrisburg, as the president.

Grimes, who has served as the president of the group previously and also was head of the dairy section of the Oregon Farm Bureau federation the past year, succeeds Hugh Barber of Nehalem.

Other officers elected were vice president, Joe Rogers, Independence; secretary-treasurer, Ed Day, Newberg; directors, Al Lindow of Hillsboro, Otto Schild of Tillamook, James Frakes of Bend, Louis Weststein of Ontario, Elmer Bernards of Carlton and George Hermens of Forest Grove.

During the meeting the association passed a resolution favoring the stand taken by the state milk marketing administration and endorsing a surplus program. This is a stand that low-butterfat testing breed associations take in opposition to high butterfat producers who advocate more cream in the bottle, which would do away with surplus.

McCarthy Says Two Hospitals

McCarthy said that at the time of the White House announcement, his own sources informed him that 8,427 telegrams had been delivered and that Western Union had another 4,000 to 6,000 still to be delivered. He did not say from what sources his information came, but contended he could check the figures several ways.

The senator added: "I don't think there is an intentional mistake. I can't understand why the figures don't jibe." Snyder declined to comment; so did Western Union officials; Many Letters Received.

McCarthy said he plans to take up the difference in figures on Monday with Maj. Gen. Wilton B. Persons, of the White House legislative liaison staff.

"I want to know why there is this huge discrepancy," he said, adding that he may ask the White House to have Western Union itself give out the totals.

Snyder said the White House has received 1,500 letters on the subject, but these had not been broken down as to position.

Salem Man

pital. Mrs. Huntley suffered lacerations of the leg and abrasions. She was also reported in good condition Saturday.

Police said the car was driven by James F. McManaman, 4090 Beck avenue, who told officers he was driving east on State street at about 15 to 20 miles an hour when suddenly Mrs. Huntley appeared in front of him. He did not see the boy at all, he said, until he got out of the car to go to Mrs. Huntley's aid. Witnesses told police that McManaman's car was traveling slowly but that it was difficult to see the two in the rain and darkness.

In the two-car crash Mull, superintendent at the state penitentiary, suffered lacerations and a possible fractured collar bone. LaFave suffered head lacerations. X-rays were scheduled for them Saturday.

LaFave is deaf as was the dead man, police reported.

Mull told investigating officers he was headed west on Columbia Street. He stopped at the stop sign, he said, and didn't see a car coming so he pulled out onto Liberty. LaFave was going north on Liberty. He told police that Mull did not stop.

Both cars suffered considerable front end damage in the crash and in addition Mull's car was badly damaged along the left side. LaFave's car also suffered two smashed fenders on the right side. Mull's car crashed into a telephone pole on the corner following the initial collision. Both cars had to be towed away.

Miller Recommends New All-Jersey Milk Plan

By CLAUDE STEUSLOFF

A separate "all-Jersey milk" organization divorced from the Oregon Jersey Cattle Club was recommended by President Neal Miller of Woodburn at the 41st annual meeting of the club being held today at the Senator Hotel.

The suggestion is to be given consideration by the organization during the next few weeks.

Miller has been doing field work this year for the club in the absence of a regular fieldman. He said finances would permit employment of a new representative in the near future.

RAHN AND SUCCESSOR

Arthur J. Rahn, left, who is retiring as manager of the Salem branch of Zellerbach Paper Company and nearly 50 years in the wholesale paper trade; and John F. (Jack) Wise who comes from Portland to succeed him.

Arthur Rahn to Retire Succeeded By Jack Wise

John F. (Jack) Wise will assume the duties of manager of the Salem branch of Zellerbach Paper Company Monday, replacing Arthur J. Rahn who is retiring after nearly 50 years supply business, the company announced this week.

Wise, who has been operating supervisor of the Portland plant and its five branches in the Zellerbach chain, is a graduate of Tri-State College of Engineering in Indiana. His career has been mostly in the distributing field, including 10 years as a branch manager of Curtis Publishing company and several years with the Zellerbach organization.

Rahn started his paper career in Portland nearly 50 years ago, coming to Salem 12 years later to work for the now defunct Rogers Paper company. Later he combined talents and assets with Harry McWhorter to start the Rahn-McWhorter Paper company, selling out six years ago to Zellerbach. At that time McWhorter retired and Rahn became manager of the Zellerbach plant.

Rahn will remain with the company in an advisory capacity.

Rahn says he has no plans for his retirement except to spend more time on his hobbies, including fishing, and the advisory job at the plant.

This survey will be the first ever conducted by an outside in the paper manufacturing and board of psychiatrists, Dr. Charles Bates, superintendent, said.

"I feel certain that the work the board will do will not only be helpful to the board of control but also to the hospital staffs," Dr. Bates said.

"The board may make some recommendations that we will not be able to put in effect, but on the other hand, there will, I am certain, be suggestions that will tend to improve the operation of Oregon's two mental hospitals."

JAPAN TO IMPORT RICE

Tokyo (AP)—Japan plans to import 300,000 tons of rice from the United States during 1954, the agriculture-forestry ministry said Saturday.

Kyodo News Service said the ministry intends to also import 500,000 tons of rice from Thailand, 300,000 tons from Burma, and a total of 500,000 tons from Indochina, Pakistan and Formosa — for an overall import total of 1,600,000 tons.

Give your family a lifetime of musical pleasure

This Christmas, that wonderful family of yours deserves the very best you can give them. Make this the most memorable of all Christmases with the gift of a Spinet Model Hammond Organ... and a lifetime of glorious music!

Priced well within the budget of anyone who loves good music, the Spinet Model Hammond Organ is a complete two-manual-and-pedal organ. It has the famous Hammond tonal system to give you beautiful big-organ music. And since it's smaller than most spinet pianos, with the tone equipment right inside, it will fit into the small house or apartment.

The Spinet Model Hammond Organ is easiest of all organs to learn to play. Its convenient pedal keyboard, for example, incorporates the wonderful "automatic legato" control. Even the beginner will quickly be playing music he loves.

Come in and hear the Spinet Model $1320.00 Hammond Organ at our showrooms soon. Convenient terms available. Delivered
