

Gonzaga Fights Off Willamette Rally to Post 81-73 Win

'Cats Close 14-Point Gap, Falter at Finish

By DAVE BARROWS
A highly-touted Gonzaga quintet, which wasn't supposed to have much trouble in downing the Willamette university cagers, found more to handle than expected here last night in winning 81-73.

Willamette, playing by far its best game of the season, threw a scare in the Bulldogs when it bounced in the second quarter to make the score 35-39 at the half, in favor of the Bulldogs, after being down 9-23 at the end of the first period.

Tied in 3rd Quarter
The third period was a closely waged affair with Willamette almost being able to take the lead, but not quite. The closest it did come was midway in the period when Pete Reed tied it up at 43-43 with a free-throw. However, Gonzaga came right back with a free-shot of its own and held the lead until the end of the quarter. The score at this point was 54-55, Gonzaga's favor.

As the final period opened, neither team was able to score until, with a minute and 55 seconds gone, Dick Hoy pushed one through for the Bearcats. This was the first time that Willamette had owned the lead. They were able to hold the lead for only about 2 minutes as Bob Richardson, Gonzaga forward, put the Bulldogs out in front and although the Bearcats were able to tie the score on several occasions, they were never able to regain that lead.

Gap Closed in 2nd Quarter
In a hard-fought, exciting first half, Willamette was almost able to overtake Gonzaga on a number of occasions, but every time the Bearcats were able to come within two points of knotting it up, the Bulldogs would sink a shot and so it went.

Willamette, although most of the team possessing the smaller team on the floor, had more fight and hustle. This was particularly true in the second half. The Bearcat passing, while improved, was still not up to Coach Lewis' standards. The losers were paced by Guard Jerry McCallister, who tanked 15 points from his guard position. Dick Hoy and Tom Gooding scored 11 and 10 respectively.

Scoring honors went to Guard Tom Mulcahy, who dropped 15 points through for the winning cause. Gonzaga played without the services of their All-American candidate, Jerry Vermillion; and for part of the game without their first-string center, Jerry Wells, who was injured at the beginning of the second half.

This week-end, the Bearcats will travel to Tacoma, Wash., to meet the College of Puget Sound. Next Wednesday and Thursday they will return to their home floor for two contests with the Chico State crew from California.

SOCE to Play Weekend Series on OCE Floor
Oregon College, Monmouth and spirited collegiate rivals in the state will be renewed this week-end when Southern Oregon College travels to Monmouth to engage the Oregon College Wolves in a two-game series on Friday and Saturday nights.

SOCE to Play Weekend Series on OCE Floor

Bob Livingstone felt that Linfield was more outscrambled than out-finished. Livingstone felt that the running of offensive patterns and particularly timing left much to be desired.

Coming in for particular praise on their playing in the Linfield game were Frank Grove, for his tremendous rebounding and 14 points received; Bob Frantz, for an outstanding defensive job on ace Carol Cable as well as the 21 points racked up from his post position.

Some credit for the evening goes to guards Charlie Pinon and Larry Chamberlain for their ball hawking which several times gained possession for OCE before Linfield took a shot. The Wolves hit 36 per cent of their shots from the floor.

By DON WICHMAN
Woodburn — The Sacred Heart academy Cardinals of Salem edged the Woodburn Bulldogs 34 to 26 here last night in a non-league go.

The Salem boys opened up with a lead of 9-3 at the end of one period as the Woodburn squad had trouble pushing the ball through the hoop. The second quarter didn't see much action, but the Cards' offense was led by Vince Matt who sank 7 points.

Early in the third period, Higgins of the Bulldogs marked up three personal fouls, which added to two previous ones sent him to an early shower. But this was only the start of trouble for the Dog's coach, Mush Barbour.

A few seconds later there was a mad scramble on the Cards' end of the floor; a Woodburn guard, Norris, came out of it with the ball, only to lay it up at SHA's end but managing to miss. Then Card captain Vince Matt tossed in six points, leaving the Woodburn quint eating the Redbird's dust. On top of all this, there was another free-for-all and a forward named Haymes pulled the same booboo as Norris did before, once
