

Lattner Says Football Not Everything in Life

By BOB HOOBING
New York (AP)—John J. Lattner, a pretty fair halfback for Notre Dame, has done football a service not only with his playing ability but with a simple statement that the sport "isn't the most important thing in life."

The two-time All America demonstrated again that a football player can also be an intelligent citizen as he accepted the Heisman trophy as the outstanding player of the year in New York.

Sure, the good-looking, 21-year-old Chicagoan likes to run, block and tackle. But he doesn't think football is all life has to offer. And he is sincere in attributing his success in the game to his coaches and to his teammates.

"Without a GOOD TEAM behind him there is no such thing as a so-called star," Lattner said in accepting the award at the annual banquet at the Downtown Athletic Club. "It's not false modesty but common sense. I wouldn't have been able to do what I did this year without those teammates and the coaches who made it possible." Lattner, who never knew anything but two-way play even in the days of two platoons, paid special tribute to the inspirational guidance of his mother as praise was heaped upon him as the best performer in the year that football returned to limited substitutions.

The impressive affair was a testing one for the 190-pounder who had sparked his team when it most needed him during the season. But in appearance and in speaking it was the same durable John Lattner whom Coach Frank Leahy had called his "bread and butter" ball carrier.

Plans to Be CPA
The kid who came from Chicago's Fenwick High School to South Bend amid offers from many colleges thinks his immediate future will be with Uncle Sam, probably in the Air Force. He hopes to try pro football but he's majoring in accounting and intends to become a CPA in a few years.

Leahy, who couldn't attend the ceremonies because of ill health, said in a telegram: "He's more of an All American off the field than on."

Midgets Draw House Full of Wrestling Fans

Little Beaver, dressed to fit the role, combined his proved mat prowess with that of Tito Infante to defeat another midget wrestling combine, Tom Thumb and Fuzzy Smith, at the Salem Armory last night before a large crowd.

Beaver, who can throw dropkicks and use flying mares and body slams like the big boys do, pinned Tom Thumb with a flying body scissors.

Jack O'Reilly took Don Kindred, the head-butler, in two straight falls, using a steppover toe hold in the second fall after Referee Frank Fagetty disqualified Kindred in the first fall for using rough stuff on the official.

Danno McDonald and Golden Boy Lenz, a muscle man, fought to a draw and Danny O'Rourke and Al Warsawski grappled to win for O'Rourke in the opener.

Vancouver Signs 7 New Players For 1954 Team

Vancouver, B. C. (AP)—Bill Brenner, manager of the Vancouver Capilano in the Western International Baseball League, Tuesday announced the signing of seven new players for the 1954 season.

Leading the array of newcomers are two Negro players, second baseman Marvin Williams and left-hander Raul Galata. Williams hit 46 homers for Chihuahua of the Arizona-Texas League last year. Galata is playing winter baseball in Mexico and formerly played in Venezuela and Mexico.

Another purchase was right-hander Bill Frank from last season's Spokane Indians, where he won 14 and lost 13.

Brenner said he had also acquired a new catcher, another infielder and two more moundsmen, but said he was not in a position to release their names because some "paper work" still remained in connection with them.

Stanford Leads US Team Passing

New York (AP)—Stanford, which narrowly missed getting into the Rose Bowl, got some measure of consolation by finishing the 1955 football season as the nation's passing leader among major colleges.

The west coast school, which won six games, tied one and lost three, gained 179.5 yards per game through the air, final NCAA statistics showed Wednesday.

The Indians, thanks mainly to Bob Garrett, the nation's individual pace-setter, completed 130 passes for 19 touchdowns, for a 56.5 average. Only Utah with 57.8 per cent, Mississippi State 57.1 and Cincinnati's 57.0 finished with a higher percentage.

College of Pacific was runner-up to Stanford on passing offense with 171.6 yards per game. Dartmouth was third with 165.9 followed by California 161.2 and Columbia 151.9. Washington was 10th, 136.9.

Terps' Faloney Doubtful Player

College Park, Md. (AP)—Bernie Faloney's knee is responding to treatment but doctors say they won't know for another week or 10 days whether the star Maryland quarterback will play in the Orange Bowl, Faloney, injured Nov. 21 in Maryland's victory over Alabama as the Terrapins were completing their undefeated season, will begin exercises to strengthen the injured knee and will continue heat treatments.

SEATTLE TOPS LUTHERANS

Tacoma (AP)—The Seattle University Chiefs won their second game in three starts Tuesday night as they clearly outclassed the Pacific Lutheran College Gladiators, 75-54, in a basketball game here. Joe Pehanick led the scoring with 26 points.

Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators has batted over 300 in the major leagues only twice. Both times however, he won the American league batting title. In 1946 he hit .353 and in 1953 he batted .337.

FIFTH WHEEL?

Mrs. Richard Wakeman of Union Mills, Ind., smiles as she hangs onto her new automobile after a harrowing experience which resulted in a freak balancing act. She told state police she was traveling about 50 miles an hour when her front wheel came off. The car went off the road and veered back in the path of the rolling wheel. The car tipped up and came down on the wheel. Mrs. Wakeman is holding the car in balance as strong gusts of wind rock it. (AP Wirephoto)

Newbry Puts Blame for Delay in Blue Book on Rep. Sweetland

Oregon Secretary of State Earl T. Newbry today took a dig at State Rep. Monroe Sweetland at the same time he announced the 1953-54 Oregon Blue Book will be out about January 15—two months late.

Sweetland, in a recent letter to Newbry, said that he and David Baum, La Grande, introduced a bill at the 1953 legislature intended to bring about faster publication of the Blue Book. Sweetland said his bill died in the Senate because of assurances that Newbry would handle the matter without legislative prompting.

Newbry said today in a letter to Sweetland that the bill did not die in the Senate and is to be found in the 1953 session laws as chapter 586.

One reason for the slow appearance of the book is a new format, Newbry said. The book is being printed outside the state printing plant for the first time, but Newbry did not blame the delay on the Portland printing firm that holds the contract.

Sweetland immediately labeled Newbry's reply as an "alibi" and as "pure bunk." He charged the delay was a "great waste of state funds, and a great inconvenience to the people of Oregon who use the Blue Book."

"There were two Blue Book bills at the last session," Sweetland said. "The legislation which Rep. Baum and I sponsored (HB-704) was only intended to be effective for the next Blue Book—1955-56 and following.

"The other measure, House Joint Resolution 17, related to the current Blue Book. It was this resolution which was

7 Interviewed For NAV-CAD

Seven young men were interviewed for the navy's NAV-CAD program Monday and Tuesday by an interviewing team, coming here from Seattle.

The team was at the Salem Naval Air Facility both days giving both the mental tests and a screening examination to determine the physical eligibility of candidates. Final physical examinations are given the applicants at the Sand Point Naval Air Station, Seattle, at a later date.

Quota this year of Naval Aviation Cadets from the area from the Candian border to the California border and east to the Cascades is 60 men and there are still some openings.

Oregon usually furnishes about half of the men entering the NAV-CAD program from this area.

Senator Sees Deficit Danger

Oregon is operating in the black so far in the present fiscal biennium, but the slim margin of safety between receipts and disbursements is narrowing, Senator John Merrifield, Portland, told the Presbyterian Men's club at a dinner meeting Monday night.

Merrifield said that out of $193,324,262 of general fund appropriations, the major part comes under two headings: $87,061,618 for education and $50,792,017 for welfare. Law enforcement, the next largest item, costs $14,249,000. Estimated receipts are $198,131,363, but there is no certainty they will reach this figure, the speaker said.

Merrifield attributed the stringency of the tax situation mainly to the fact that the federal government is taking 77 cents of each tax dollar the Oregon taxpayer pays. This is too big a slice for health, he warned. Oregon people pay too much in ratio to what they get back when they let "Uncle" do jobs they could better do themselves.

Dr. Leon Barrick showed color films he and Mrs. Barrick took on a tour of the Holy Land, showing many of the famous places of the Bible as they look today. He described the visit as the pictures were changed on the screen.

Karl Thielan led the singing, the Ralph Dobbs on the piano. The group stood in a tribute to Robert Patton, a member, who had passed away. Sid Boise introduced the speaker.

Revenue Men Coming to Help Farmers on Taxes

Between January 4 and 15 internal revenue agents will visit all communities of the state to assist farmers in preparing income tax estimates or their returns.

The farmers will get assistance in preparing and filing their Forms 1040ES, declaration of estimated tax, which must be filed on or before January 15; or the preparation of their calendar year income tax returns, which must be filed on or before Monday, Feb. 1, if no estimated tax return is filed.

Farmers who file an estimated tax return on Form 1040ES will have until March 15 to file their final income tax returns. Farmers who do not file an estimated tax return on or before January 15 must file a completed income tax return on or before Monday, Feb. 1, to avoid penalties.

This pertains to farmers only. Other taxpayers will be assisted later.

The schedule of agent visitations in mid-Willamette Valley cities includes:

Linn county—Lebanon, City hall, January 8; Scio, Post Office building, January 7; Halsey, Library, January 8; Albany, 231 Post Office building, January 11 to 15 inclusive.

Accused Pair Get Time to See Lawyer

Charged with robbery, Virgil Mulford Barker, Snohomish, Wash., and William Robert Boston, Long Beach, Cal., were given additional time in which to secure counsel when they appeared in Marion county circuit court Tuesday afternoon. They are scheduled to return to court December 14.

Barker and Boston were apprehended by city police early November 27, shortly after the clerk of the Salem hotel, 161 South High street, was robbed of approximately $7. They waived preliminary hearing when they appeared in district court and were held to answer to the grand jury. They are being held in lieu of $3500 bail.
