

SANTA and the FLYING PUP

By LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

Willie climbed in Santa's bed and stretched out.

SYNOPSIS: When Willie the pup and the Dreamlines, Mr. Not Much and Mrs. Very Little, get to Santa Land, they almost get in trouble when Willie bites Patrick Tweedknees by mistake. But Santa forgives them. The Dreamlines tell Santa they need his help to find their queen.

CHAPTER SEVEN

THE REINDER
Mr. Not Much reminded Santa that if the Dreamlines Queen was not rescued the Dreamlines would perish. Who then, he asked, would protect the children of the world from the wicked Dreamlines? "True, true," said Santa. He was very upset. He walked back and forth in front of his fireplace thinking. Willie followed at his heels in Santa Land awhile, said Santa at last. "I will think of something. Give me time."

Patrick Tweedknees exploded. "If that dog stays in Santa Land I am leaving!"
"Willie is a good pup," smiled Santa. "He will be our watch dog."
A watch dog in Santa Land! Willie nearly burst with pride. He licked Santa's fingers. He gladly would have licked Patrick Tweedknees, too, but the dwarf was already stomping out of the house in a rage.
"He will get over it," said Santa. "He always does."
Willie thought, "I will stay here the rest of my life and be Santa's watch dog. But I wish someone would think of eating for I am truly starved!"
He was too polite to say anything about it. "I won't be a bother," he told himself. He crept under Santa's chair and contented himself with chewing a hole out of the bottom.
Mr. Not Much and Mrs. Very Little curled up in any empty ash tray and went to sleep. Santa sat in his chair and tried to think of a way to save the Dreamlines Queen.
By and by, Willie thought, "Perhaps I should look around in the kitchen. After all, I am a watch dog and there may be something in the kitchen that needs watching."
When he got to the kitchen he smelled a lovely smell. He climbed
