Nixon Returns On Global Trip

Washington (AP) — Vice President Nixon returned Monday from a 70-day global goodwill tour, and declared he found "a great well of friendship" in Asia for the American people despite efforts of communists to "build up hatred."

Nixon was greeted at the airport by more than a score of government officials, senators, and foreign diplomats. He said he was feeling "wonderful" after the 42,000-mile trip which took him to 19 countries.

Nixon said he was certain that President Eisenhower's recent United Nations speech, urging international cooperation in developing the atom for peace, "sounded a sympathetic chord in all of the countries we visited."

If communists reject Eisenhower's proposal, Nixon said, the Reds "will lose tremendously among all the peoples of Asia who desperately want peace."

Long Strike

Two other major plane companies announced wage agreements Sunday.

Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in Burbank and Douglas Aircraft company in Santa Monica came to terms with 5,000 workers of the AFL-International Association of Machinists. These workers will get a blanket increase of 8 cents an hour plus a 1-cent cost of living hike.

North American said the strike through Friday had cost the average worker $648.83 in wages. The total loss to workers, the company said, was $15,729,439. A total of 16,288 strikers returned to work before the settlement, the company said.

There was no estimate of the cost of the strike in planes. Production figures are kept secret for security reasons. However, at one time the company said it was turning out one plane a day during the strike. It did not say whether the planes were fighters or smaller types.

Ike Urges Need

"I think it is most easily described or explained," Eisenhower said, "by the simple truth that what would be necessary is the readiness of fire departments, hospital and health departments, police departments, sanitation departments—all must be prepared to handle their jobs."

Necessary as Fire Drills
Americans, the President went on, must overcome their reluctance to prepare for disaster and must regard preparedness as being as necessary as fire drills in a school.

Calling for public understanding of the problem, produced by inspired and unafraid leadership, the President said:

"Now I probably could use no words that would exaggerate my concern that this thing is done, because I believe it is so feasible and possible to do it."

"On the other hand, I would not have you think from any words of mine that I believe we haven't time to do this, that we must move in hysteria and in such tense concern that we forget nothing intelligent done. I don't believe that for an instant."

Court Sees Map of Water Control Area

Following several months of negotiations formation of the Santiam Water Control district appeared near its goal Monday. Attorneys appeared before the county court during the forenoon with a map showing the boundaries of the present set up.

The district as proposed at the outset has been greatly decreased in acreage by the withdrawal of owners who felt they would not be benefited either by drainage or irrigation.

The boundaries will carry a rather complicated description, but the attorneys felt the latter could be prepared during the day.

Deeply devout, a New Testament in her hand, the 43-year-old mother spoke bitterly of Communism—

"I want his whole letter released to the public. I think people should know how vicious a thing Communism is. If it can destroy a home, it can disintegrate a nation."

"I have not given up hope that someday my son will come back to me. I have not given up my faith in God nor Richard. Sooner or later he will see the light."

And, turning to her Bible she read from Proverbs 22-6:

"Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it."

In his letter, the 20-year-old Tennessee, only 17 when he left the United States, jeered at his country and said United States authorities are afraid to let her visit him at Pannunjom.

State Courts

Employees of other firms doing business with Central Storage and Transfer refused to cross the picket line and Central's operations were cut about 95 percent.

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court in striking down the injunction noted that Taft-Hartley bars a union from trying to cause an employer to discriminate against employees because of their union membership or lack of it. It said the Pennsylvania labor relations act under state law picketing to enforce an employe to violate the state labor relations act is illegal. The state court then concluded that the federal act had to be supreme in such an instance of parallel laws.

In other actions before recessing until Jan. 4, the Supreme Court:

Ruled 8-1 that the Taft-Hartley act applies to a California automobile dealer even though he sells only within his own state cars assembled in that state. The dealer contended the NLRB was wrong in bringing unfair labor practices against him but the high court upheld the board action.
