State Highway Officials Meet

their assistants were called into Salem Thursday for an annual conference designed as R. H. Baldock, state highway engin-eer put it "to iron out any pos-sible misunderstandings and bring a bout a continuing smooth-funning rate-wide or-stile misunderstandings and bring a bo ut a continuing smooth-running state-wide organization."

The conference was opened by remarks by Baldock after which panel discussions began to continue through the day. W. C. Williams, W. W. Stiffler and Glenn S. Paxon, all assistant highway engineers together with the heads of all divisions, led the panel discussions.

The district engineers and assistants who were present at the conference included A. G. Skelton, divisionengineer, Portland and his assistant, F. T. Young; J. D. Walker, division engineer Salem and L. H. Warfield, assistant; F. J. Lacey, division office engineer, Salem; Tom Edwards, division engineer, Roseburg and two assistants, F. D. Morgan and L. H. Young; William E. Chandler, division engineer, La Grande and his assistant, E. G. Bickmore.

$25,000 DESSERT

Mrs. Bernard Kanago of Webster, S.D., takes another look at the cake she baked in "bake-off" contest in New York City as she holds the certificate representing the First Grand Prize of $25,000 which she won. The cake, named "My Inspiration," is a white cake with two layers of melted chocolate. The nation-wide contest was sponsored by Pillsbury Mills, with 100 finalists competing in the "bake-off."
