

Foot Survey Started Here

The Oregon State Association of Chiropractors are conducting a foot survey of the school children of Oregon, and Salem is the first city in the state to have the survey.

To date 522 children have been examined, and it is hoped that all children in the grade schools will be. However this will depend on willingness of PTA groups. All surveys are conducted free of any charge by the Oregon State Association of Chiropractors.

Foot surveys were conducted at St. Joseph's parochial school and Oregon School for the Deaf during November. The percentage of foot disorders found in the Salem school children corresponds with findings of a study made by the U.S. Public Health Service, in which it was found that 80 percent of the adult population is suffering, or has suffered from foot ailments.

Authorities agree, it is said, that foot health education has not been given proper emphasis in the nation's schools. As a result both children and parents are poorly informed about matters of foot health and foot care.

A large percentage of foot difficulties seen in children is brought about by an improper knowledge of foot hygiene and care.

The objective of the foot surveys are aimed toward the promotion of foot health education. It is recognized that foot health is known to affect the general health, appearance and the social adjustment of a person throughout his life.

Any PTA group that would want a speaker for their meeting on the care of the feet of children or wish to have their school surveyed may contact any chiropractor in the city.

Washington, (AP)—Secretary of Navy Anderson said Wednesday he personally believes the United States should continue to hold control of Okinawa and Bonin Island, near Japan "indefinitely."

The two island groups were captured from Japan in World War II and are now being used for American air bases.

Anderson said that World War II put control of the western Pacific in the hands of the United States westward to the Asiatic mainland. He added, in a speech at the National Press Club, that he wanted to recall the words of the "late and unlamented Josef Stalin who said that the road to Paris runs through Peking."

Anderson, who has just returned from a three week trip to the Far East, emphasized that these were his personal views. However, if he spoke without the advice of the foreign policy-making State Department, he apparently at least made his comment without the department's objection.

Asks U.S. Keep Island Groups
