Charge Continued — Arraignment in district court on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon was continued Wednesday for a week for Ivan Kvistad, Ft. Lewis, Washington, soldier. Kvistad was arrested by state police Saturday as he hitchhiked from a friend's car he abandoned near Brooks when it ran out of gas. He was carrying a .22 caliber pistol tucked in his waistband, police said.

Driver Charged — George Washington Kelsay, Silverton, was arrested by a city officer Tuesday night after Kelsay backed his car into the patrol car, denting the grill. He was following Kelsay's car when it stopped in the street, the officer reported. Then it backed up, striking the patrol car, which had also stopped. Kelsay was arrested for driving while intoxicated. He was later released on $250 bail.

"The American people have vested in the republican party the responsibility of government. With that responsibility we have a great opportunity to advance the welfare of our country. New let's go to work."

Eisenhower welcomed the GOP leaders and ticked off these points as accomplishments in 1953:

- "Stopped the shooting and casualty list in Korea."
- "Reduced by $13 billion the previous administration's request for new appropriations."
- "Cleared the way for January tax reductions in personal income taxes and excess profits taxes."
- "Stabilized the purchasing power of the citizens' dollar and stopped inflation."
- "Removed stifling controls on our economy."
- "Extended emergency aid to agriculture and assisted those in drought-affected areas."
- "Removed security risks from federal service on the simple premise that those disloyal or unsuitable for federal government cannot work for it."
- "Strengthened our defenses and those of the free world against communist aggression."
- "Enacted emergency legislation permitting additional immigration in urgent situations."

Helicopter

The pilot of the helicopter is a veteran of thousands of hours flown in that type of plane on all continents. He was the second man ever licensed to pilot helicopters.

Also with the plane is A. L. Farnoff, western manager for the Bell Aircraft company. While in Salem they are checking the possibilities for helicopter landing spots in the city center that might be used for regularly scheduled operation.

First known plane seen in Salem was an early Curtis model placed on display in the McMinn hall of the D'Arcy building on Court street during May of 1910. On July 14, of that year Ben Taylor, local machinist, and Dr. H. H. Scovell, a mechano-therapist, hauled their home made bi-plane to Lone Oak track at the fairgrounds and attempted to fly.

Accounts vary. One witness declared that Taylor-Scovell machine got into the air a short distance before it crashed into the track's guard rail. Others did not see it leave the ground.

First successful airplane flight observed in Salem was accomplished by Eugene Ely, "The Bird Man" on June 4, 1911. Ely raced a car and motorcycle around Lone Oak track at a speed above 50 miles an hour and then took off at an elevation of about 400 feet and twice circled the capitol dome.

It is not known that either Wilbur or Milton Wright, whose Kitty Hawk made a first successful airplane flight substantiated in history, ever visited Salem. But their father, who later became a bishop in the United Brethren church, was first principal and teacher at Sublimity college in Marion county. The school opened January 9, 1858. His more distinguished sons were born in the east at a somewhat later date.

Kitty Hawk made its first flight at Kitty Hawk, N.C., December 17, 1903. This 750 pound machine was powered by a 15 horsepower engine and its first flight covered about 120 feet in 12 seconds.

grab power and to liquidate the Soviet worker-peasant regime with a view to restoring capitalism and securing the domination of the bourgeoisie middle class."

Beria, who headed the nation's police activities from 1938 until his arrest, was first deputy prime minister and minister of internal affairs under Malenkov. The internal affairs post controls police, intelligence and related work. The statement said Beria and his associates "admitted their guilt of having committed a number of the most serious state crimes."

It declared that the former police boss had been committed for trial on charges of high treason, organizing an anti-Soviet plot and counterrevolutionary work. Similar charges were listed against the six other defendants:

Employees of Bergs to Form Own Organization

Employees of Berg's two Salem supermarkets have formed their own organization to represent them in negotiations with their employer, Don Davis, president of the newly-formed association, announced Wednesday. The action was precipitated by the current picketing of the stores by two unions, he said.

"The Bergs Employees Association was formed to protect the employees from other unions whose demands do not fit the circumstances and conditions under which Bergs employees work," Davis said. "We have no objection to the other unions. However, we feel we must protect ourselves."

Pickets from the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen and from the Retail Clerks union were placed in front of both Berg's Capitol Shopping center market and Berg's Kelson supermarket Friday morning. Only one of 78 Bergs employees refused to cross the line. He was a bakery worker.

Proprietor Elmer Berg said the pickets were placed by the unions after he refused to hire an additional butcher for each store to work in the evenings. No butchers are needed then because all meat is processed during the day and placed in the self-service meat units, Berg stated.

"Extra employees featherbedded into the working staff are not to the advantage of the other employees working," Davis said. "The employees work on a bonus-sharing plan in the two self-service stores and unneeded employees would only cut the other employees' pay."

The association was formed at a meeting Monday night and a letter was sent to Berg announcing the group's intention to become the employees' agent for collective bargaining for both stores in regards to wages, hours, working conditions, grievances and related problems.

A petition has been sent to the state department of Labor, Division of Labor Elections, for it to investigate the claim of the association of representing a majority of the employees for collective bargaining purposes, Davis said.

Hall Regrets

The 34-year-old Hall has been quoted as saying that he planned to kill Mrs. Heady, 41, next and that he had vowed never to be taken alive. Now Hall says his prolonged spree made him too furry to realize clearly what was happening when arresting officers knocked on his hotel door in St. Louis Oct. 6.

But as death in the gas chamber came closer and closer, neither Hall nor Mrs. Heady had talked about the remaining mystery:
 What happened to the mis-

ing half of the record $600,000 ransom money they collected from Bobby's 71-year-old father after they had already killed and buried the little boy in Mrs. Heady's back yard in St. Joseph.

Wants Allies

Opening a one-day foreign affairs debate in the House of Commons, Churchill threw his full support behind the position taken by U.S. Secretary of State Dulles. Churchill declared:
 "When the safety of France, indeed of Europe, depends upon the policy of the United States, all the possible consequences of abandoning EDC European Defense Community should be placed squarely before the French people."

 Britain is ready, he said, to keep troops on the continent "at least as long as American troops were kept there."
 Reviewing the Big Three conference at Bermuda, the 78-year-old Prime Minister said:
 "I used the opportunity of the conference to emphasize the view which I expressed here on May 11 that the Soviet Union is entitled to assurances against aggression after what she suffered at Hitler's hands."
