SOME HOUSE PET

Bob Holder keeps a tight grip on Baldy, an eagle that stumbled into a muskrat trap on Spanaway Lake near Tacoma, Wash. The huge bird flaps his wings in an attempt to take off. Holder found Baldy and nursed him back to health before setting him free. Baldy wouldn't make a very congenial house pet, and besides, there's a law against it. (UP Telephoto.)

Three Children All Born on Same Date

Portland (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Owens have three children. Each was born in a different year. And each was born on December 16.

A mathematics professor here estimated the odds against that at 1 to 18,251,825.

A daughter was born four years ago, a son three years ago, and another son Wednesday.

Mrs. Owens chuckled when she heard what the odds were. She insisted there was no coincidence about the December 16 births.

"It was planned that way," she said.
