

Tall Building Overlaps Street

Owners of the Livesley building which stands at the southwest corner of State and Liberty, have discovered that a small part of it stands on public property in both streets.

or so, but to go ahead with a refinancing program it is necessary that the owners clear title, so a resolution appeared in City Council meeting Monday night asking the city to start proceedings for vacation of the narrow strips on the south side of State and the west side of Liberty. The resolution was adopted. It provides for a public hearing on the petition, which the council set for February 8.

Elmer Deetz Found Guilty

Oregon City (AP)—Elmer Deetz, Canby dairy farmer who likes to sell milk direct from cow to customer, today faced sentencing after being convicted yesterday in Clackamas County District Court of selling fluid milk without the required state fluid milk license.

Deetz was fined $25 on a similar charge in the same court a year ago. A record of tests made by the State Department of Agriculture, which filed to complaint, of Deetz's milk was introduced by Defense Attorney Norman Easley, who argued that the state's own tests showed the milk met the standards for bacterial count, sediment and temperatures.

Deetz testified that to meet license requirements would cost him about $2500. In another suit filed in the Clackamas court Deetz attacks the constitutionality of the milk control act administered by the Milk Marketing Administration. The periodical census taken in the Roman empire gives us the word, but the practice died out when the empire fell and was revived only gradually in quite recent times.

Stevenson Deplores Attacks on Officials

Chicago (AP)—Public confidence in government is undermined when attacks are made indiscriminately on government officials, says Adlai E. Stevenson. Stevenson, speaking Monday night at a panel discussion of "government and private reputation," said the man in the street does not differentiate between his government and the officials charged with administering it. Therefore, he added, when the reputations of these officials are attacked, the confidence in the government thereby is reduced.
