

FROM Peg in Washington

BY ALENE (PEG) PHILLIPS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27
Dear Marian:
Christmas 3000 miles from home for the first time turned out to be a truly wonderful time as Washingtonians are hospitable and friends here and at home were exceptionally kind. The weather was perfect, crisp, clear days and starry nights. Driving back from the Virginia side of the Potomac on Christmas Eve, the waning moon made a glittering surface on the reflecting pool between the Washington Monument and the Lincoln Memorial. Washington is always a beautiful city but especially so with the gay Christmas lights and decorations, including the large tree on the White House south lawn and the two on either side of the door on the north portico. Mrs. Eisenhower added a Christmas touch to the tree lighting ceremonies early Christmas eve when with her dark mink coat she wore a bright red dress with matching hat and gloves.

Christmas decoration brevities: An interesting theme was developed in the windows of one large department store where each window illustrated a couplet from "The Night Before Christmas." From dancing sugar plums over the heads of the bedded-down children to tiny mice asleep by a fireplace, the displays had constant crowds of both children and adults who exclaimed over the many, many details. A corner window had a near-blizzard of snow with a Santa Claus peering through. At another store 40-inch high mechanized dolls in a Victorian setting were engaged in various Christmas preparations. The pre-Christmas scene at the huge Pentagon was a bustling city in itself with the horde of employees able to take care of virtually all Christmas requirements without leaving the building. Gifts could be bought, gift-wrapped, mailed, trees and greens and cards were for sale, transportation tickets were available, and food and egg nog were on sale to carry home. In my apartment, it seemed like a Northwest Christmas with holly, mailed from an appropriate address—Holly Lane, on Mercer Island, near Seattle, Oregon mistletoe and holly, a great box of all kinds of greens including the pungent juniper and several sizes of pine cones, red roses and while the latter were locally grown they reminded me of Oregon not only because of the giver but be-

Duo Wed At Scio Dec. 27

Miss Joanne Jean Shimanek, Salem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shimanek, Scio, and Darrell Leroy Johnston, son of Mrs. Hazel Johnston of Salem, were married December 27, the service being solemnized in the Scio Baptist church at 3 o'clock, the Rev. Harold M. Manley officiating. The double ring service was used. Red poinsettias, holly, white candles and red and white satin ribbons decorated the church front for the wedding.

The bride wore a white lace and net over satin dress, ballerina length. The lace and net veil was fastened to a crown of pearls. For something borrowed the bride wore her mother's diamond earrings, and for something old, the engagement ring of the bridegroom's mother. She also wore a pearl necklace with rhinestone brooch, gift of the bridegroom. The bride carried a bouquet of red rosebuds with white orchid. Mr. Shimanek gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Lora Johnston, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a red taffeta and net dress, ballerina length, with red velvet bolero. Miss Nova Bruce, Miss Mary Benes and Mrs. Ernest Podrobsky, cousin of the bride, were the bridesmaids. All wore white net over taffeta frocks, ballerina length, with red taffeta boleros; and all carried nosegays of white chrysanthemums and red ribbons.

Candlelighters were Miss Katherine Powell, cousin of the bridegroom, Albany, and Mrs. Janice Heisinger of Albany. Both wore white net over taffeta dresses with red taffeta boleros.

Arlene Powell, Drain, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl and Harvey Lee Shimanek, brother of the bride, was ringbearer.

Robert Wall was best man. The ushers were Stanley McClelland, Louis Sharback and Bob Heisinger.

For the music, Mrs. Lucille Thurston played the piano and Mrs. Doris Koenig, cousin of the bridegroom, was soloist.

The bride's mother wore a brown dress with brown and aqua accessories and corsage of red roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue two-piece dress with winter white and black accessories, and a corsage of red roses.

A reception in the church parlors followed the service. The bride's table was all in red and white, with red roses encircling the cake.

Mrs. John Wesley, Jr., Salem, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Carol Crenshaw, cousin of the bride, Lebanon, poured. Cutting the cake was Mrs. Ernest Podrobsky of Mill City, aunt of the bride, assisted by Mrs. Wilma Crow of Scio. Others assisting were Mrs. Robert McCallum, Mrs. Everette Butler of Salem and Mrs. John Powell, the latter two aunts of the bridegroom.

The couple left on a trip to California and Mexico. They will be at home after January 15. Mr. Johnston planning to attend Oregon Technical school at Klamath Falls.

For traveling the bride wore a coral knit suit with white trim, winter white hat and black accessories, and a corsage of orchids.

AMONG New Year's eve parties for this evening is the dinner and bridge affair for which Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Needham and Mrs. U. Scott Page are entertaining at the Needham home. Twenty friends of the hosts have been invited.

Celery Stuffing
Ingredients: 1/2 pound butter or margarine, 1/4 to 1/2 cup finely diced onion (1 medium-small), 1 cup finely diced celery, 2 cups boiling water, two 8-ounce packages herb-seasoned ready-to-use stuffing.

Method: Melt 1/2 pound of the butter in a good-size kettle over low heat; add onion and celery and cook until partly soft—about 7 minutes. Add remaining butter and boiling water; stir until butter is melted. Add stuffing and stir well to moisten. Makes enough stuffing for a 12-pound (ready-to-cook weight) turkey.
