THREE-GAME SERIES RECORD SET

Congratulations this week go to the aging, but still sharp Errel Kay, whose huge 696 series Monday nite set a new city record for the year for three game series. Errel, just out of a hospital bed a few days before shot games of 200, 241, and 255 in running up his huge count. There has been some fine efforts at the Capitol this year but this effort takes the cake.

Congratulations also to Manager Bob Haugen of the U-Bowl for coming up with something new in his Christmas bonus tournament and for the women's Bonus Open Play Singles which is to start next Tuesday, January 5. It will be an open play sweepstakes just like the men's and will be based on averages as of December 31st. 70% of 180 handicap and will be limited to members of the Salem Women's Bowling Association only.

This will be sanctioned by the W.B.C. and will be for open play efforts only. Women may bowl anytime after first notifying the desk that they are shooting. Prizes will be $40.00 for first, $30.00 for second, $20.00 for third, $10.00 for fourth, and a new bowling bag or a pair of shoes for the fifth place winner.

TEAM ADDED TO A.B.C. ENTRIES
We would like to apologize to the University Bowl team omitted from our previous list of teams definitely entered in the ABC in Seattle. We refer to the team which usually bowls as Dyer & Sons Insurance and who won the first flag in the Mercantile League at the U-Bowl and who will be entered as the U-Bowl in the ABC.

Team is composed of Frank Simons, Elwood Bolser, Ted Roak, Ed Talbot, and Bill Cook. If he keeps improving his average every week like he has been, Ed Talbot will be giving them all fits by the time he gets to Seattle. In the past six weeks, Ed has moved up from 159 to 165 when he is challenging the leaders in averages.

YEAR CREATED MORE BOWLERS
Looking back over the last year finds that bowling made some big strides here in the city. We now have more men and women bowling in some kind of league than we have ever had before, we find two local newspapers carrying bowling columns, we have the big ABC meet in Seattle, which for the first time gives many Salem bowlers the opportunity to take part, the State tournament to be held in Albany this year, some mighty fine shooting ability exhibited by the visiting Strohs of Detroit when they were at the U-Bowl last spring, the return of the state championship to Salem when the Gerlinger Carrier Co. crew came within four pins of tying the all-time state record for teams, the excellent showing of all Salem bowlers in the state meet with the exception of one team whom we won't mention.

BEST WISHES TO YOU, TOO
For the new year we want to wish success for all Salem bowlers in the ABC at Seattle, the State at Albany, and any other tournaments you may be entering. To Dick Phipps, who is seeking to become Salem's second 200 average man for the season, may the new year find you successful; to Fred Karr, who defies time and age to continue rolling with his team in the majors, many more happy years of bowling.

To Frank Evans whose arm did not seem to be bothering him too much Wednesday night, may the new year find said arm healed and you back bowling again and shooting like your old self; to Trailways Cafe in the Classic League, city champions this year, who once a month shoot a big series and the rest of the time act like docile kittens, may you start shooting consistently enough to scare everyone in the league; success in the play-offs next spring to the Dyer & Sons Insurance gang of the U-Bowl Mercantile league who wrapped up the first half championship a week ago.

To all the sponsors here in Salem who pay the freight for a good part of the bowling and who many times receive very little for their efforts, may the new year find your team giving you a little more instead of wanting so much; to every bowler in Salem success, huge scores, and much bowling pleasure for the new year; to Bob, Dick, Duane, and Tom and all the league secretaries without whose help this column could never be written, to all of you from me at the Journal, a Happy New Year!

Big Ten Heads Return Of Cage Hoop Slates

By JOHN GRIFFIN
New York (AP)—College basketball puts aside the hoop-la of holiday tournaments and buckles down to the serious business of conference competition tonight as national champion Indiana sets the keynote with a Big Ten game against Michigan.

The schedule for the first Saturday night of the new year does include a sprinkling of top flight intersectional games, with Sugar Bowl champion Holy Cross playing Alabama and Niagara entertaining Arizona in two of the best.

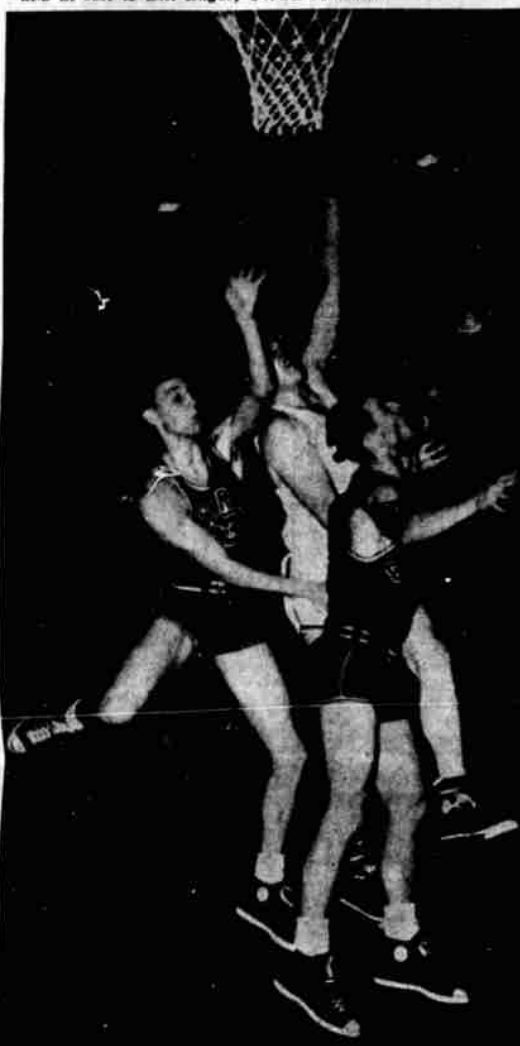

But the big shift now is to league play and Indiana, currently ranked the nation's No. 2 team, is expected to open with a victory, the defense of its first undisputed Big Ten crown in history.

Big Ten Biggest
Actually, the top game of the night could be the Big Ten clash between Minnesota, currently ranked sixth nationally, and Illinois, ranked seventh. The team that emerges victorious in this test at Champaign, Ill., will be figured as Indiana's chief rival for the title. Another opening Big Ten game tonight matches Purdue and Wisconsin.

Fraley, The Seer, Predicts Year's Standouts in Sports

By OSCAR FRALEY
New York (AP)—Well, here we go all over again, folks, and the object today is to give you an idea of what you can expect in the bright new year ahead.

Actually, the changes shouldn't be too devastating. Ordinarily, teams don't jump from last place to first place and the champs give up real hard. So from here in looks like this in 1954:

Baseball
Yep, those same old Yankees. If you can beat 'em you've got the baseball world by the collar. But from the frantic year-ahead trading of the Yanks, they'll take 'em as they come and this year will be number six in a row, with Brooklyn as an also-ran once again in the World Series.

Individually, thanks to the new sacrifice rule, look for Ted Williams to give a great farewell performance as he hits .400 again. Over in the National League, this looks to be about the time for Roberto Roberts to give us our first 30-game winner since Dizzy Dean.

Boxing
Rocky Marciano will defend the heavyweight title against Ezzard Charles and Dan Bucceroni, quite easily. Archie Moore probably could give him the best bout of all. Kid Gavilan will lose a close decision to Bobo Olson for the middleweight title and everybody will continue to deplore the lack of fistful talent.

Golf
President Eisenhower will break 80, Ben Hogan will win the U. S. Open again simply by showing up and a young guy named "Joe" will capture the idiotic PGA match play championship by knocking off Sam Snead with a red hot course record of 65 in the semi-finals. And then shooting a 97 in the finals against another "Joe" who shoots a 99.

Horse Racing
Cain Hoy Stable will win the Kentucky Derby for the second straight year. This time it will be Turn-To, second choice to Portierhouse in the betting, and not a 25 to 1 shot like its Dark Star.

Track and Field
Nobody will run the four-minute mile.

Tennis
Australia's teen-age terrors, Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad, will retain the Davis Cup and then, after having split the Wimbledon and U. S. titles, will turn professional.

College Football
Notre Dame will return all the way to the top of the college grid heap, with Illinois providing the closest competition for the mythical national championship.

Basketball
Kentucky, driving all out under the smattering of its

Looks Like Irish Should Be Rated 1

By OSCAR FRALEY
New York (AP)—The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame belatedly won the national collegiate football championship while sitting in the living room.

It all happened when Oklahoma beat Maryland 7-0 in the New Year's Day Orange Bowl game. Notre Dame had beaten Oklahoma by seven points during the regular season.

This seemed to provide a fairly definite answer to the squabble at the end of the regular campaign when once tied Notre Dame was ousted from the number one spot by the undefeated Maryland eleven.

Maryland loved it. Notre Dame screamed frenziedly. Maryland No. 1
Going down the home stretch in the regular season top-ranked Notre Dame was tied by Iowa. With Maryland still undefeated, the United Press Board of Coaches moved the Terrapins into first place in their weekly ratings.

Notre Dame bounced back by defeating Southern California but when Maryland closed an all winning season by beating Alabama, the coaches kept Maryland at the top. Notre Dame wound up by blasting Southern Methodist and screamed because there were no additional ratings which might have given the Irish first place.

The ratings had ceased with Maryland on top the week before, because there were few other games on Notre Dame's final Saturday.

If there were ratings today, Notre Dame unquestionably would stand on top.

Salem Horsemen To Host Riders At Fairgrounds

Local horsemen will be host to riders from Eugene, Portland, Roseburg, Silvertown and Albany tonight and Sunday afternoon at the Fair grounds stadium in various contests.

The Salem Saddle club is sponsoring competition in calf roping, bulldogging and cow-cutting tonight at 8 o'clock. Sunday at 1 o'clock there will be contests in stake bending, matched pairs, flag relay team races, park hack English class, calf roping, bulldogging, cow-cutting, and Texas clover leaf barrel races.

There is no charge to attend.

Seattle Girls Tell Engagement to Ed And Johnny O'Brien

Seattle (AP)—Two Seattle girls Friday disclosed that they have become engaged to Johnny and Eddie O'Brien, the gold-dust twins of Seattle University basketball last season. No wedding dates were set.

Jeanne Kumbera, a social worker, will marry Johnny, an Associated Press All-America last season, and Pat McGough, a sophomore at SU, will wed Eddie.

The O'Briens are now in the Army and have 17 months of service remaining.
