Bed Set Afire, Woman Burned

SILVERTON — Sylvia Haere is in a serious condition at Silvertown hospital as the result of burns received Tuesday night when her bed caught fire from an electric heater in her upstairs room at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Haere, in Bethany district. Miss Haere, who is about 40 years old, is an only child and lives with her parents here. It is believed the bed was set afire when covers from the bed were tossed about. Her parents were awakened by her screams and her father was able to roll the bedding up and take it downstairs and outdoors without the fire spreading. He suffered severe burns on his hands but not serious. Miss Haere is being given intravenous feeding because she is unable to swallow.

"Death Valley Scotty," whose real name was Walter Scott, colorful character of California, who died yesterday. NEW YORK — The mildness of the winter in many sections has cut profits and undermined prices in a number of industries—like fuel and apparel. It has helped others—like utilities and ice cream makers. It has caused men to be laid off work. It has kept others at work longer than they had expected. And the long streak of mild winters has led many to wonder if the climate is changing. If it is, industry, agriculture and transportation will all be affected. Some industries and crops will move farther north. Some ports will be too hot and too dry to support their present industries and crops. And the way Americans live will change—their food habits, clothing purchases, housing and heating needs. Its too soon to do more than speculate about a general warming up of the climate. But recently the winters have been warmer in Southern parts of the United States and a little colder in the Northwest and along the Pacific Coast. Recent Wedding at Lebanon Residence

Lebanon — Making their home at Kessler field, Mo., following their wedding here on December 26, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Griffith.

Their vows were exchanged at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bates, with whom she has lived for several years. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harwood of Grants Pass, and Mr. Griffith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Griffith of Lebanon.

At the fireplace in the Bates home, decorated with baskets of chrysanthemums, Dr. John B. Houser read the single ring service at 8 p.m. Mrs. Houser played the wedding music.

Mr. Harwood gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a white knit suit and her flowers were red roses.

Standing with her sister as maid of honor was Miss Carol Harwood. With her blue suit, she wore a pink rosebud corsage.

Robert Parsons, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, was best man. A reception followed the nuptials, Mrs. Parsons, the bridegroom's sister, pouring, Miss Carol Harwood, cut the cake.

Miss Humphreys And Mr. Rose Wed

Lebanon — Exchanging vows on December 20 at the Presbyterian church were Miss Janet Lee Humphreys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Humphreys, and Harry Frederick Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rose.

The Rev. Harvey Schmidt performed the ceremony. The altar was decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums and lighted tapers. Providing the wedding music was Mrs. Lawrence Page. Solos were sung by Miss Marilyn Gilliam.

Escorted to the altar by her father, Miss Humphreys wore an ivory satin dress and carried a Prayer book topped with a white orchid.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Ralph Preston who wore flamingo net over matching taffeta dress and carried a colonial bouquet.

Candle lighters were the Misses Karine Kofoid and Kathryn Davis, identically dressed in green and wearing wristlets of yellow daisies.

Howard Rose was best man for his brother, and ushers were Jimmy Jacobson and Robert McCracken.

In the church recreation room where the reception was the serving table was set with a white satin cloth. An aunt of the bride, Mrs. Leo Clendenen, poured, and Mrs. Gene Davis, the bridegroom's aunt, cut the cake.

For travel, the bride wore a beige sharkskin suit with brown accessories. They will make their home in Wichita Falls, Tex., where the bridegroom is stationed with the air force.
