

Linn Officers to Seek Reelection

Albany—Though the deadline for filing candidacies in the May 21 election is more than two months away, it was apparent Tuesday that all Linn county officer holders whose terms expire this year are planning to seek reelection.

Several were reluctant to commit themselves definitely, stating that they might change their minds, but no withdrawals have been announced. No candidate has as yet filed.

To be filed in Linn county are legislative positions, that of district attorney and the offices of county judge and one commissioner, in the party primaries, and the office of circuit judge for the 21st judicial district including Linn, Benton and Lincoln counties, on the nonpartisan ballot.

among those willing to announce his candidacy for reelection. District Attorney Curtney Johns expressed his intention of seeking reelection but would reconsider if threatened by primary opposition, and County Judge E. G. Arnold and Commissioner Wayne Downing are both avowed candidates, all in the republican primary.

Also considered a certain candidate in the republican primary is State Representative Jess Savage, serving his first term in the 1933 legislature.

State Senator Warren Gill, Lebanon, and Representative Ed Cardwell, Sweet Home, when queried Tuesday, each said that if present plans materialized they would seek reelection.

No democrats have thus far publicly announced themselves as candidates but a number of possibilities are being discussed within the party.
