Bill Hits at Peddlers Who Use Vehicles

License fees charged persons who peddle in Salem with vehicles will skyrocket if a bill before the City Council Monday night for second and third readings becomes an ordinance.

The bill would amend the existing ordinance and would not change the fees charged persons who peddle afoot.

The ordinance now in use provides for a fee of $1 a day, or $5 a year, for persons who peddle afoot. This would not be changed.

The ordinance now in use calls for a fee of $2 a day, or $10 a year, for persons peddling from vehicles. This would be changed to $10 a day, $100 a month, or $250 a year for each person peddling from a vehicle.

The existing ordinance provides for $15 a day, $45 a week, $150 a month, and $300 a year as the fees for peddling or making sales on any street or without the street area with or without a vehicle. This would be unchanged.

Bringing congratulations from President Eisenhower will be the president's naval aide, Cmdr. Edwin Beach.

Also present to congratulate the Portland outfit will be the commandant of the 13th Naval district, Rear Adm. Allan E. Smith; Fred L. Peterson.

Plans Offered

Under his proposal to "freeze" certain surpluses, the excess supply of these commodities such as wheat and corn would be isolated from the market so as not to have a depressing effect on prices.

Under the flexible program, government price guarantees would be high in time of shortages to encourage production, and low in times of surpluses to encourage consumption and discourage over production.

The President said the present war-born mandatory supports should be permitted to expire at the end of this crop year.

"A farm program" he said, "first of all should assist agriculture to earn its proportionate share of the national income. It must likewise aim at stability in farm income. There should therefore be no wide year to year fluctuation in the level of price support."

He said too that "a farm program must fairly represent the interests of both producers and consumers."

Under the President's program, price props on major crops would vary between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices, declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices they pay.

The President said adjustment to a new farm program must be accomplished gradually in the interest of farmers and in the interest of the economy of the nation as a whole.

For such commodities as meat animals, dairy products, poultry and eggs, tobacco, soy beans, cottonseed, flax, fruits and vegetables, and sugar, the President proposed no changes from present programs.

The flexible price support plan, under which price guarantees would move up or down with changes in supplies, would be applied to wheat, cotton, rice, corn, and peanuts.

The "modern" parity price for these products would be lower than prices determined by the old formula. The President suggested, however, that the shift from the old to the new parity be carried out gradually. He said this should be done in steps of five percentage points of the old parity per year until the change has been accomplished.

Eisenhower said that removal of the threat of price depression due to huge surpluses—which now total nearly 5 billion dollars—is an essential part of his program.

7500 Idle at Atomic Plant

RICHLAND, WASH. (AP)—Federal Mediator Louis Ziman, Spokane, stepped Monday into the week-long strike of AFL carpenters and millwrights that has idled 7,500 construction workers on the 150 million dollar Hanford atomic expansion program.

Ziman went into a morning session with negotiating committees for the union and Hanford contractors in an effort to break the deadlock in the no-contract, no-work walkout.

He declined to predict the outcome.

About 1,200 carpenters and millwrights at Hanford and 500 others on non-government jobs in the Tri-City area struck a week ago in support of demands for 15 cents an hour wage increase. They have been without a contract since Jan. 1. Present scales for journeymen carpenters are $265, and for millwrights $2.90.

Negotiations for the 500 strikers outside the Hanford project are in abeyance.

Pilot Shortages In U.S. Airforce

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said Monday the Air Force faces a "serious shortage" of pilots and crews for A-bomb carrying planes because of Eisenhower administration cutbacks in the defense budget.

Russell, a member of the Armed Services Committee and one of the chief spokesmen for Senate Democrats on military matters, said in an interview he believes the administration's new defense program will close the gaps on combat plane building without too much loss of time in that particular.

"But there isn't any doubt that the reductions they made last year have caused a serious shortage of pilots and crews," the Georgia senator said. "Sure, they've got a pilot for every plane, but the commercial airlines have three crews for each plane."

"It takes a terrific amount of training for the supersonic planes, and particularly the long range bombers on which we are dependent, to retaliate against the enemy if we are attacked."

Glenn Morgan Dies After 3-Year Illness

Glenn E. Morgan, who was a salesman for the Cherry City Baking company, making daily trips to the Sweet Home area from 1941 until 1951, when illness forced his retirement, died early Monday morning at a local hospital. He had been ill for about three years and hospitalized since December 18.

Morgan was born at Austin, Minn., May 21, 1897, and as a boy moved to Canada with his parents. He came to Salem in 1936 from Saskatchewan, Canada, and was a late resident of 1704 Claxton road.

Survivors include two sisters, Miss Fern Morgan of Salem, and Mrs. J. H. Cowan of Shaunavon, Saskatchewan, Canada; two brothers, Fred E. Morgan of Portland and Richard L. Morgan of Salem; and seven nephews, including Jack Morgan and Vickie Morgan of Salem.

Announcement of funeral services will be made later by the Howell-Edwards chapel.

Robinsons Sue for Cutting of Timber

A chain of circumstances has resulted in a suit being filed in circuit court by Harry A. and Elvora I. Robinson against Fred Moore in which the plaintiffs seek $4500.

The complaint states that between May 1 and July 1, 1952 the defendant went upon the plaintiffs' land without authority and proceeded to cut and remove certain timber. For this alleged act the plaintiffs seek $3000.

As a result of removing timber from adjoining property, the complaint further alleges, a large tree on the plaintiffs' property was undermined. This tree fell and knocked down other trees, one of which struck the house belonging to the plaintiffs. The complaint states that the plaintiffs were damaged in the sum of $1500 by reason of the falling trees.

Mrs. Hadley of Brooks Dies

BROOKS—Mrs. Minnie Maryann Hadley, who with her husband, Urshel W. Hadley, purchased the Brookhook Cafe here three years ago, died unexpectedly at her home here Saturday.

Mrs. Hadley was born in Colones, Farrmanth county, Ireland, May 4, 1902, and with her parents moved to the United States and to Oregon when seven years old. She lived in Salem for about 15 years and moved to Oregon City about 1939.

Surviving besides the husband are her mother, Mrs. Ella McCaffery of Salem; three brothers, Frank and Peter McCaffery, both of Salem, and Joseph (Pat) McCaffery of Dallas; and three nephews.

Announcement of funeral services will be made later by the Howell-Edwards chapel.

Intermediate

Thereafter, the board of control could prepare recommendations to the 1955 legislature.

Both Newby and Unander approved the suggestion, although Newby pointed out that the original concept of handling admissions to the intermediate institution, provided that selection be made by officials of the two institutions concerned, men who were familiar with the various cases.

Gov. Patterson said that he had no objection to this concept but felt that there might be other ideas that might be developed by the committee and that all suggestions should be given consideration.

Lewis Not Candidate At May Primaries

Clifford Lewis, serving as county assessor under an appointment by the County Court, Monday notified the court that he could not be a candidate for the office at the May primary.

In the meantime Lewis says he will "dedicate myself to the duties in such a way as to merit the well wishes expressed to me personally by all members of the court."

Lewis was appointed following the death of "Ted" Shelton who held the office for many years.

Wasco County's Centenary

THE DALLES (AP)—Wasco County, which once stretched to the Rocky Mountains, observed its 100th anniversary Monday. Public ceremonies will not be held until Spring, when the county pioneer association meets.

The county's boundaries, as drawn by the Legislature Jan. 11, 1854, included all land from the Columbia River and the 46th parallel on the north to the California-Nevada-Utah boundary on the south, and from the crest of the Cascades to the crest of the Rockies.

Five years later the county began shrinking, first as territories were created in Washington and Idaho and later as 17 other counties east of the Cascades were formed in Oregon.

Ask Strike Votes

The proposal for a pre-strike poll of workers is not without precedent in American labor law.

The Smith-Connelly act of World War II required assent from workers before they could legally go out on strike.

In suggestion the adoption of this provision as part of the Taft-Hartley act, Eisenhower said: "There is nothing which so vitally affects the individual employee as the loss of his pay when he is called on strike."

"In such an important decision he should have an opportunity to express his free choice by secret ballot held under government supervision."

In his discussion of welfare funds, the President noted that the law now bars an employer from making payments to a union to help finance such funds unless the fund meets certain standards.

But Eisenhower said these standards are not adequate to protect and conserve these funds that are held in trust for the welfare of individual union members.

In his 2,500-word message the President expressed his hope that the changes he suggested "will be enacted by Congress promptly, for they will more firmly establish the basic principles of the law."

Blizzard Hits

The heaviest snowstorm in seven years damped nine and one-half inches of snow on Philadelphia and surrounding areas Monday. School shut down. Industries and offices operated with partial forces as workers gave up or were far behind schedule in efforts to reach their jobs.

Flight schedules were disrupted at LaGuardia Field and Idlewild Airport in New York City.

If the Weather Bureau's prediction holds good, the snowfall will be the largest in the city since early 1949 when about 15 inches fell. The record for the city was the crippling 25.8-inch fall of Dec. 26 and 27, 1947.

Complete mobilization of city Department of Sanitation forces began early Monday. Eight thousand workers with 1,800 plows were on the job before dawn, and other thousands of city workers were due to pitch in later.
