Craft Class at Woodburn High

WOODBURN — An adult evening class course in crafts, planned to provide work with the application of original designs to glass etching, metal etching, foil metal tapping, paper carving, leather, textile printing, plastics and wood, will begin Thursday, Jan. 14, at 7 p.m. in Woodburn high school has been announced by Frank Doerfler, superintendent of Woodburn schools.

Under the direction of Miss Jean Sutherland, instructor in art for general extension division, the crafts course provides two hours of undergraduate credit and may be used on three or four year elementary teacher certification.

As the course is of considerable general interest registration may be made on a non-credit basis by any one interested. Registration begins with the initial class meeting and fees are based on $6 per credit hour plus a $6 art class fee. Total fee for the course which provides 30 hours of instruction, is $18.

Adult evening classes are under supervision of the department of state-wide services of

Thieves Enter Woodburn High

WOODBURN — Woodburn high school was broken into Saturday night sometime between 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. by one or more vandals who entered by way of the boiler room. The door louver was pried loose which enabled the culprit to reach inside and unlock the door. Eight different rooms were broken into probably in a search for money, by breaking the glass in the doors. About $8 was taken from various desks and drawers which were ransacked, the most of it from the library. No other damage was done.

B. A. Bailey discovered the breakage at about 8:30 p.m. when he went out to the school. No effort was made to enter the vault but this would have been useless as no money is kept in the vault at night but all is taken to the bank each day.

No clues have been found as to the vandals.

Optimists of Zone B Coming

Optimists club members and Opti-Mrs. from eight cities in Oregon and Washington will be in Salem Saturday to attend a meeting of Zone B of the organization.

Towns represented at the meeting, which starts with the business session at the Senator hotel at 1 p.m., will be Astoria, Eugene, Gresham, Oregon City, Portland, which has four clubs, St. Helens, Vancouver, Wash., and Salem.

Among those speaking before the group will be Dr. W. Payne of MacLaren school for boys.

Two district officers will be present for the Saturday session. They are Dr. Paul Shingler of Portland, governor of district 13, and Jack Stacey, also of Portland who is district lieutenant governor. Stacey is to preside at the zone meeting.

While the Optimists are in business session Saturday afternoon the Opti-Mrs. will also be having their own get-together in a separate room at the hotel.

A dinner for both Optimists and Opti-Mrs. is on the schedule for Saturday night. At this time Col. Phillip Allison, U. S. Army, retired, will be presented a special plaque

Cream Prices May Be Cut

PORTLAND — The State Board of Agriculture will hold a hearing here early in March but the price Portland area consumers pay for milk probably will not be changed.

The board's administration staff announced plans to reduce the producers' minimum by 31 cents a hundredweight. That would amount to about two-thirds of a cent a quart. This reduction then would be passed on to the distributor, leaving the retail price the same.

The staff also proposed lowered cream prices. One plan advanced called for reductions of 5 cents a pint for whipping and coffee cream. The other proposal discussed would allow a varying profit margin and cut cream prices 6 to 8 cents a pint.

The new schedule would go into effect April 1 if approved.

Top Citizen January 20

W. L. Phillips was named Salem's No. 1 citizen for 1953, even though he had to be routed out of bed in a Detroit, Mich., hotel to be apprised of the fact.

The night of January 20 at the Marion hotel the individual whom a secret committee judges has the best right to wear the crown for 1953 will be introduced.

One of the hardest assignments, aside from the actual selection of the person, will be his or her introduction to the diners by last year's No. 1 citizen. In this case, Phillips will have little or no advance warning concerning the person whom he will introduce.

In 1951, R. L. Elstrom was named the top man of the community. He was introduced by C. A. Sprague. Then Elstrom was called upon to introduce Phillips who was not at the party.

So, Bill Phillips will have to prepare a speech hoping that his statements will be sufficiently general to cover the person who is the subject of his remarks. Tickets for the dinner meeting may be secured at the Chamber of Commerce.

Senator Phil Brady To Seek Re-election

PORTLAND — Phil Brady, Portland Democrat, announced Monday he will seek re-election to the State Senate.

The announcement was made at a meeting of the Portland Central Labor Council where Brady was inducted as a delegate of the taxicab drivers.

Brady has served in the Senate for the Past two sessions.

Presbyterian Aid

WOODBURN — The January meeting of the Presbyterian Aid society will be Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 13, at 2:30 o'clock in the church social room. Miss Rowena Cole will lead the devotional service, and Mrs. Robert E. Van will be in charge of the program. Hostesses will be Mrs. E. C. Peyton and Mrs. Frank Wright. New members will be welcomed and the new year books will be distributed.
