

Bearcats Go To Linfield Saturday, Try For No. 4

Willamette university would like to have conference victory No. 4 Saturday night at Linfield college before taking a 14-day rest before its next game.

A lead so early in the season doesn't count much, Coach John Lewis observed today, for there are 12 games to go and eight of them will be on the road in unfamiliar gyms. "We'll know more after this week-end," Lewis added, when results are in on the Willamette-Linfield, Lewis & Clark Whitman, and Pacific-College of Idaho games.

This will be a one-night stand at McMinnville. The Bearcats will host Linfield February 19 and go over there February 20 to complete their three-game assignment.

Linfield has three players among the nine leading scorers for the Northwest conference. Dave Sanford is second with 203 in 13 games; Carol Cable is second with 149 and Ray Olson, the tackle converted into a forward, is ninth with 134.

Linfield beat Whitman and divided with College of Idaho.

Lewis was to drill the Bearcats this afternoon to meet Linfield's fast breaking unit, and indicated he would stick with the starters who launched the 100 points that sank the Coyotes last week.

They are Tom Gooding, Jerry McCallister, Lety Shield, Dick Hoy and Pete Reed.

Western Pro All-Stars One TD Favorites Sunday

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Western Conference all-stars may be at least a one-touchdown favorite for Sunday's fourth annual Pro Bowl in Memorial Coliseum but Earl (Curly) Lambeau, coach of the Washington Redskins, is picking the Eastern Conference squad.

Lambeau, who has just completed 25 years in the pro game says the East squad is "simply terrific and I don't see how anybody could round up a better set of defensive men; I know because my Redskins had to face most of these fellows at least twice during the season."

The West has been established as the favorite chiefly because of its ball carriers and a passing attack that may just about match that generated by Otto Graham of Cleveland and Bobby Thomson of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Detroit's Bobby Layne has two brilliant alternates for the quarterback position, Norman Van Brocklin and Y.A. Tittle, and a set of runners that includes Doak Walker, Tank Younger, Dan Towler, Joe Perry, Hugh McElhenry and other backs.
