Willamette Bearcats in First Road Test at Linfield Tonight

Bearcats Try to Hold Loop Lead

Coach John Lewis considers to-night's Wilalmette university game at Linfield a more decisive test of how his Bearcats will react to con-how his Bearcats will react to con-ference games on the road. At home Willamette has felt comfortable, taking a quick 3-0 lead in the circuit by edging Whitman twice and trampling Col-lege of Idaho. There remain, however, eight games away among the 12 remaining and it is well known how rude home teams are to visitors Linfield, for example, split with Portland State and with Oregon College of Education and other wise have proved redhot and luke warm at various times. Always there are at least three threats-Dave Sanford. Carol Cable and Ray Olson, who rate among the top nime in the conference. Pete Reed leads Willarnette scor-ers in the first 13 games, with 173 points. Dick Hoy is next with 160. "We've come a ways in the last two weeks." Lewis said, and will have to keep improving to stay near the front. Linfield, for example, split with
