Mt. Angel Legion Makes 1954 Plans

MOUNT ANGEL.—Members of the Mount Angel post, American Legion, held their first meeting of the year Tuesday evening in the Legion Memorial Hall.

Two future events which local members will attend include the District II conference in Silverton, scheduled for Feb. 7, with an afternoon business session and a social hour and banquet in the evening; also the Marion County Council slated for Friday, Jan. 15, at the Women's club in Salem.

Edgar Fennimore, James Drysdale and Roy Sharp, members of the local post, are confined to the Veterans hospital. A contest is being held to complete the membership drive and meet the quota in record time. War II veterans, under the leadership of Adjutant Clarence Ebner, challenged the combined War I and Korean Veterans to a race to sign up half the remaining 44 members needed for the quota. The losing group will treat the winning group to a chicken dinner. The drive must be over by March 1, and the quota is 170 members, with 128 signed up to date.

The Pearl and the Price

Most people know the parable of the "pearl of great price," and the man who sold all that he had to buy it (Matt. 13:46).

Have you ever asked yourself what it meant?

The "price" is our surrender of the afflictive human thinking causing our troubles. How to give up these human fears, how to grasp and find freedom would indeed be "the pearl."

The way of this liberating understanding is explained fully in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. Whoever will put its statements to the test will find this great Science of Christianity to be demonstrable.

Science and Health may be read or obtained at all Christian Science Reading Rooms. The coupon is also for your use.

Silverton Calls Meeting to Discuss Union High Plan

SILVERTON.—Dr. E. L. Henkel, chairman of the school board of district No. 4, has called a meeting for 8 p. m. Friday, January 22, at the Eugene Field school for discussion of the Union High school proposal for this area.

James L. Turnbull, building consultant for the state department of education, was present to answer questions at a Wednesday evening meeting at Evergreen school, when 12 rural districts were in session to encourage a two-vote on (1) whether Silverton might participate in a Union High School move, or (2) if the vote of the rural schools on a union high move should exclude Silverton.

Since Silverton is a first class district, Turnbull advised that "prompt action" be taken by the Silverton district in the vote, because of the time element, in making ready for the coming fall term of school. Silverton must vote for or against participating with the union high proposition.

In the previous expressions of Silverton by ballot, consolidation with rural districts was favored, and voted down by the rural districts. Representing the union high move outside Silverton are Victor Hadley, Silver Crest; Oscar Loe, Evans Valley; Robert Humphreys, Victor Point; Edgar Tweed of Monitor; John Seims of Central Howell and Joe Burchford of Mt. Angel.

The Silverton board of directors (district 4) are asking rural folk to be present at the January 22 meeting in Silverton. Represented at the Evergreen school which was attended by Turnbull as speaker, were Willard, Pratum, Monitor, Crooked Finger, Silver Crest, Mt. Angel, Scotts Mills, Butte Creek, Bethany, Victor Point, Central Howell, Evans Valley, Brush Creek and Evergreen districts.

Air Guard to Be Recruited

Oregon's Air National Guard Friday started a 60-day recruiting campaign, aimed at filling all existing vacancies in the Oregon air units.

The state's Air Guard has 15 units, all locate at the Portland Air Base, and present strength of the unit is 425 officers and airmen. Vacancies exist now for 62 officers and 606 airmen.

This state's drive is being conducted in conjunction with a nationwide recruiting campaign designed to bring all of the Air National Guard units of the United States to full strength. The nationwide drive was started January 2, when Col. Willard W. Milliken broke the existing Los Angeles to New York jet speed record in one of his unit's F-86 Sabrejets.

Milliken's unit, the 113th fighter-bomber wing, District of Columbia, Air National Guard, uses the same type of plan with which Oregon's 123rd fighter interceptor squadron is equipped. In announcing the start of the recruiting drive, Oregon's adjutant general, Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Riley, noted that Oregon has the largest Air National Guard organization of any of the north-west states.

Four groups, eight squadrons and two attached units, all located at the Portland Air Base, comprise the Oregon outfit. The training program covers such fields as engineering, aircraft maintenance, food service, medical, automotive maintenance, air police, supply, and road and runway construction.

Your 1953 Income Tax NO. 2 How to File Your 1953 Return

The Three Types of Returns In an effort to fit the tax returns to the differing needs of the more than 50,000,000 persons who must file them, three types of returns have been provided—Form 1040, Short-Form 1040, and Long-Form 1040.

The law expects you to pay your correct tax—no more—no less. It will pay you to think for a moment which of these three types of returns is the best and easiest form in your case. To do this you need to consider the size of your income, the sources of your income, your eligibility to deduct travel and reimbursement expense from wages, and the size of your non-business deductions, such as contributions, medical expenses, etc. The tax table used in computing the tax on Form 1040A and Short-Form 1040 automatically allows you approximately 10 per cent of your income to cover your non-business deductions.

1. Form 1040A—This is the simplest return of the three. If you file this form, you do not need to figure your own tax. From your answer to the questions, the district director of internal revenue will figure your tax for you, and send you a bill or a refund. You may use the Form 1040A if your total income was less than $5,000 and consisted entirely of wages reported on Withholding Statements (Form W-2), or of such wages and not more than $100 total of other wages, dividends and interest, all of which must be entered on the tax return. You may not use Form 1040A but must file your return on Form 1040 if (1) you had any income from other sources, such as annuities, rents, royalties, a business or profession, farming, transactions in securities or other property, partnerships, estates and trusts, or (2) you claim the status of head of a household, or (3) you wish to deduct travel or reimbursement expenses from your wages.

2. Short-Form 1040—Form 1040 may be used either as a short form or as a long form. The short form is simpler than the long form. It differs from Form 7040A in that (a) you must find your own tax; (b) you may include income from sources not eligible for reporting on Form 1040A; and (c) you may deduct travel and reimbursement expenses from your wages. Therefore, if your income was less than $5,000 and you do not desire to itemize nonbusiness deductions (contributions, interest, etc.), find your tax from the table on the back of the form, tear off the first sheet and file it as a Short-Form 1040.

3. Long-Form 1040—If your non-business deductions are more than 10 per cent of your income, you will ordinarily save money by itemizing your deductions on Long-Form 1040. You will then figure your tax according to the computation on page 3, and file the entire form, which is called a long-form return. If your non-business deductions are so close to 10 per cent that you are in doubt which is the better form, try both the short form and the long form to make sure.

The address of Your District Director of Internal Revenue is 201 Post Office Building, Salem, Ore. His telephone number is 3-8262.

Coast Code Liked, But With Local Amendments

The Oregon Chapter of the Pacific Coast Building Conference, at a session in Salem Friday, indicated it probably will stay with the coast building code, but with the privilege of making local amendments.

This preference was expressed rather than formulate a new code that would divorce the Pacific Coast Building Code.

Among those attending the meeting in Salem was Arthur Hofer, chief of the building department of the City of Spokane, and immediate past president of the Pacific Coast Building Conference. He said, among other things, that 489 cities now use the Pacific Coast code and that it has been translated into foreign languages, including the Japanese.

Representatives were here from 22 cities of Oregon, coming from as far south as Medford, and H. E. Madkie, Medford building inspector who is president of the Oregon chapter, presided over the meeting. No Oregon cities east of the Cascade Mountains were represented.

There was a general discussion of the coast code and its application to Oregon cities.

Hal Boyle

It can't be given away to the poor because that would be galloping socialism. It can't be given to the rich because that would be special privilege. It can't be plowed under, because any plow would skid on all that butter.

So Congress, hems and haws, and the butter pliers higher every night the cows come home from the meadow.

What can be done with it? Well, here are a few adventurous possibilities:

- 1. Load it on naval vessels and sail around the world until it wears out.
2. Washington has a memorial to everybody but the American farmer. Why not build a tremendous monument to him, carved from 131,000 tons of butter? It might show a gigantic cow tentatively being milked by a faithful son of the soil in patched yellow overalls. Surrounded by plastic, this butter memorial would endure forever, and provide the capital with a tourist attraction rivaling the Washington Monument - and perhaps outweighing it, too.
3. Offer it to the Soviet government for nothing if such Russian peasant and bureaucrat got a free one-pound block of butter-labeled "gift of the U.S.A." This would set more Russians to pondering the virtues of free enterprise than 131,000 tons of paper propaganda. There is no better propaganda than the visible fruits of prosperity.
4. Congress wants to get a raise in pay but is bashful about voting itself money. Country doctors often take their fees in farm products when farmers are short of dollars. Well, why not give congressmen a flat bonus in surplus butter instead of crass cash?
5. That is a generous, heart-welcoming proposal," said one legislator. "But if you divide 131,000 tons equally among 831 Senators and 40 Representatives, each would get 500,000 pounds of butter. What would I do with 500,000 pounds of butter?"

Simple. Since politicians always butter up their constituents in an election year, they could wrap a couple of pounds of butter in their latest speech and mail a package to every voter in their district.

That may be spreading on politics a bit thick, but I know that as a taxpayer myself I wouldn't resent this gesture.

The main thing is something has to be done - and done soon. They are running out of storage space. Come summer if all that butter melts, Congress is going to have a real emergency - a new flood control program.
