STUFF THAT DREAMS ARE MADE OF . . .

They say a picture is worth ten thousand words—and if this is true, Jim Bond's wildlife show is equal to at least a dozen volumes of outdoor lore. We saw Jim's program last night at the Salem High Auditorium, then went home and tried to sleep—but those huge Kodiak bear, caribou, house and frantically jumping rainbow trout kept chasing each other around the bedroom all night.

This program, which will be shown this evening, starting at eight, for the last time, is actually an experience that one only appreciates fully AFTER the show. Only then does one become fully aware of that fact that the picture is unique—that Jim's color camera has captured scenes never before filmed. Especially wonderful is a short 38 feet of film, on which is recorded a close-up of two magnificent caribou. We guarantee this scene to take the breath away from any outdoorsman!

RETRIEVER CLUB TO HELP NOVICES

We were stuck in the snow all day Saturday—but by Sunday we got out of the drifts and drove cautiously over the slick highway to Camp Adair, where the Willamette Valley Retriever Club held their first picnic trial of the year. Despite the snow, doggy folks from as far away as Bend were present, and the trial was something to see. Those black dogs dashing through the snow were spectacular, to say the least. The sun came out brightly for awhile in the afternoon, and made the trial one to remember.

After the trial, the club held their annual banquet and elected officers for the coming year. Red Walker of Albany will be president this year, his wife, Vesta, is secretary, and Lloyd Miller of Monroe is vice presy. A certain Capital Journal outdoor editor, who shall remain nameless, wound up as treasurer. The club voted to hold a licensed field trial this fall—a trial where "big name" dogs will compete for points toward a championship. But of more immediate interest is the fact that several members of the club will devote themselves to developing novice classes—classes where inexperienced dogs and trainers will learn the fundamentals of retriever work. This new function of the club should bring in many new members—folks who own retrievers, but who have not had the experience to compete their dogs in trials. Now they'll have a chance to learn. The club is interested in getting more Salem folks active as members, and very likely they will hold a trial right here in Salem early this spring . . .

DUCKS IN NOW—TOO LATE!

All over the valley, reports have come to us in the past few days of large concentrations of ducks appearing. The fields down at Alderman Farms are black with birds, and, according to our friend, Fred Lewis, of Bickreack, plenty of birds are now passing through his country also. . . . We are anxious to hear what Mr. Kobbie of the game commission, and Major Tobin, of Ducks Unlimited, will have to say tomorrow night about the past fiasco of a duck season. . . . Both these chaps will appear at the IWLA clubhouse to enlighten valley folk as to the circumstances that resulted in the poor shoot, and to discuss what can be done in the future to remedy the situation. Everyone is invited to attend this meeting, which will also feature some discussion regarding the late opening of coastal streams . . .

Vlastelica on Bench to Give Swede Experience, Gill Says

By DWAIN HANSON
SEATTLE (UP)—One of the most provocative questions in Northern Division basketball today is: Can Oregon State Coach Slat Gills afford to leave Tony Vlastelica on the bench much more?

Tall Tony, Gill's fireman, arose from the bench two nights in a row last week-end to spark the Beavers to their first clean sweep here in 21 years. The Beavers caught fire and went on to win over the Washington Huskies when the former Aberdeen ace began hooking 'em in.

The six-foot, five-inch hook shot specialist, the star of the 1952-53 OSC squad, is one of the best offensive players in the division. Yet Vlastelica, whose nearly archaic hook shot thrilled fans who used to swoon to the trajectories of Bob Houbregs, has found himself riding the bench a lot.

Laying Groundwork
The reason: Coach Slat Gills, who probably fields the top team in the division, is already busy laying the groundwork for the next two seasons. The big slab in the foundation is Wade (Swede) Halbrook, the gangling seven-foot, three-inch sophomore whom Gill describes as

"potentially great." The priority of Halbrook getting the experience necessary to convert him from fine raw material into a finished product leaves Vlastelica, who is only a junior himself, in the background. Tony can—and often does—move into a forward post. But with the hook shot his major weapon, he qualifies as a center and Coach Gill is concentrating on filling the forward slots with more traditional material. Gill, who has established himself as a shrewd strategist, during his long tenure in Corvallis, explains the strange story of Vlastelica this way: "For the first time in his life, Tony is subbing for someone, and he should be admired for the way he handles himself. He's playing behind a potentially great basketball player in Halbrook."

And Tony is pulling for Halbrook, too. Last Friday night when the giant center battled in a rebound after making some misplays, Vlastelica, who sat on the Beaver bench, turned around to a small OSC rooting section in back of him and flashed a broad smile of support.

Wulf and Knapp Top Vik Scorers

The Salem high Vikings meet the Lebanon Warriors in a non-league clash tonight at Salem high. Game time is 8 with the preliminary game between Lee Gustafson's Salem high JV's and the Lebanon JV's starting at 6:15.

Harold Hauk's Vikings will be after their seventh win against three losses. Over the week-end they beat Bend twice to give them a 3-1 Big Six league mark. Salem's losses this year were to Roosevelt, Corvallis, and Milwaukie.

Probable Starters
The probable starters for Salem are Bob Wulf at center, Tom Pickens and Wayne Erickson at the forwards, and Jim Knapp and Gordy Domogalla at the guards.

Wulf, the only junior in the starting line-up, leads the team in scoring with 95 points while letterman guard Jim Knapp is next with 86. Rounding out the next three Gordy Domogalla has 76, Tom Pickens 65, and Larry Springer has 58.

For the junior varsity Don Zeh leads with 75 while sophomore Bob Tom is close behind with 65. The junior varsity has won all its games with other high schools but lost twice over the week-end to the Salem high varsity reserves.

After tonight's game the next encounter for the Vikings is Friday at Eugene. This Big Six game is scheduled to be one of the top games for Salem this year.

The first home game was delayed a month by construction. When roll-away bleachers finally are installed in about three weeks the gym will hold 2000, and next year 2200 when bleachers are placed in the balconies to replace rented ones. Dallas won, 63-49.

Idaho, WSC Play Tonight To Keep in Division Race

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP)—The Idaho Vandals and Washington State Cougars meet here Tuesday night in a basketball game expected to make a three-way race of the scramble for Northern Division honors.

A win by the Vandals would boost them within half a game of Oregon's Ducks and the Oregon State Beavers, currently tied on top of the standings, and set the stage for a weekend battle of title contenders—a meeting here with the tall beavers. The Vandals, whose 2-2 conference records includes a win and a loss in earlier series with the two leaders, are expected to have little difficulty with the Cougars. The Staters, under Coach Jack Friel, have won one of four conference starts and have a 7-8 overall record.

Coach Chuck Finley will send a team of veterans led by Dwight Morrison against the undermanned Cougars, whose mainstay is high scoring forward Ron Benink.

Tuesday night's game is the only one on tap in the league until the weekend when the Coach Chuck Finley will send a team of veterans led by Dwight Morrison against the undermanned Cougars, whose mainstay is high scoring forward Ron Benink.

Tuesday night's game is the only one on tap in the league until the weekend when the Beavers play Idaho here and Washington meets Oregon at Eugene.

Schlundt Hits 47 for Big 10 Game Record

NEW YORK (AP)—At his present pace Big Don Schlundt is going to run out of records to break long before he finishes his spectacular basketball career at Indiana University.

The 6-foot-9 center, just approaching the midway point in his junior year, already owns the individual scoring records for many of the Midwest's main basketball arenas. Last night, he added two more prizes to his long string—the Big Ten mark and the record for his home floor at Bloomington.

Shooting with amazing accuracy, he scored 47 points as the hurrying Hoosiers ran away from Ohio State 94-72 for their sixth straight conference triumph.

The old Big Ten mark of 43 by Iowa's Dick Ives had stood for 10 years. Schlundt's total was 11 above the former Indiana fieldhouse mark as he connected on 16 field goals in 37 attempts and on 15 of 17 free throws.

Owens Leads US With Rebounding

CALDWELL, Idaho (AP)—R. C. Owens poured in 20 points and collected 32 rebounds Monday night as College of Idaho rolled to a 82-74 basketball victory over Lewis and Clark.

The 32 rebounds boosted Owens' total for the year to 369, tops for the nation.

New Gym Christened By Dragons

DALLAS—A crowd of about 1500 attended dedication of the new Dallas high school gymnasium last night and saw the Dragons defeat Woodburn, 63-49, in a Willamette Valley league counter.

Coach Gordon Kunkle explained that the gym's capacity now is 1200 and that many were standing, but when roll-away bleachers are installed around the floor and balconies it will accommodate 2200. Bleachers for the floor will arrive in two or three weeks, but seats for the floor will not be installed until next year.

Dallas now holds the WVI lead with a 4-1 record, but Estacada, with a 3-1 mark, will be at Sandy tonight and Silverton (3-1) will host Mt. Angel.

The Dragons scored within seconds on the opening tipoff with Rex Domaschofsky laying it in. Woodburn held Dallas through the first half, leading 20-19 midway in the second quarter. At halftime, Dallas managed a 33-27 margin. Rex Domaschofsky put Dallas ahead at 21-20 on a jump shot.

The third quarter, still close, found the Dragons hitting about 10 points in a row with a fast break that broke Woodburn's resistance. Harold Holdorf, Herb Brandli and Rex Domaschofsky scored in this surge.

Coach Ken Jacobsen's junior varsity initiated the floor with a 54-37 victory over Woodburn.

Rex Domaschofsky was high for Dallas with 18 points, 12 of them in the first half. Kunkle used all reserves in the second half. For Woodburn, Royce Norris had 14 and Jerry Plank 13.
