CHICAGO IN —Feed grains drew some support on the board of trade Wednesday while wheat and soy-beans rested after their upward surge of the previous session

Dealings slackened from Tues-day's rapid pace and gains in corn and oats never went above frac-tions. The upturn brought out a substantial increase in offerings of cash corn by the country, bookings being placed at 180,000 bushels.

An easier trend in wheat and soybeans was viewed by brokers as mainly technical, representing some profit taking by short term Wheat closed unchanged to 11/2
