City police said the accident occurred as the two cars were heading east on Center street with the Morin car to the left and slightly shead of the Royan and Parks also on predominant supports. ahead of the Bower car. Both drivers told officers they failed to see the 90-car freight train approaching from the south until they were in the intersection. Dr. Bower tried to stop and Morin attempted to get across the tracks. tempted to get across the tracks,

The train engine struck the Bower car near the right front door post, knocking it around in such a way that it struck the rear of the Morin car, which in turn was knocked clear of the tracks. The Bower car was carried on down the tracks for about 50 feet before the train came to a stop. Engineer J. Dewitt Hamel, Port-land, told officers he did not see individual heavy bull 17.00.
