Name Leaders At Sweet Home

SWEET HOME-Ivan Hoy, chief of the volunteer fire department, was named senior first citizen and LeRoy Schroeder, mathematics instructor at the Union high school. received the Junior First Citizen award during a dinner meeting attended by approximately 450 per-sons Monday night.

Presentation of the awards was made by Governor Paul L. Patter-son, who with Mrs. Patterson, succeeded in reaching Sweet Home over a route covering the back roads, thus avoiding a traffic tie-up over the principal highways. Hoy, as chairman of the plan ning commission, was largely in-strumental in putting over the program of constructing a city hall. He once served as Sweet Home's mayor and was named by the Junior Chamber of Commerce as the man who gave the membership the most inspiration. Hoy is a member of the school board.

Schroeder, in addition to his high school duties, served as cubmaster for Pack No. 31 for four years. He is an instructor in the Outdoor club for youth and was prominent in the safety campaign. He will serve as secretary for the Junior Chamber of Commerce this year. Enamber of Confinerce this year. Don Bonham, editor of the New Era, Sweet Home weekly paper, was presented with a plaque from the Keep Oregon Green associa-tion by Governor Patterson. The Much of the city of Corvallis was hav s work in keeping the public informed concerning the desira-bility of eliminating forest fires.

A check for $3,012.98, net pro-ceeds from the 1953 Frontier Days, was presented to Mrs. John Gil-bert, chairman of the library board. John D. Galey presided as toast-master and C. V. Patterson was installed as president of the Cham-
