WASHINGTON (P.—President Eisenbower has declared unalterable opposition to the constitutional amendment offered by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), on which the Senate to sabout to begin debate.

What is the Bricker amendment and what would it do?

Fist, the background. The 13 original states were held together by the Articles of Confederation from 1781 until the Constitution any law needed to put the treat would be required, plus a majority vote in Senate and House of the states a controlling hand in any treaty the central government might make with a foreign power. There could be no treaty the central ground in 1789.

The Articles of Confederation gave the states a controlling hand in any treations, like the North Atlantic Pact. Such a treaty would still require only a two-thirds Senate vote.

Suppose it was a treaty between this country and, say, Britain, and involved interstate commerce, requiring a law by Congress. Then the two-thirds Senate vote on the treaty would be required, plus a majority vote in Senate and House of the states a controlling hand involved interstate commerce, requiring a law by Congress. The talent show group of the bethel announced it would give its entertainment before the Ameranth on February 1, at the Scottish Rite on February -8, and at the meeting of Salem chapter, Order of Eastern Star, on February 27.

In this country now states have power. There could be no treaty the right to make their own divorce laws.

But the Founding Fathers decided the central government should have full authority in dealing with other nations. So they said in Article VI of the Constitution—to which all the states were unwilling to change their divorce laws to conform.

The other controversial clause says: "Congress shall have power The next meeting of the bethel
