

Suspect Burglar Held as Drunk

A man, believed to be the burglar who stole two purses from a Salem hotel room early Wednesday morning, is in custody of city police on a drunk charge pending further investigation into the case.

Police were called shortly after 4 a.m. to the hotel where Bonnie Blythe, Eugene, and Mary Williams, Portland, reported that they had been awakened by the sound of a door closing and found two purses belonging to Miss Blythe missing.

While officers were talking to the two women, a man came down the hall and began running when an officer spoke to him. The two officers quickly collared him and found that he had $24 in bills in his pocket in the same denominations the woman reported missing.

The man denied any connection with the theft, however, saying he was merely on his way to eat when stopped. A check of his room failed to turn up anything but one of the officers found the two purses wrapped in a cloth on the starway landing across the hall from the suspect's room. The money was missing but other items were intact, police said.

He was taken to the police station, where he said he was from Redding, Calif., but had been in Seattle and Portland. He had no identification papers on him, officers said. A check of the name he gave revealed that a person with a similar name was wanted here on two bad check charges. A witness identified him as the person wanted on one charge and another witness said he was not the man wanted on the other charge, police said.

Police are continuing the investigation before making any further arrests.
