Cadmus of Turner Will Manage Fat Lamb Show

By CLAUDE STEUSLOFF

By CLAUDE STEUSLOFF George Cadmus, Turner sheep man, was elected manager of the 1954 Marion County Fat L amb Show at the annual meeting of the show association held Thurs-Mrs. Karl B. Wipper, Turner. Cadmus was nominated by Henry Ahrens, who has managed the event for 16 years and wished to retire. Ahrens was commend-work in originating the show and developing it to its present status. Tupper was re-elected as presi-farman was again selected as seer-retary-treasurer. Louie Hennies

Tadmus, who operates a 400-acre sheep farm in Cloverdale district and formerly was sheep specialist at Oregon State college, said this change followed the wishes of Karl Steiwer, long time board member who was unable to attend last night's meeting due to illness.
Held annually the first Saturday in June, the show was started in 1938 by a group of Turner

Briedwell Hit by Storm Aftermath

AMITY — Results of recent storms still are being felt in the Briedwell district a mile west of Amity. Telephone and power out-Bges have been frequent. Monday night a sagging power wire, laden with snow, caught on a freight train breaking a number of connections at the substation putting it out of commission for some time. some time. In Amity Mrs. A. E. Broadwell was without heat or lights for some time because of a flooded furnace and a power outage.
