WHICH HOME?

ading the most suitable home that can be bought with funds available is the puzzle that confronts every family when the important decision to acquire a home of their own is made. That puzzle is made more complex by the fact that there are constantly more than 500 homes on the market in the Salem territory. No one salesman, no matter how anxious he may be to serve you; can possibly keep himself up-to-date each day with complete information on that many homes constantly moving in the market even if he devoted all his time to homes and much less if he divides his time between selling farms, motels, service stations, apartment houses, greery stores, etc., and homes.

HOUSE HUNTING MADE EASIER

With five salesmen constantly checking about 100 homes each and con-solidating their information at The HOMESELLERS headquarters house-hunting becomes comparatively easy. Make known to The HOME-SELLERS whate type of home you want, your preferred location and the price that you plan to pay and you will quickly have before you a detailed description of those homes on the market that come nearest meeting your requirements.

SALES MORE CERTAIN

The HOMESELLERS method of operation can make immediately available to people, who have homes to sell, information about what is going on in the homeselling market in their area, that will enable them to determine fairly accurately at what price and on what terms someone is likely to buy those homes within a given time.

AREA OPERATION

order to systematically assemble data on homes in the Salem territory it is divided into definitely outlined areas with salesmen's responsibilities and protected rights as follows: North of Center St. and Fruitland Rd. and East of Willamette river: LeRoy Barker, Res. Ph. 2-5595, homes above $9,000; Edna Morgan, Res. Ph. 4-6038, homes up to $9,000; South of Center St. and Fruitland Rd. and East of Willamette river, "Dick" Rogers, Res. Ph. 2-5550, homes above $9,000; Grace Tomlin, Res. Ph. 4-2438, homes up to $9,000; West of Willamette river, Percy Gorton, Res. Ph. 2-4092—all price brackets.
