Lorin G. Giesy Funeral Held

DONALD—Lorin Gilbert Giesy, 63, died Saturday, Jan. 30 at Aurora of a heart attack. He had been in ill health and under the doctor's care for the past year, but in spite of this, he had been a very active leader in the work of the Aurora Presbyterian church.

Mr. Giesy was born June 27, 1890 to Louisa (Ehlen) and Christian Giesy. His older sister, Ione Brett, lives in Fontana, Calif., and his younger sister, Gertrude Vadnais, resides in Portland. He is also survived by his wife, the former Lelia Benis, whom he married December 20, 1916, and a son, Bruce, who lives in Seattle and is a pilot for Pan American World Airways, Alaska Division, making daily flights between Fairbanks and Seattle.

Mr. Giesy engaged in farming and hop raising and in fact is the fourth generation of Giesy's to occupy the present farm on which he was born and which is located about two miles east of Donald.

Some of his ancestors were part of the famous Dr. William Keil party coming from Bethel, Mo., and stopping for a short time in the Willapa Valley in Washington.

It is said that Christian Giesy settled in the Willapa Valley in 1854, and was the advance guard of the historic Keil colony.

Recently the Pacific County Historical Society honored the long residence of the Giesys with a special program in Menlo, Wash., and a pilgrimage to the Willie Keil grave in the family cemetery adjoining the farm. He was active in the Masonic Lodge being a past master of Donald Lodge No. 168 AF & AM and he was also a past patron of the Eastern Star, Venus Chapter of Donald. The Masons had charge of the last rites Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 2 at Everhart and Kent Funeral Home, Aurora. Rev. Robert Hampel, pastor of the Aurora Presbyterian church, officiated. Vault entombment was at Portland Memorial.
