Going into another weekend of competition, the Oregon Webfoots lead the parade by one game. But with runnerup Oregon State, the pre-season favorite, hosting the hot-and-cold Washington State Cougars while the Webfoots rest, next week could find Oregon sharing the lead with the Staters from Corvallis.

To Meantime, Idaho, now in third place with a 4-4 won-loss record, the sa good chance to pull within a game of the leaders in classes with tailend Washington at Seattle, Washington has lost 14 of its figures this season and lacks the strength and experience of the veterans from Moscow.
