

Miss Burriss Bride This Afternoon at Sacramento

Trinity Episcopal church in Sacramento, Calif., was the setting for a wedding of interest to many Salem friends in this afternoon when Miss Lois Burriss, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston G. Burriss of this city, was married to Lt. Curtis Franklin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Franklin of Rob-Ben Point, Mountain Lakes, N. J.

The service was at 4 o'clock with the Rev. Miller B. Sale officiating. Basket of white stock and pink snapdragons decorated the church front for the service, and there were altar vases of white stock and pink carnations. For the music, William Wood sang, F. B. Brugge being the organist.

Mr. and Mrs. Burriss went south for the wedding and Mr. Burriss gave his daughter in marriage. The bride wore a white tulle and crepe dress with jacket. The dress was designed with fitted bodice trimmed with pearl and rhinestone beading and a flared skirt. The beading also trimmed the jacket. With the costume the bride wore a mauve colored hat and gloves. She carried a white

Rainbow Bible with white orchids and streamers.

Miss Marie Rhoten of Salem, now teaching in Sacramento, was honor attendant for the bride. She wore a powder blue knit suit and her flowers were a nosegay of pink rosebuds and forget-me-nots.

Kenneth Hillas of Canton, Ohio, was best man. He is a brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Robert S. Kimball of Reno, Nev., was usher.

The bride's mother wore a dusty rose suit with blue accessories and corsage of orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin flew west for the wedding. For the service Mrs. Franklin wore a gray faille suit with white accessories and corsage of orchids. Also attending the wedding were the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hillas of Canton, Ohio.

A dinner at the Senator hotel in Sacramento followed the ceremony.

The couple will be at home at 2323 H street, Apartment 3A, Sacramento. The bridegroom is stationed at Mather field and the bride is teaching in Sacramento.

FROM Peg in Washington

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31. Dear Madam: The cabinet views were favored with a beautiful spring-like day when they entertained at luncheon for Mrs. Eisenhower on Tuesday. And inside the dining room at the Sheraton Park it looked like spring, too, as bouquets of varied spring flowers emphasized the theme. At the table of the President's wife, her favorite shade of pink was used in the centerpiece. Each of the eleven tables had a hostess, including Mrs. Eisenhower, Mrs. Nixon, eight cabinet wives, Mrs. Walter Bedell Smith substituting for Mrs. John Foster Dulles. It was a friendly, "visiting" luncheon with guests lingering on after the meal was served. In the past it has been the custom for each of the cabinet wives to entertain during the year for the First Lady, but to conserve the latter's time, the wives decided this year to join together in the one event, and their other guests were wives of the top ranking officials in each of the departments. Mrs. Ralph A. Tudor, wife of the Undersecretary, was the Interior representative at Mrs. Eisenhower's table, and Mrs. Raymond A. Davis, a Seattleite, wife of the Special Assistant to the Secretary, was seated at Mrs. Nixon's table. Mrs. Larry Smyth was among the interior group. The wife of the President wore a black faille suit with a small white hat of the type she wears so frequently. Mrs. Douglas McKay's navy shantung had pink at neckline and cuffs, with matching hat.

Mrs. McKay was in charge of invitations and flowers.

Another event of the week was the luncheon honoring the President of Turkey and Mme. Bayar, which the combined men and women's press, radio, television, and photographic clubs sponsored. While the President spoke only in his native tongue, a skillful interpreter conveyed the message of the first Turkish president to ever visit this country. There was a friendly twinkle in his eyes even if he were unable to talk with his table neighbor, Mrs. Hazel Markel. Two personalities at the head table who received many admiring glances were Myrna Loy and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, as has often been said, Miss

Duo Wed On Tuesday

Mrs. Viola Bell McElroy was married to John E. Chandler at a candlelight ceremony performed by the Rev. B. J. Holland at the First Presbyterian church, Tuesday evening. The service was at 7:30 o'clock. The church was decorated with pink and white roses.

Mrs. Harry Gene was the organist and Jo Shettfield was the soloist. Candelights were Miss Ruby Chandler, a daughter of the bridegroom, and Miss Eva Daventport, his cousin.

The bride was given in marriage by Harry Gene and wore a navy blue suit with rhinestone trim. Accessories were pink and blue, and for something old, the bride wore a necklace that was more than 100 years old. Her flowers were pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hayhurst, son-in-law and daughter of the bridegroom, were the attendants. Mrs. Hayhurst also wore a blue suit and a corsage of roses.

L. A. Daventport and Bill Shepherd, Mill City, a nephew of the bride, ushered.

A reception followed in the church social rooms. Mrs. Milton Roten, niece of the bride, cut the cake and Mrs. Will Ramage poured. Mrs. Leon E. Barriek handled the gifts and Miss Donna Given passed the guest book.

After February 15 the couple will be at home at 4715 Auburn road.

Boots and Spurs

By SUSAN YOUNGQUIST

Doesn't spring weather make you feel good? With the scent of fresh green grass, and with "snappy" fresh air, it's a shame to stay indoors.

Evidently that's what many members thought last Wednesday night, because there were 31 riders out, making a complete drill team. After the drill, Mrs. Gene Southwick served refreshments which were well received. Incidentally, last week it was erroneously reported that Ervin Ward was captain of the Salem Saddle club. Instead, he is captain of the Salem Saddle club drill team. My apologies to all concerned.

You know, Saturday afternoons are supposedly the "kids' time" at the barn. Usually there is a drill in the arena and always there is fun. All kids are invited and urged to come out and to have themselves a time. The chaperons, Bus Youngquist and Glenn Conklin, are always there. That's Saturday afternoon, from 2 to 4. Why not try it? "Heart of my heart" . . . Valentine's day is slowly creeping upon us, so in honor of the day, a special "red and white" dance is being given by Saddle clubbers Saturday night. It will be, as usual, at the Four Corners Community hall, and will have, again as usual, the band from Albany to provide music. Special guests will be members of the Mid-Columbia Saddle club, who will be here for the show Saturday night and Sunday afternoon. Of course the no-host lunch at midnight is a part of the evening that is always looked forward to.

Speaking of the show, Saturday night and Sunday afternoon, the members of the aforementioned clubs will have a get-together. The Saturday night show is just the first get-around, but on Sunday afternoon, starting at 1, the public is invited to watch the proceedings. That's Sunday afternoon at 1, and Saturday night at 7:30. See you there!
