Shades of Douglas Fairbanks! The atmosphere of clashing sabers will be created at half-time of tonight's Willamette-Lewis and Clark basketball game at the W.U. gym.

A fencing exhibition is to be given by two firemen from the South Salem department—Kenneth Burnett and Bob Mohley. Burnett is the fencing instructor for the YMCA, and Mohley is experienced with the foil.

Other Northwest conference chase. As defending champions with four regulars back, Lewis and Clark was an early season favorite to enlarge its trophy case this year.

Servas broke the Pioneer four-year scoring record Tuesday, one held by Bob Pollard from 1946-1950, 1230 points in 106 games. Servas now has 11 stitches over his right eye, too, from a game injury at Linfield.

Other Records Held
Others of his records are most points for a season, 463; most points for single game, 36; highest per game average, 16.5; best shooting percentage for season, 46.4; most field goals for single game, 15; most free throws for season, 157; most free throws for single game, 13; most rebounds for season, 157; most free throws for single game, 13; most rebounds for season, 415; most rebounds for single game, 28.

Coach John Lewis said that he plans to open with his usual quintet—Pete Reed and Capt. Dick Hoy at forward, Tom Gooding at center and Duane Shield and Jerry McCallister at the guards.

Lewis and Clark, coached by Eldon Fix in his seventh season there, probably will start Servas and Hal Adrian, forwards; freshman Loren Nielsen, center; and Duane Brady and Gary Jackson, guards.

In the preliminary, Coach Jerry Frei's WU Bearkittens will battle the Pioneer frosh at 6:10 both Friday and Saturday nights.

Bears to Play Trojans Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Pacific Coast Conference Southern division basketball swings back into gear tonight at California fights to hold its lead.

The Golden Bears, sporting a 4-0 record, go up against second place Southern California at Berkeley in a two game series that should be the best on the coast. Both teams are big, and both play hard.

The other two teams in the Southern Division, Stanford and UCLA, tangle in a pair of contests at Westwood.

Six to Go Bill Olson of Salem and two husky steelhead indicate that coast angling has improved. Olson and Phil Kerber, also of Salem, both took limits early this week on Salmon river. Most productive lures were cherry bobbers and metallic white hotshots. The two fish above are numbers 13 and 14 of the season for Bill.

OREGON AFIELD
Wildlife in the state of Oregon is responsible for a 160 million dollar industry, according to a recent news release from the game commission. In '53, 434,660 licensed resident hunters and anglers enjoyed our out of doors, and 28,481 nonresidents also participated in harvesting the fish and wildlife. It has been estimated that the average sportsman spends around $300 annually in his quest for fish and game.

If you think, at first consideration, that you don't spend that much, take a second look at the past year. Not only did you buy fishing and hunting gear, but you spent a lot on gas, oil, outdoor clothes, food, lodging, and a jillion and one other things. Maybe you support a gun-dog or two, as does the writer, and this further increases your yearly investment.

ONE BIG "CORPORATION" PAYS DIVIDENDS
All in all, the fish and game of the state result in big business—a business in which all of us are stockholders. Everyone who uses the wide-open spaces should feel a personal responsibility for keeping himself informed about the resources of the state, and should take an active part in helping perpetuate them. At the rate of population increase, the pressure on our wildlife is growing more and more severe.

Thus, every member of this "corporation" must do his conscientious best if the firm is to declare an annual dividend, in terms of fish and game. The days of the game hog are fast growing to a close—it just isn't popular or safe, ever, to brag about law violations anymore. Folks are beginning to realize that the game belongs to everybody, and he who takes more than his fair share steals from all of us.

VISITORS WANT TO MEET STEELIES
One of the nice things about writing a column is that you meet lots of interesting people. Yesterday Jack Campbell of Salem and his brother, Dr. Campbell, dropped into the office to inquire about the steelheading. Dr. Campbell hails from the Rocky Mountain country (can't recall whether the state was Wyoming or Montana) and he was anxious to tangle with some of our big, rough steelies. We advised the Campbells to try Salmon river, from which we have heard glowing reports this week, and they're probably over there right at this moment. We hope they tangle with a fish or two—if they don't, we may have to start living under an assumed name at a different address!

WEEK-END ANGLING PROSPECTS GOOD
Tony Buisman at the Riverside Boathouse on the Siletz reports the river rapidly improving, with a promising week-end ahead. Tony, though he rents boats, informs us that the best fishing will be had from the bank!

Roy Vincent, Coast Highway Cabins, Hebo, reports the sky overcast this morning. The Nestucca is at the 3.6 stage, dropping. On Wednesday many fine fish were taken on the Nestucca, including a 16 pound 10 ounce fish caught by Jim Stone of Salem. Warm weather put snow water in the river yesterday, but slightly colder temperatures today should halt the run-off, and week-end angling could be good. Three Rivers is good at present—has been all week. The Salmon river, very good earlier, is quite low now, but this will appeal to artificial lure anglers. Should be an interesting angling week-end—if you catch any fish, give us a call so we can mention it in this column.

Red Lynn Sold To Lubbock Club

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—The Hollywood Stars have sold Red Lynn, 38-year-old relief pitcher, to Lubbock of the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Lynn will manage the Lubbock club. He worked in 53 games for the Pacific Coast League champion Stars last year and finished with a 10-4 record and a 3.72 earned run average.

Lynn was with Los Angeles and Portland before coming to the Stars.

WINS TRAPSHOOT
RENO, Nev. (UP)—Al Kerhli, of Portland, Ore., won the opening handicap of the annual Western Mid-Winter Trapshoot Thursday, downing 98 out of 100 targets from 20 yards.

The tournament continues through Sunday, with some 150 shotgunners participating.

Oklahoma Aggies Stop Wichita, Hold 18-1 Mark

By BEN PILEGAR
NEW YORK (UP)—The Oklahoma A&M Cowboys are making certain they won't be left on the sidelines when the Western Regional NCAA Basketball Tournament opens on their home court in Stillwater next month.

They took their biggest stride far towards the Missouri Valley Conference title—and its automatic NCAA invitation—last night by clipping Wichita 59-51 in a fierce struggle. The victory was the Aggies' fourth without a loss in league play and put the second black mark against the Wheatshockers' conference hopes. Wichita has lost only three times in 22 starts, but two of the defeats have come against Missouri Valley foes.

Made It Tough
Wichita made it tough all the way for the Oklahomans and led twice in the final three minutes. Laysup by Clayton Carter and V. R. Arhoushe helped decide the issue in favor of the Aggies.

Cleo Littleton of the losers was high man with 24 points against 21 by Bob Mattick of A&M.

The Aggies, ranked fifth in the latest Associated Press poll, now have an 18-1 record.

Boyle Resigns As Stayton's Head Coach

STAYTON—Joe Boyle, head coach at Stayton high school for the past seven years, resigned yesterday from his head coaching duties although he will remain in his job as athletic director and track coach.

Boyle has compiled an enviable record while at Stayton winning the Capital League basketball championship four years out of six and the Capital League track title three out of five years. He also captured the football crown once in the two years he coached that sport.

For the past two years, Coach Boyle's basketball and track squads have been runners-up in district play, losing out only to Salem. Boyle said: "If I continued on in my present capacity, I feel that my health would have suffered, but I am happy to be able to remain as athletic director."

A new basketball coach will be sought according to Supt. Morey, to take over coaching duties at the beginning of next school year.

Boyle is a graduate of Linfield college where he played football and basketball. He coached three years at Sheridan high school, then went to Stayton.

Junior Billiard Tourney Slated At B & B Court

A junior city pocket billiards tournament for boys under 18 is being planned at the B & B Bowling court, Tom Wood, proprietor, said today.

Deadline for entries is Feb. 20, with matches starting the week of Feb. 22.

Wood said that each player will be given a chance to attend classes each week either Saturday afternoon or Saturday night, when instruction and tourney rules will be given.

A trophy will go to the city champion and prizes for flight winners and for high run in each flight.

Tournament play will be 50-point matches of 14.1 rack call shot pocket billiards. Flights of eight players will play seven matches, one match with each other player and one match a week.

Each entry will pay a dollar fee and 50 cents for each match. Wood added. The entry list will be limited to 24.

PERMIT EXTENDED

PORTLAND (UP)—The city council yesterday extended for two years the permit under which the Portland Beavers use the Vaughn street baseball park.

Golfer Cudd Rated No. 1 Oregon Amateur Athlete

By A. C. JONES
Capital Journal Sports Editor

PORTLAND—Slim, friendly and relaxed Bruce Cudd officially became Oregon's outstanding amateur athlete of 1953, winning the Bill Hayward trophy last night over a first-class field of champions.

The Portland university golfer's ability to win under pressure took him to the semi-finals of the National Amateur tournament last fall. Only recently he carded the lowest amateur score in a Los Angeles Open event.

Celebrities Plentiful
Sports celebrities were plentiful at the Columbia Athletic club dining room at the sixth annual Banquet of Champions, sponsored by the Oregon Sports Writers and Broadcasters association. A crowd of 375 paid $5 each for the roast beef, baked potato and apple pie and to hear Bill Veck, the well-known former president of the Cleveland Indians and St. Louis Browns.

Veck's banquet talk was not intended to be quoted, for it consisted of one witty remark after another, and it wasn't until a press conference afterward that he lapsed into a serious vein.

Eleven persons received plaques as most outstanding performer in their particular sports field last year. They were as follows:

Golf—Bruce Cudd.
Swimming—Al Sehorn, coach of Portland's AAU team and chairman of the National AAU Women's Outdoor championships.
High School Football—Hal Duffy, Central Catholic center.

Softball—Betty Evans Grayson, pitcher for world champion Portland team.
Coaching—Harry Scarff, of Central Catholic's state champions.

Baseball—Royce Lint, 23-game winner for the Portland Beavers, and Rich Carlasco, Oregon City promoter of semi-pro baseball.
Motocycling—John Martinovich, first man to win two national hill climbing titles.

Basketball—Chet Noe, former Northern division scoring record holder with Oregon who starred last year in the AAU national.
Football—Ron Pfeister, Oregon's all-coast center.

Bowling—Stan Gifford, Portland.

US Loses Trust Suit Against IBC

NEW YORK (UP)—The government has lost its civil antitrust suit against the International Boxing Club of New York and Illinois.

After hearing 40 minutes of argument yesterday, Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan threw out the monopoly action, saying he was following a principle used by the U.S. Supreme Court last fall in dismissing an antitrust action against organized baseball.

In an action brought in March 1952, the government accused the IBC of conspiring to violate the Sherman Antitrust Act by monopolizing championship bouts.

During the 1953 season the Cincinnati Redlegs played 77 road games and his 77 home runs in opposition ball parks.
