OSC Beavers Bounce WSC, 65-41

OSC Beavers, center Wade Halbrook, helped the Beavers close the gap separating Oregon and Oregon State for Northern Division lead honors as he spearheaded a 65-41 trouncing of the Washington State Cougars last night at Gill Coliseum.

Now boasting a 6-3 record to the University of Oregon's 7-3, tonight's second go with WSC will prove decisive. With the Washington Huskies' win over Idaho, the conference play points more and more toward an Oregon-Oregon State race for top honors.

Dominated Boards 50-24. An inspired Oregon State quintet sparked in every department of play, outboarding the Cougars 54 to 24. It was Halbrook, however, who set the Beaver edge. It was one of Swede's nights as he outboarded, out-defended, and out-manuevered the Cougars. Howie McCants, 6'9" WSC center, couldn't hold the big Swede who hooked, tipped, and laid in 12 points in the first half and 19 in the second. McCants scored but seven, five points coming in the third when Halbrook and the starters had been relieved by a fresh quintet.

Reggie Halligan, forward, tallied the first OSC score in the first minute of play with a jump shot from the key. Three quick points by Halbrook who hooked, tipped, and laid in 12 points in the first half and 19 in the second. McCants scored but seven, five points coming in the third when Halbrook and the starters had been relieved by a fresh quintet.

Halligan, Halbrook, and Tex Whiteman, hook shooting forward, personally accounted for all 20 points as the Beavers tallied 20 to the Cougars' six in the first quarter.

Cougars' Accuracy Lacking. A combination of rugged defense, sparked by forward Jay Dean of OSC, and very ragged shooting by the Cougar quintet held the WSC shooting average in the first quarter to .059 while OSC was hitting .429 percentage of their shots.

Ron Bennick, high with 18 for the Cougars, began splitting the hoop in the second quarter as he tallied seven of the 11 points scored in the period. Running mate Rehder, second high with 14, bucketed the other four points. Oregon State opened scoring, however, and quickly rolled to a 28-11 margin before Cougar defense, and missed shots slowed them while the Cougars closed the gap to 13 points. The half ended 30-17.

In the third period of play, after six minutes, the starting lineup had boosted the score to 47-25. Slat's Gill benched his starters and substituted a new team. In the last three minutes, the reserves couldn't penetrate the defense while WSC quickly tallied 5, all by McCants. Third quarter ended 47-30.

The original starters returned in the fourth and opened scoring with a layin by Halbrook, the hoop in the second quarter as he tallied seven of the 11 points scored in the period. Running mate Rehder, second high with 14, bucketed the other four points. Oregon State opened scoring, however, and quickly rolled to a 28-11 margin before Cougar defense, and missed shots slowed them while the Cougars closed the gap to 13 points. The half ended 30-17.

Steelhead Fishing To Be Only Fair. PORTLAND (UP)—The weekend outlook for steelhead fishermen is generally only fair, the State Game Commission said today in its weekly report.

Chemawa Tips O.S.D. 51 to 48. Gallineau scored three points in the last minute to break a 48-48 tie into a 51-48 Chemawa win over the Oregon School for the Deaf. It was the second straight Marion County B league loss by a close score for O.S.D., as they lost in an overtime to Jefferson last Tuesday.

Chemawa had led 13-12 at the end of the first quarter, but the O.S.D. Panthers grabbed the lead just after the start of the second canto and led 31-25 at the half. The Panthers led at the start of the final stanza, 38-35, and were still leading until the final minute.

Owens Retains Lead Though Idle for Week

Without playing a game the past week, R. C. Owens of the College of Idaho still holds the Northwest conference scoring leadership this week with 158 points in eight games. Biggest change in the upper echelon was Parker of Whitman, who came up to third place after being unrated in the top 21 last week. Hubert of Pacific added 13 in one contest to remain second.

Sonford of Linfield dropped from third to fourth and Pete Reed of Willamette climbed from 21st to 14th and now holds an average of 15.4 in five games. Dick Hoy, Jerry McCullister and Tom Gooding are all ranked within the next seven.
