career was a failure.

Oregon will observe Valentine's Day next Sunday as the state's 95th birthday.

There won't be any official celebration of the event, but there is some talk of a big centennial celebration in 1959.

The people of Oregon Territory were hard to convince they should organize a state. The Oregon Blue Book says they voted three times against it.

Finally, in 1857, the people voted to call a convention in Salem to draft a state constitution. The people voted for the constitution, and a state government was organized in 1858, without waiting for Congress to act.

John Whiteaker, a Democrat, was the first governor. He was the first governor's chair on Feb. 14, 1859, when Oregon was cated in the governor for statehood got under way in 1853 when Washing. The organized out of the old Oregon Territory. This left organist it.

And since it's Linoln's birthday through the second of the constitution, and a state government was organized in 1858, without waiting for Congress to act.

Thomson Case In Recess

NEWPORT, Ore. A — The trial of Richard Thomson, 25, accused of trying to commit the perfect slaying, is in recess for the weekend, but the case may go to the law practice which led him back into politics and the presidency, jury Monday.

Testimony ended, and rival attorneys were in their final arguments when court adjourned Thursday. Because of Lincoln's Birthday, Circuit Judge Fred McHenry recessed court until Monday.

Thomson is accused of slugging his business partner, James Meul-his business partner, James Meul-31, on the head with a piece of pipe, putting Meuler in a car and sending it over a bluff to crash against rocks on the ocean shore, The motive was to collect $20,000 insurance on Mculer's life, the state contends.

Meuler survived, however, being thrown free before the car hit the

The state produced a surprise The state produced a surprise witness, before testimony closed, had broken all to try to prove the point that Thomson sent the car over, then stood on the edge of the road and watched it plunge.
