16 CTL Drivers Merit Awards

Application was made today to the National Safety Council for "Safe Driving Awards" earned by 16 Salem City Transit drivers during the year 1953.

These awards, highly prized by all professional drivers, are awarded annually by the National Safety Council to any driver completing the year without a chargeable accident.

The qualifications necessary to earn this award are extremely severe. An example of the severity is that any intersection accident, regardless of right of way is charged against a professional driver. The management of the City Transit Lines is proud of the safety records of the men operating its equipment in Salem. These 16 drivers drove 372,521 accident free miles in city traffic during the year 1953.

Following is a list of the drivers for whom "Safe Driving Awards" were applied and the number of consecutive years each has driven without a chargeable accident.

H. Harrison, 13 years; E. Dolan, 10 years; E. J. Ryan, 9 years; J. L. Ankeny, 8 years; O. K. Hale, 8 years; H. V. Cross, 8 years; L. C. Epley, 6 years; N. J. Yagle, 6 years; B. W. Miller, 5 years; E. D. Winn, 5 years; W. M. Aebler, 4 years; F. M. Stewart, 4 years; J. A. Reese, 3 years; Sandau, 2 years; D. E. Heenan, 1 year; F. A. Meier, 1 year.

Neuberger Bitterly Assails Doug McKay

By CLAUDE STEUSLOFF

Richard Neuberger, Portland politician, took Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay apart and scattered the remnants on perimeters of numerous dam sites of the nation in his address "Betrayal of Public Power" before yesterday's session of the State Farmers Union convention in Salem.

Neuberger charged McKay has withdrawn the Hells Canyon site which former Secretary of Interior Chapman had filed; has with one stroke, ended the industrial low power rate from Bonneville; established local control of power sites "which means only the return to power companies and demonstrates the hypocrisy of the whole thing."

As example of what he called McKay's lack of sincerity, Neuberger cited the case of water power in New York state where Governor Dewey, backed by 15 million people and ample funds to finance public power projects, "has twice asked for state control of water resources and instead got control by private power companies."

Cordon Says

Senator Cordon says that the project would bring years of delay. Approval by four state legislatures would be required. As to cost, he said, Oregon cannot even finance necessary remedial education to say nothing of outlay needed for a big dam.

Neuberger posed the question: "If McKay had been Secretary of Interior in 1933 instead of Harold I. Ickes, does anyone in the audience think Bonneville, McNary, The Dalles or other public power projects of the Northwest would have happened?"

He concluded that the Hells Canyon project is a test case and "power utilities are calling the tune today."

Insurance coverage for foreign makes of automobiles came in for discussion during the election of auto and casualty insurance delegates to the Farmers Union national convention at Denver.

Delegate estimates on foreign car owners desiring the insurance ran from three or four to thousands. Warren Creech of Bethel and John Shepard of Aumsville were elected as delegates.

Mrs. Nina Simmons, Salem, was elected insurance delegate to the national convention.

Walter Houser of Molalla was chosen as alternate delegate. He will double as first alternate delegate on both the life insurance and auto and casualty insurance groups.

A feature of the afternoon program was an excellent presentation of five numbers by the Salem high school girls chorus. Howard Miller directed the 32 member group.

Committee reports, resolutions and election of officers will occupy the sessions today. At 7 p.m. the junior banquet and recreation is scheduled at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall.

Langer Asks

His nomination was submitted to the Senate for confirmation on Jan. 11 and since then has been under consideration by the Judiciary Committee.

Sen. Knowland of California, Senate Republican leader, said Friday he saw no reason why the Judiciary Committee should not receive an FBI report on Warren if it wanted one. He remarked there is "no question in anyone's mind that the chief justice will stand up well" in any such report.

Knowland said he would not want to see confirmation held up by a dispute between the Justice Department and the Judiciary Committee on the issue.

No senator has announced he would vote against confirming Warren.

Gusty Storm

Seattle evidently bore the brunt of the wind, which struck at times in gusts of 65 miles per hour. It snatched a 43-foot cruiser from its moorings in Lake Washington and crashed it into a piling. The craft, owned by Russell Curtis, sank in 20 feet of water. A houseboat also was blown from its location.

Three 150-foot steel stacks at the United States Plywood Corp. plant toppled into the Lake Washington ship canal. Power lines snapped in parts of the city and some areas were without service for an hour or more. Trees fell, some blocking streets.

Vivid lightning flashes and drumrolls of thunder added to the nightmarish performance of the wind. The storm had subsided in Seattle by mid-morning and the U.S. Weather Bureau said the worst had passed.

Harvey Praises

After paying tribute to Abraham Lincoln "as one representing humanity in its finest aspirations," Harvey went into the more partisan part of his talk. He called on Republicans "to work now to assure a friendly congress after 1954."

Reciting accomplishments of the Eisenhower administration, Harvey declared government may be big, perhaps too big, but it is a clean and good government now.

Communism is now on the run, definitely on the defensive, he said. Referring to other aspects of the Eisenhower administration, the congressman reminded his listeners "there is no blood flowing now in Korea."

The "new attitude" in international affairs was another point stressed by the speaker.

"There is no feeling of doubt now as to where this country is going, the new policy emanating from strength, not weakness or fear, and from a feeling of confidence," he said.

Improvement in the tax situation, a stopping of the "ravishing effects of inflation," a new confidence in the free enterprise system and progress in reorganization plans for the government, were other accomplishments cited by the speaker.

Cracking the Whip Cracking the whip are P. K. Pomorenko, Soviet minister of culture, and Leonid I. Brezhnev, rapidly rising former Moldavian strongman. They quickly assailed the Kazakh leadership for extremely low harvest yields of agricultural crops, especially wheat and cotton; for low productivity in stockbreeding; for seriously lagging behind in grain, meat, milk, wool, beet, cotton and other products.

The emphasis was on agriculture — key subject of attack in recent Soviet purges under Premier Georgi Malenkov. But the criticism spoke pointedly of Kazakh's "colossal reserves and natural wealth."

The heavy rains of Friday night and Saturday have once more resulted in numerous complaints of flooded fields, yards and ditches reaching County Engineer Hedda Swart and members of the county court.

In many instances the complaints are repetitions of those heard before this season and most are caused by the fact that available ditches and creeks, running bank full are not able to drain off the precipitation as fast as it falls.

Surface water may be seen in many places throughout the central Willamette valley area, but a cessation in the rainfall will result in much of it draining off rapidly.

E. F. McDonald
Zenith Hearing Aids
Chicago, Illinois

Dear Commander McDonald:
May I say, right off, that I plan to tell my friends and customers, in an open letter, the same thing I'm telling you. I want them to know exactly how I stand where your company is concerned and how proud I am to be selling Zenith Hearing Aids.

I go all out for Zenith. I can't say enough about the new, tubeless, 3-transistor "Royal-T" Hearing Aid and Zenith's policy. I do a lot of talking about Zenith's low price and 10-day money-back guarantee and 5-year service plan. But I shout loudest (even when a customer isn't hard of hearing) about what you call Zenith's "hear-better features." They add up to the greatest combination of electronic and engineering achievements I've ever run across in one hearing aid! What I also want to compliment you about is something you emphasize in your ads all the time. You say to people, again and again, "see your physician before buying any hearing aid." I wish everyone would take that advice.

I have during the past 10 years had folks come into my office and want a hearing aid, when all they really needed was a little wax taken out of their ears. I have many folks come in who really do need a hearing aid, and they think I'm some kind of an ear-specialist. I'm not. But some hearing-aid ads give the impression that a dealer is practically an ear-drum specialist or a mastoid-master. That just isn't true... which brings me right back to the best and most honest advice a hearing-aid manufacturer ever gave the public: see your physician first.

And here's something else I thank Zenith for. It's that 10-day money-back guarantee. It lets a hard-of-hearing person try out his Zenith Aid under all hearing conditions in his home, with his family, in church, in the theater and at work. And he can check with his physician at the same time.

Because of the low selling price and my low margin of profit on Zenith Hearing Aids, I do not accept used instruments in trade—moreover, I don't believe in selling secondhand instruments to anyone. My customers like the fact that they can buy the Zenith "Royal-T" for only $125, keep their vacuum-tube hearing aid for a spare and have two hearing aids for less than what some other transistor aids would cost even with a trade-in allowance of $50.00 or so. And my customers really go for that unbelievably low battery operating cost for 15c a month! And now, Commander, I'd like to ask you a favor... although I know it isn't necessary: keep up the good work. Stick to your policy of better hearing at lower cost. Stick to your policy of better hearing through sound advice to the readers of your ads. I'm 100% back of your principles and policies because they are what have made my business grow by leaps and bounds. They've sold more Zenith Hearing Aids for me, and made my business more successful on small-profit Zeniths than it could ever be by selling far less high-profit hearing aids. I feel proud of the fact I have helped you in your crusade to lower the cost of hearing.

Am I happy? Well, I'm as happy as my Zenith-wearing customers. And that's plenty happy!

Sincerely,
Henry E. Morris
