Civil Services Exams Coming

Examinations for the post of fire marshal and for several vacancies in the city police department will be held about April 1, it was decided by the city civil service commission at a meeting at the city hall Wednesday.

The fire marshal post, created July 1 by city council action and provided for in the last city budget, will generally entail supervision of training programs, fire prevention and inspection work, is currently being handled by acting Fire Marshall Glenn Shedeck. Shedeck, officially a battalion chief, was appointed to the temporary position last July by Fire Chief Ellsworth L. Smith.

Exams for patrolmen will be given to men wishing to join the police force and to those men now serving on temporary duty who were hired to fill vacancies since the last examinations were held.

Dates and places for the examinations will be announced later, the commission said.

Promotion of Meat Proposed

SAN FRANCISCO — Western meat packers were urged Thursday night to find new ways to get people to eat more meat—especially economy cuts of beef and luncheon varieties.

G. F. Chambers, board chairman of the Western States Meat Packers Assn., meeting here, said the industry needs a "highly intensive promotional campaign" to increase meat consumption, principally beef.

"All signs point to extra heavy marketings of grass-fed cattle later this year, which will call upon all segments of the industry to cooperate in a consumer education campaign in the use of economy cuts of beef," he said.

Another plea for cooperation within the industry was sounded by Jay Taylor of Amarillo, Tex., president of the American National Cattlemen's Assn.

Stabilization of the cattle business on a profitable basis can come about only if the entire cattle and beef industry continues and strengthens its cooperation for the good of its members and the people it serves, he said.
