

GOING TO FAR PLACES

This Salem family left Thursday afternoon by United Air Lines plane for a six-months tour of islands in the Pacific. From left, Dr. W. G. Burrows, psychiatrist and staff member of Oregon State Hospital; Mrs. Burrows and sons Terrence and Hillary. Most of the voyage will be by freighter and will lead to London where Dr. Burrows will study for more than a year. When they return they will live in Salem.

Grand Warden Visits Rebekahs

WOODBURN—Robert Massey, grand warden of the Grand Lodge of Oregon, I. O. O. F., was a guest at the regular meeting of Home Rebekah Lodge Tuesday night and was introduced and welcomed.

An invitation was read to attend a reception for Margie Gentry, inside guardian of the Rebekah Assembly, to be held Feb. 27 by Mt. Jefferson Rebekah Lodge at Jefferson.

Contributions were voted to the Oregon Society for Crippled Children and also to the I.O.O.F. educational loan fund.

Mrs. E. C. Peyton, noble grand, appointed a committee to get estimates on repairs to the I.O.O.F. hall. Appointed were Guy Engle, Mrs. Edith Frenz and Mrs. Emma Weber.

Plans were made to have a miscellaneous auction and "pie walk" at the next meeting, March 2, to raise funds for the repairs to the hall. Mrs. Clementine Stange and Mrs. Emma Weber will be auctioneers and Miss Laura Bonny will be clerk. Planned pot-luck refreshments of salad and sandwiches will be served. Mrs. Alfred Moon will be chairman of the kitchen committee and Mrs. Ernest Livesay will be in charge of the program. Invitations were issued to Tryphena Rebekah lodge of Silverton and Oak Rebekah lodge of Molalla to be guests on that evening.

Under "good of the order" Mr. Massey spoke on the United Nations Youth Pilgrimage and also announced a ham dinner to be served by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Quincy at the Quinby hall Sunday, Feb. 28, from 1 to 4 p.m. to raise funds for the Youth Pilgrimage. All Rebekahs and Odd Fellows are invited. Also on Feb. 26 at the same hall a contest will be held from this district for delegates to the Youth Pilgrimage to which the members were invited.

Mrs. Peyton appointed Mrs. Alfred Moon and Mrs. Frank Wright as captains to choose teams for a contest on which points will be given to be held during the next three meetings. A period of games followed the meeting.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Clementine Stange, Mrs. Oleta Murphy, and Mrs. Julius Granmer. Patriotic decorations of red, white and blue streamers and flags were used in honor of the birthday of George Washington.

CHINESE EX-POW'S WELCOMED
TAIPEI, Formosa (U) — Seven Chinese ex-prisoners of war, held by Indian authorities in Korea on charges of slaying fellow prisoners who wanted to return to North Korea, arrived Friday night and were welcomed as heroes.

Military officials said Marilyn sang for upwards of 100,000 men at nine major shows.

The blonde actress ended three days of frontline singing for tens of thousands of soldiers, called her visit "the high point of everything."

Before leaving Korea Miss Monroe told newsmen "I never felt like a movie star before — really in my heart — before I came to Korea."

As Marilyn stepped from the plane DiMaggio held her by the shoulders and kissed her gently. Only a few Air Force men were on hand, in sharp contrast to the thousands who greeted Marilyn at every stop in Korea. Military officials said her arrival here had not been heralded.

Manion Thinks He Was Fired Because He Talked too Much

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (U) — Dr. Clarence E. Manion is a great talker. He seems to think, now that President Eisenhower has fired him, that he talked himself out of a job.

He said recently that in the two years since he resigned as dean of the Notre Dame University Law School he has been in every state making speeches to so many business groups "I have called the roll of American industry."

Last September 4 Eisenhower picked the 57-year-old Manion as chairman of the important Commission on Intergovernmental Relations. On Feb. 17 Manion announced the White House had sacked him.

The White House gave no reason. Manion implied it was because he had made public speeches supporting the Bricker amendment on treaties, which Eisenhower opposed. The president said it would tie his hands in foreign affairs.

Sen. Bricker (R-O) proposed a constitutional amendment to limit the scope of treaties so they don't override powers reserved to the states and to give congress power to regulate other international executive agreements.

Manion is a crusader for decentralized government and more self-reliance on the part of the states. And in the field of foreign affairs he has strong convictions which may seem unique.

Other republicans in the senate bitterly criticized the firing and one member of the commission quit in protest. This was Rep. Noah Mason (R-Ill.). The 25-man commission was composed of five senators, five representatives, some government agency heads, and distinguished citizens.

In addition to speculation about his views, Manion has been criticized for spending too much time speechmaking in general and not enough in the headquarters of his commission.

The government hands over to the states yearly $2,800,000,000 in aid in 22 programs covering such fields as public health, highways, education, housing. The commission was supposed to find out where federal-state duplication could be avoided and some aid dropped.

Although the commission was supposed to finish its work by March 1, its last three members weren't sworn in until November 20, hardly time for such a huge job. It's going to ask for another year's time before reporting.

Before leaving Korea Miss Monroe told newsmen "I never felt like a movie star before — really in my heart — before I came to Korea."

Snikpoh Gives Wilder Play

The three-act play by Thornton Wilder, "Our Town," will be presented by Salem High's Snikpoh Dramatic Society in the Salem High Auditorium, March 12. Miss Margaret Burroughs is directing the cast.

"Our Town" is known for its unusual characteristics. The stage is devoid of scenery, and the usual stage properties, ladders represent staircases and boxes represent tables and chairs. No elaborate costumes will be used.

Grover's Corners, New Hampshire is the setting for the entire play. The first act, "Daily Life," begins about 1901, just before dawn. "Love and Marriage," the second act, takes place in 1904, and the third act is set in the Grover's Corners cemetery in 1913.

The leading part of the play, the Stage Manager, is being played by Jim Boudreau. This role is another unusual feature of the play as the Stage Manager not only "manages" the stage, he introduces the character, sets the scenes, plays some of the parts and serves as the philosopher.

Emily Webb, a young girl, is played by Carol Da Metz. Ralph Sippel and Pat Burres are in the roles of Mr. and Mrs. Webb, Emily's parents. Ron Maddy and Pat O'Malley play the parts of Doctor and Mrs. Gibbs. Jim Brown is cast as George Gibbs, their son. Others in the cast are Jerry Hunsaker, Sharon Bowles, Willard Bone, Roger Moorhead, Dick Richardson, LeAnna Seal, Richard AuFranc, and Lorraine Oen.

The play was originally produced by Jed Harris in 1937 and 1938 in Henry Miller's theatre in New York City. Frank Craven and Martha Scott played the parts of the Stage Manager and Emily Webb.

Salute to Salem in Telephone Magazine

Salem is saluted in the February issue of Pacific Telephone Magazine, published by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company.

The cover picture for the magazine is of four Salem telephone employees, Dick Smith, Bill Templeman, Orville Welsh and Vic Blake stopped for their lunch near the Oregon State hospital.

"Salem—Capital of Oregon," is the title of the first article in the magazine. This article briefly gives the history of Salem and information on its location, products, industries and growth.

Accompanying the article are a number of pictures taken about the city. Included in the pictures are the capitol building; Presbyterian and Catholic churches; Collins hall at Willamette; members of the state board of control; Sec. of Interior Douglas McKay on a visit home; Mayor Al Loucks and the local manager of the telephone company, Elmer Berglund; the Salem business office of the telephone company; the city hall; the court house under construction; a picture of one of the telephone company employees, Tom Bachelder, leaving for work; and shots in the telephone office here.

The mayor said he talked during the day with members of train crews and railroad officials. He was impressed, he said, with the drop arm barriers used at some Portland crossings, and which are being demanded at some of the Salem crossings.

The observations he made will be applied to a hearing that is to be resumed shortly after March 1 before the Public Utilities Commission in which the city is demanding safeguards at Salem grade crossings.

Other republicans in the senate bitterly criticized the firing and one member of the commission quit in protest. This was Rep. Noah Mason (R-Ill.). The 25-man commission was composed of five senators, five representatives, some government agency heads, and distinguished citizens.

In addition to speculation about his views, Manion has been criticized for spending too much time speechmaking in general and not enough in the headquarters of his commission.

Vietnamese Officials Approved Big-4 Plan

SAIGON, Indochina (U) — Vietnamese officials said Friday they approved the Big Four's decision to meet with Red China in an effort to settle the Indochina War, but the settlement must make it impossible for the Communist-led Vietminh take over Indochina. They outlined four conditions which they termed essential for a peace treaty or armistice to prevent Ho Chi Minh's rebels from obtaining politically the full conquest they have not been able to obtain by military means.

France bears the brunt of the war. But Viet Nam, largest of the three associated states of Indochina has more than 200,000 troops in training or fighting as allies of the French. The Berlin decision that Korean and Indochina affairs would be taken up at Geneva April 26 stirred considerable excitement here.

Vietnamese official sources said the French — sponsored Viet Nam government would agree to muzzle its guns providing:

1. Viet Nam participates in the peace negotiations and no settlement is valid without the agreement of Viet Nam and her sister states, Laos and Cambodia.

2. Red China must agree to stop aiding the Vietminh and the Western powers must guarantee China's word and make sure it is kept.

3. The Communist-led army and the political organization which Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh calls a government must be destroyed.

4. Viet Nam must be completely united and will not accept any demarcation line, such as Korea's 38th parallel.

The collection has been in the United States National lobby since February 1, and will be at the First National the remainder of the period. The stork shower will continue through February and possibly through March.

Most of the gifts have been donated by members of the Downtown Merchants Association, but some have come also from the general public. There is room for more, and anyone who wishes to give something for the new babies or their parents may leave their offerings at the bank.

Court May Get Beck's Edict

MIAMI, Fla. (U) — A deposed officer of the Yakima, Wash., Teamsters' Union local, denied a hearing at the AFL union's executive board meeting here, has threatened to carry his "dictator" charges against Dave Beck into court.

Martin Crouse, secretary of the Yakima local, before the Teamsters' president placed it in trusteeship last month, said Thursday night his attempt to bring formal charges against Beck before the board was "our final step before going to court."

"Our members want their local back in their own hands—we want to run it like it should be run," Crouse flew here from Yakima hoping to make a personal appearance at the executive board meeting. Before Crouse arrived, however, Beck told reporters the board would not be able to hear the Yakima unionist because of a crowded schedule.

Crouse contends Beck violated the union constitution in investing union funds and has called for his ouster as president. He said he also wanted to tell the board of Beck's "dictatorial" action in placing the local in trusteeship without resolving charges of financial irregularities Crouse has brought against the local's officers.

Crouse said Thursday night he will try to talk to some of the union's international vice presidents before returning to Yakima "and if they won't talk to me, then we'll know where we stand."

Lebanon Councilmen Fail to Get Quorum

LEBANON — For lack of a quorum the second time in 12 years, Lebanon's city council did not meet Tuesday night. Only Glenn Gillenwater and Glenn Huston appeared in addition to the city recorder who is secretary.

Mayor Elmer Fitzgerald was ill with an attack of flu and laryngitis, but the other four members of the body who did not appear, were not accounted for.
