Silverton Park Is Popular

SILVERTON — Despite the weather which did not invite picnicing out of doors, 260 guests spent the day and many stayed for supper, Sunday, in Silverton municipal park and took advantage of the free swimming program and other sports.

Light intermittent rain and sunshine was really out-done with by chilly temperature.

John Demas, park custodian, arranged tables for more than 60 members of the Swegle Young Community Builders, the group announcement asking that they be permitted the use of the wading pool as well as the swimming pool. This was granted. These two pleasures are for any guests at the park and pool, free. Swimming hours, excepting Monday, are afternoon and early evenings.

The Doerflers family reunion was held with 45 members enjoying the day. Their tables were protected from the light rains. The Doerflers come from the Salem and Silverton areas.

Tables accommodated about 50 members of the families of the SP&S Railway officials and employes, at the noon hour with sports enjoyed until late in the afternoon.

Averaging more than 20 in each group, were five other families represented.

Usually the last Sunday in June is the all-season busy park day for visitors of organizations. Many have asked for table reservations and other privileges for the coming Sunday, July 4, and the following Monday and Tuesday, Park Custodian Demas reports.
