

Club Tea On Tuesday

WOODBURN — An unusual program will be presented at the 45th annual Martha Washington tea, Tuesday afternoon, February 22, at the Woodburn public library, featuring Mrs. Inge Love Thielke of Mill City. Mrs. James Lamb is general chairman for the event which is sponsored each year by the Woodburn Woman's Club. Proceeds are used to buy books for the library. The public is invited. Hours are from 2 to 4 p.m.

The entertainment by Mrs. Thielke is planned to honor the occasion and will give a variety of pictures about different parts of the country in song and verse. She composes her own ballads and improves her own accompaniment, using a "Hole" on an ancient Greek instrument similar to a mandolin in shape. Her style of composition and music is declared a revival of the original folk song music.

Mrs. E. E. Hill of Portland, state president of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs, is expected to be present as well as representatives from several clubs in the valley. Mrs. J. B. Gay, president of the Woodburn club, will welcome the guests and Mrs. Estella Kerns, librarian, will give a short report of the library.

Presiding at the tea table will be Mrs. J. Melvin Pines, Mrs. A. F. Austin, Mrs. A. G. Cowan and Mrs. E. J. Allen.

The traditional Martha Washington tea was first served in 1906 on Washington's birthday and has continued in an unbroken series for 49 years, for the library book fund.
