Easter Hats Featuring Velvets

By DOROTHY ROE
(Associated Press Women's Editor)

Something new will appear in the Easter hat lineup this spring. It's a vogue for velvet hats for spring.

Velvets, both in combination with straw and used alone with flower trimming, will be seen in considerable numbers this spring in all the favorite silhouettes of the season.

The small velvet sailor, in beige or gray, with white touches, has a new and smart look with spring suits. And the velvet pillbox with gay flower trim looks as fresh as springtime.

It is predicted that the trend will carry on through summer, with big velvet picture hats teaming with summer print dresses.

New Look—This perky little sailor with rolled brim is made of pale apricot velvet, with white grosgrain band. Designed by Irene.

Combination—Red velvet teams with natural straw for a striking Easter sailor, with turquoise band.

Fruit Ring—This conditioned pillbox of emerald green velvet is trimmed with a ring of bright fruit. Right for suits or dresses.

WOODBURN—Mrs. Fred Anderson, entertained members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Woodburn at her home Friday afternoon. Mrs. A. D. Sproule, the president, was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. L. Anna Smith was a guest.

Refreshments were served by the hosts.
