

Clubs Set Convention

ALBANY—Albany clubs that are members of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs will entertain on Tuesday, April 26, for the annual convention of the second district. It is announced by Mrs. Harold Briggs, convention chairman. Host clubs are Albany Woman's club, Junior Woman's club, Modern Travelers and Thursday Study clubs. The sessions will be at the First Presbyterian church.

Mrs. R. A. Talbot of Albany, president of the second district, will preside over the meetings.

Convention speakers are Mrs. E. E. Hall, state president, who will keynote the convention at the morning session. Mrs. Victor P. Morris, Eugene, luncheon speaker and Mrs. Robert Elk, Pendleton, who will speak in the afternoon.

Mrs. Paul Gathercoal of Corvallis is in charge of the musical part of the program.

Girl Scout News Given for Silverton

SILVERTON—Silverton District Girl Scout association met recently at the home of Mrs. Harlan Moe with Mrs. John Middlemiss as co-hostess. Reports were given from the troops represented and from the cookie sale. Mrs. Jerry Gastineau, district chairman, announced a training session for new leaders and troop committee members to be started shortly with Mrs. Melba Woodard as trainer.

A Girl Scout promise plaque is to be awarded as a traveling prize to future scout get-togethers for the troop having the largest representation at the meeting. At the March get-together, the plaque was presented to the third grade Brownie troop. A picnic is planned in May for all Scouts and their families. Chairmen for this event are Mrs. J. S. Starrett and Mrs. Bessie Morgan.

The Area Council meeting was announced for April 25 at 7:00 p.m. in Salem at the Izaak Walton hall. The Silverton group is to take hot dishes for the dinner.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Melba Woodard and Mrs. Allen Brown showed day camp and troop pictures. These films also were shown to prospective members of a new second grade Brownie troop at Eugene Field with Mrs. Ray Berry, leader.

Installation for JD Bethel at Molalla

MOLALLA—Mrs. Eldeene Marshall and Leonard Marshall were installed guardian and associate guardian, at Monday night's meeting of Bethel No. 46, Job's Daughters. Installing officers were Mrs. Jennie and Glenn Fairfax, past grand guardian and associate grand guardian, and their installing staff. Council installed included Mrs. Olive Boehmke, guardian secretary; Mrs. Pauline Hall, guardian treasurer; Mrs. Miriam Adams, director of music; Mrs. Dawn Moehnke, promoter of sociability; Mrs. Minnie Shaver, director of epochs; O. G. Foglesong, promoter of fraternal relations; Miss Kathryn Breen, publicity.

About 15 members accepted invitation to visit Oregon City Bethel for their Friendship meeting, April 21. Initiation will be May 2; also designated as parents' night. Misses Judy Moehnke, Judy and Joyce Kappler were named as a committee in charge of collecting and mailing clothing for children in Korea. Newell Hall of Molalla Cleaners volunteered to clean the clothing free of charge.

Plans were discussed for a slumber party Friday night, April 29, at a cabin in Shady Dell. Miss Harryette Swerveg was named food chairman, with Miss Lois Burns, chairman for the morning meal. Hobo day was planned for this Saturday, April 23, a money-making project.

May 8 was designated as "go-to-church Sunday" at Oregon City Methodist church, with the girls to wear dresses, instead of their Bethel robes. Miss Joan Hall, delegate, reported on the grand session. Miss Nancy Shaver also was a delegate. The Bethel planned to visit Bethel No. 21 in Portland this Saturday afternoon. Miss Marcy Walters contributed to the birthday bank and the fourth birthday of Molalla Bethel also was observed. The girls voted to keep their old robes, to be used at regular meetings and to wear the new robes on special nights. A reading "Inspection Night" was read by the librarian, Miss Carol Shaver.

Honorary membership certificates into Bethel No. 46 were conferred on Glenn Fairfax and Mrs. Dorothy Crump. Mrs. Marshall, guardian, presented gifts to the installing officers and to the council members. Miss Cora Jean Adams was named chairman of the food committee for the next meeting. Mrs. Marshall invited all visitors to attend other Bethel meetings in Molalla. During a brief program, vocal duets were presented by Misses Kay and Karen Morrow, accompanied by Mrs. Minnie Morrow.

Introduced were Miss Margaret Yeo, past honored queen of Oregon City Bethel; Mrs. Dorothy Crump, supreme chaplain and past grand guardian; Glenn Fairfax, past associate grand guardian; Mrs. Jean Yeo, past grand guardian; Mrs. Vic Bowman, Oregon City Bethel guardian; Mrs. Glenn Fairfax, past guardian Bethel 21, Portland; Mrs. Minnie Morrow, junior past guardian, Bethel 46, Molalla; Mrs. Flo Gregory, grandmother, Bethel 46; Bland Foglesong, worshipful master, Molalla Masonic lodge; Miss Joan Hall, junior princess of Molalla Bethel, also received special introduction as grand representative of Michigan.

The birthday theme was carried out in refreshments served, with purple and white streamers, and matching papers on the tables, a birthday cake and placecards. Spring flowers decorated the hall and dining room.

Homemakers Festival Due For County

Dated for Saturday, is the 10th annual Homemakers Festival for Marion county, the event this year to be staged in Leslie Junior High school, Howard and Church streets, Salem.

The program begins at 10:30 a. m., and a feature each year of the festival is the display of work done by the different units. National Home Demonstration week is being observed this year in May with "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow" as the theme.

Between 500 and 600 women annually attend the Homemakers Festival.

Presiding at this year's event will be Mrs. C. T. Lorenzen of Silverton, chairman of the county committee, and Mrs. C. N. Ruggles of Salem, vice chairman. Other members on the committee assisting with arrangements are Mrs. Jack Bartlett of North Howell unit, Mrs. Don Gildow of Aumsville, Mrs. C. M. Brownell of Silverton, Mrs. Arthur Evans of Salem, Mrs. Norman Reiling of Hubbard. Working with the groups are Mrs. Ermina Fisher and Mrs. Bea Humphries, county extension agents in home economics.

Luncheon will be served at the school at noon. Program features will include a welcome by County Judge Rex Hartley, a talk by Mrs. Joy Hills Gubser, assistant superintendent, state department of education; a talk, "Everyday Living," by Dr. John Waterman, director of men-

Educational Program to Feature P.E.O. Meeting

Chapters of P.E.O. Sisterhood throughout the state are awaiting the annual state convention in Baker, May 16-19.

Dignitaries from both state and supreme chapters will attend. Featuring the opening night, May 16, will be the educational hour, the only public gathering of an otherwise closed convention. This program will stress P.E.O.'s major contributions to the education of women. Mrs. Robert L. Elstrom, Salem, who is first vice-president of the state organization, has served this year as state educational chairman.

Awards of 12 scholarships to Oregon girls will be announced during the educational hour program. Eight of these will be awarded to women attending Colton college, an exclusive junior college for women, owned and operated by P.E.O. Sisterhood at Nevada, Missouri; and four other scholarships will be for use in colleges and universities of Oregon.

The P.E.O. loan fund is another service of the Sisterhood, this fund now grown to $900,000, loans available to any responsible girl who has successfully completed one semester of her college work. At present, 26 young women from Oregon are using the fund.

The international scholarship program is the Sisterhood's latest project, many young women from foreign countries now attending colleges and universities in the United States and Canada under this scholarship plan.
