BIG STICK FOR JAYCEE CONVENTION

If Paul Bunyan should attend the National Jaycee convention in Atlanta, Ga., in June, the huge peeler log in above photo would make a good head for his gavel. The log was donated to the Park Rose Junior Chamber of Commerce, Portland, by the Georgia-Pacific Plywood Co., and is being transported to Atlanta for the convention on a Mack truck donated by the Mack Truck Co. It was taken from the woods at Valsetz by the Western Logging Co. In photo are Roger Barker, Park Rose; Loren Bosten, first vice president, Salem Jaycees; Dale Dorn, president, Salem; and Jerry Rucker, Park Rose, national director of the Jaycees who is driving the truck. It will leave Portland Friday and will arrive at Atlanta June 19.

Voters Approve School Budget

By a majority of 455 out of a total of 2235 votes cast, the electorate of the Salem school district Friday afternoon approved a budget of $5,177,321 of which $1,166,809 is outside of the 6 per cent limitation.

While the vote was larger than usual, the total constituted but a small portion of those entitled to go to the polls.

Voters of the Salem district as well as Brush College voted in favor of consolidation. Salem voted 1322 to 863 in favor of the proposal while Brush College cast a 97 to 69 favorable vote.

One of the Salem voting precincts, No. 3, the Grant school area, rejected the budget and the consolidation. Voters there rejected the budget 119 to 102 and turned down consolidation 113 to 105.

The result was fairly close at No. 5, where voters from much of the business area cast their ballots at the Administration building. The vote favored the budget 126 to 106.

This year's budget means a millage of 57 for school purposes, or 6.5 mills more than a year ago.

The vote by precincts on a yes and no basis: Highland 97-85; Washington, 114-55; Grant, 102-119; Englewood, 201-125; Administration Building, 126-106; Richmond, 151-192-75; Four Corners, 68-36; West Salem, 88-32.

Forward Salem Drive At 72 Per Cent of Goal

The Salem Chamber of Commerce "Forward Salem" campaign reached 72 per cent of its minimum goal of $60,000 and 66 per cent of its $65,000 real potential Friday noon at the third report luncheon of 97 workers at the Marion Hotel, according to an audit completed last night, it was announced by General Co-chairman Joseph A. H. Dodd and George Alexander, Jr.

Otto J. Wilson and William H. Hammond, co-chairman of the business groups division, divided the official duties of presiding. The 97 persons attending were co-chairmen, captains and team members in the seven business groups of the campaign.

Fourth report luncheon will be held Tuesday noon at that same place. All workers were urged to see as many as possible of their prospects in the meantime so as to push the budget total as high as they can Tuesday noon, Hammond and Wilson said.

A total of 134 new members and 110 "old"-member increases have been chalked up thus far in the campaign which opened on May 12 with 329 active workers in the seven business groups, including a 43-man special prospects committee headed by Co-chairmen George B. Paulus and A. A. Atherton.

Professional group took all honors at Friday's luncheon, winning the "President's Pennant" for largest gain toward group goal, the "General Co-chairmen's Award" for most new members, and the "Treasurer's Trophy" for highest percentage of cash collected with subscriptions turned in. Workers in this group received a free lunch as guests of the members of the board of directors who personally took this method of expressing appreciation of their accomplishments.

Standings of the seven groups showed that the real estate and insurance group leads for the entire campaign so far with 86 per cent of minimum goal of $3,500; manufacturers, finance, utilities and construction group is second with 83 per cent of $15,000 minimum goal; and diversified group is third with 73 per cent of $9,900 minimum goal. Retail and wholesale group is trailing with just 60 per cent of $16,200 minimum goal.

Hammond and Wilson announced current standings of the seven groups as follows, also listing the new members and "old"-member increases reported Friday noon, first figure being minimum group goal, second figure the "real potential," and third figure the annual amount subscribed thus far:

Scouts and Cubs from Marion, Polk and Linn counties totalling more than 1800 boys assembled in Salem early Saturday afternoon for the annual parade and circus.

The program is sponsored each year by the Downtown Lions Club with proceeds being used in betterments at Camp Pioneer.

The performance at Waters Park will begin at 8 o'clock although those who attend are urged to get there an hour earlier so that an hour may be devoted to viewing the merit badge and vocational expositions that will be set up on the field.

The circus proper will include many of the contests and activities of the Scouts and Cubs. The program has been arranged so there will be no delays and those who attend may expect an evening of real entertainment.

Following the parade the boys will go to the park where they will be served their evening meal.

Judge Joseph B. Felton will be in charge of the candlelight closing ceremony which is expected to be impressive and colorful.

Agreements End

Small and F. M. Malone, Southern Bell vice president in charge of personnel, signed the agreement last night after both sides made concessions during prolonged negotiations.

Smallwood said machinery for ratification already was in motion "but will take several days to complete since about 40,000 people in 700 towns are involved." Workers were expected to return to their jobs after ratification.

Accident Brings Suit For $17,500 Damages

A suit seeking a judgment of $17,500 general damages for injuries said to have been sustained in an accident April 5 on Lancaster drive has been filed in Marion county circuit court by Doris C. Guest, a minor, through Edith Mae Guest, guardian ad litem, against Fred O. Repine.

The compalint sets forth that the plaintiff was a passenger in a northbound automobile which was involved in a collision with a machine operated by the defendant. Repine is charged with negligence.

Civil Defense Lists Geiger Counters

Own a Geiger counter?

The state civil defense agency is trying to compile a list of everyone in Oregon who has a radiological detection instrument, so it will know what resources are available for measuring "fallout" of radioactive particles in the event of an enemy attack.

Anyone owning one of the devices is asked to send his name, address and type of detection instrument to the medical department, Oregon State Civil Defense Agency, P.O. Box 231, Portland.

Blaze Extinguished At Livesley Building

Salem firemen dashed up the 85-foot ladder of the city's aerial ladder truck Friday afternoon to extinguish a smouldering blaze on an offset room at the fourth floor of the Livesly building.

The blaze apparently started when a cigarette was tossed out a window onto an accumulation of other debris that had been thrown out windows on previous occasions, Fire Chief E. L. Smith said.

An offset area where the building narrows a few feet on the south half of the west side of the building provides a small roof area where the debris had gathered, firemen said.

MISSION COMPLETED

Some 150 members of the freshman class at Willamette University cleaned up Pioneer Cemetery Saturday, and had the job finished shortly afternoon. It was a volunteer project done for the City of Salem. Refreshments were served the students at noon. Some relatives of persons whose graves are in the cemetery appeared to offer advice and suggestions. In the top picture the students are shown cleaning up the grave of Oregon's first territorial governor, Joseph Lane. From left, Pat Woody, Bob Campbell, Jerry Johnson, Richard Chanda (over wheelbarrow), Earl Pajari, Bob Boss and Freida Kirk. Below, resting after a morning's work, are, from left, Ralph Sipprell, Maureen Day Constance Clark and Dianne Jones.

Record

In her annual report and charge to the federation, presented early this afternoon, Mrs. Burns called on members to "be active in your community, yes, but measure your programs and projects by the BPW yardstick, work for the betterment of the individual and of the community as a whole, and confine cooperation to those working along the lines of our objectives." Mrs. Burns reported she was delighted with the variety in program presentation and the increased membership participating marking the year, and went on to discuss activities of federation members and groups in education, vocations, legislation, international relations, national security, public affairs, and civic interests. She told the group the federation membership goal of 2750 by May 1 had been exceeded and that two new clubs had been established.

The president commended the group for its enthusiastic support for the equal pay bill passed at the legislature, and told about gains in the political field by having members placed in policy making posts. She also reported on federation representation on the newly organized Oregon Civil Defense Women's Advisory committee.

Other reports from officers and chairmen featured the morning sessions, and during the afternoon revision of the state constitution and by-laws was up for discussion and action, and the resolution committee was to give its report.

Highlight of the day will be the banquet tonight with the Albany, Lebanon, McMinnville and Sweet Home clubs as host groups.

Annual emblem breakfast will be Sunday morning at the Marion hotel with State Senator Mark Hatfield of Salem as guest speaker.

Refuse to Cut

The government also decided against curtailing inoculations during the summer height of the polio season. Although the advisory group did say the most favorable time for vaccination is before the epidemic season, it added in a statement last night that administration of vaccine during a polio outbreak "has its place in preventive medicine." Some doctors had voiced concern lest administration of the vaccine during such a period might provoke the disease.

Resumption of vaccine shipments after one safety recheck halt had been hoped for next week. But the possibility of a new delay in distributing the vaccine arose when vaccine manufacturers said their technical specialists had been called to a Monday conference here. The subject: new safety standards.

The theater was showing "The Caine Mutiny" and "On The Waterfront."

Effects Likely

The union has appealed for federal aid to end what it calls a lockout. Frank Brewster, president of the AFL Western Conference of Teamsters, said he sent a telegram to the Interstate Commerce Commission asking revocation of franchises of companies that closed down operations "even though they were not struck by our union."

He said ICC regulations require the trucking companies to give service to the public "as long as they are able to do so."

Brewster asserted the closedown by trucking companies was an "arbitrary, illegal combination in violation of the law and flaunts the public interests."

In reply an industry spokesman said the union's contention was "all nonsense."

"The entire industry was struck," he said. "The union singled out three firms, but we say when one company is struck the entire industry is struck, and therefore we cannot continue operations."

Officials of both the trucking industry and the union said they are attempting to continue shipments of hospital supplies, perishables and government freight including mail.

The struck trucking firms are Consolidated Freightways, Pacific Intermountain Express and the Pacific Motor Trucking Co.
