NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Vice President Nixon says "America's wage earners today have more jobs at higher wages, with greater purchasing power and less strikes than at any time in history."

"And they have peace to boot," Nixon credited this to the Eisenhower administration—and what he called its "dynamic conservatism"—in a speech last night at the 25th annual dinner of the New York group of the Investment Bankers Assn. of America.

Driver Sticks With Runaway Rig Down Hill

KITANNING, Pa. (U.S.)—Truck driver Charles DeFrain—plucky, lucky and scared—stayed with his runaway rig as it careened down a steep hill, smashing 19 autos and injuring three persons before coming to a halt.

The vice president asserted what he said was an opposition effort to save the administration the political "kiss of death" by pinning "the business label" on it.

He said that business is sharing in an unparalleled time of prosperity, and he lauded the administration's economic policies as "progressive and humanitarian without being socialist."

Wife Prefers TV to Hubby

CHICAGO (U.S.)—A young wife told a judge yesterday that her television and late-hour movies were worth more to her than her husband.

He said the Eisenhower program is designed to meet the nation's needs over a 19-year period for power, roads, schools, hospitals and slum clearance by "partnership" between the federal government and private enterprise and state and local governments.

Waiting to greet him was Premier Bulganin, looking brown as a berry after a Black Sea holiday. Foreign Minister Molotov and Deputy Premiers Malenkov, Kaganovich, Pervukhin and Zhdanov.

Blaze at Dallas

DALLAS—Fire early Wednesday damaged the home of John E. Bishop, 212 E. Ash street. Firemen said the blaze apparently was caused by a defective flue. Damage, which was confined chiefly to the upper floor, was not estimated.

Attorneys Quit Patients May Have TV Sets

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (U.S.)—Caryl Chessman—the death row author—fiercely parted company yesterday with two attorneys who saved him, at least temporarily, from the gas chamber.

The attorneys, Berwyn Rice and Jerome Duffy, told newsmen after leaving San Quentin Prison that they were leaving the case. They declared their part in it was "finished, kaput."

Rice said soon after they arrived for a conference, Chessman, banging the table, shouted: "Goddam you, you —! Here are you going to get out here when you can spend more than 20 minutes with me?"

Chessman was convicted May 22, 1943, of eight counts of robbery, four of kidnapping, two of sex perversion on victims, one of attempted robbery, one of attempted criminal assault and one of auto theft.

The U.S. Supreme Court ordered a rehearing Monday on his petition for a writ of habeas corpus. The court based its ruling on the state's failure to deny Chessman's charge that the transcript of his trial at Los Angeles was "fraudulently prepared" and remanded the case to Federal District Court for a hearing.

Chessman, now 34, has been relieved from execution six times. While in death row, he wrote the best-selling "Cell 2455 Death Row."

Injuries to Minors Drop

A decrease of 13 per cent in overall work injuries to teenagers during the second quarter of 1935 over the same period of 1934 was reported by Labor Commissioner Norman O. Nilsen Friday.

He said the Eisenhower program is designed to meet the nation's needs over a 19-year period for power, roads, schools, hospitals and slum clearance by "partnership" between the federal government and private enterprise and state and local governments.

He said the Eisenhower program is designed to meet the nation's needs over a 19-year period for power, roads, schools, hospitals and slum clearance by "partnership" between the federal government and private enterprise and state and local governments.

However, Nilsen said that a record on minors' industrial employment shows injuries of a serious nature on the increase with one fatal accident recorded.

Approximately one out of every six industrial accidents to minors under 18 years of age occurred in occupations regarded as hazardous under the child labor laws, Nilsen said.

Commissioner Nilsen said that more accidents of the working teen-agers were due to the unskilled use of tools rather than to mechanical dangers.

He asserted labor investigators found more than one-fourth of the employers reporting accidents to minor employees had bypassed child labor regulations in failing to secure work permits for their employees. Nilsen points out that Oregon laws hold employers responsible for securing approval of minors' prospective jobs from the Bureau of Labor regardless of the safety of the job. Permits for 10,255 minors' jobs were issued during the quarter year, Nilsen said. This was a rise of 25 per cent over a corresponding period of 1934.

United Fund 88 Per Cent

Report at the United Fund luncheon Friday noon added $29,490.25 to the pledge list for a grand total to date of $180,465.75, which is 88 per cent of the goal figure of $205,000.

The automotive division got a big boost when Valley Motor Company reported in its plant contribution of $2477.

The largest single report Friday was from general gifts, which added $4053 to previous pledges for a total to date of $22,466.13 on a quota of $27,500.

Chairman Kenneth Poitz told the workers that they were down to grass roots, and that if all who gave last year will give again the fund will go over the top. Individual contributions are one or two divisions may not reach quota, but, if not, it is believed the shortage will be overcome by others that will exceed their quotas.

Israel Raises Arming Funds

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector (U.S.)—Premier Moshe Sharett made the drive for funds to buy Israeli arms official Friday with a broadcast appeal for contributions by Israeli citizens in all walks of life.

Sharett urged that all "contribute to the limit of your ability" because the purchase of heavy armaments will require "many millions of Israeli pounds which have no coverage in this year's ordinary budget."

He referred to "the impending Egyptian military advantage of Egypt—an enemy of the country planning aggression against Israel" and said, "citizens must realize this danger and give money for arms purchases without delay."

It will purchase arms from Communist Czechoslovakia, also is conducting a financial campaign among its citizens to pay for them.

Sharett's appeal followed a spontaneous movement among the Israeli people who have sent almost a million Israeli pounds ($50,000) to the Defense Ministry in the past two days. Half a port workers pledged funds to buy two mosquito planes.

Mill Closes At Sheridan

SHERIDAN (U.S.)—This town's largest industry, the McCormick Lumber & Manufacturing Co., shut down operations Thursday, idling 70 workers.

However, H. F. McCormick, president, said the company hopes to reopen the plant next spring. The plant was closed by a $200,000 fire in May, 1934. It was rebuilt a year ago.

Auto Crash Kills Coos Bay Woman

COOS BAY (U.S.)—Mrs. Alma Ann Malone, about 40, of Coos Bay, was injured fatally last night when the car in which she was riding struck the rear of a parked produce truck on Highway 104 in the Bunker Hill district.

Police said driver of the car was Donald Ross Truex, 49, also of Coos Bay. He was hospitalized with a broken right arm and head cuts.

Portland Gas to Pay 22 1/2-Cent Dividend

PORTLAND (U.S.)—A dividend of 22 1/2 cents a share on common stock will be paid by the Portland Gas & Coke Co. next month.

Directors voted the dividend Thursday after President Charles H. Guelffroy reported net income of $1,722,973 for the year ended Sept. 30. That was a gain of $332,726 over the previous year.

Earnings were equal to $2.23 a share, compared with $1.53 the previous year.

City Pays $1000 For Killing Cows

PORTLAND (U.S.)—Willard J. Miller will get $1,000 from the city because fire killed five of his cows.

They didn't do it in a rush to get to a fire. They were spraying weed-killer on their oil-fire test grounds on the outskirts of the city, when some of the spray drifted into Miller's pasture.

A veterinarian said the spray killed the cattle, and the City Council decided Thursday to pay Miller.

SAFE BETS

BEFORE BACKING UP, LOOK THE YARD OVER—DEAR OLD AUNT AGGIE MAY BE PICKING A CLOVER!

A safety poster campaign and cooperation in national traffic safety observances are planned by the Salem Traffic Safety Council, and will be discussed at a council meeting Friday afternoon, Chairman Herbert Carter said.

This activity is intended for the month of November, but the council's activity is also tied in with national child accident prevention week, October 23-29, which was today proclaimed by Mayor Robert F. White for Salem.

'WOC' Probe Is Underway

WASHINGTON (U.S.)—Rep. Celler (D-N.Y.) said today House investigators have assembled new evidence of what he called "questionable" practices by businessmen serving the government in an unpaid voluntary capacity.

Celler's Judiciary subcommittee resumes hearings next Tuesday on the government role of "WOCs"—the modern version of the old style dollar-a-year man on loan from business "without compensation."

Discussing the hearings with newsmen, Celler said his subcommittee will air a number of individual cases demonstrating "inconsistencies" in having businessmen serve the government while remaining on their company payrolls.

"The evidence will clearly show that these men, while working for the government on a voluntary basis, were aiding their own companies," he said.

Celler has also accused the Business Advisory Council of anti-trust violations.

The BAC is an advisory group including top-drawer executives from the nation's largest corporations, as well as economists and business experts. It advises the secretary of commerce on national economic affairs.

K. Harold Roosenstein, BAC chairman and president of Owens-Corning Fiberglass Corp., Toledo, told reporters "any or all" of the BAC members stand ready to testify on BAC's service to the government during the Franklin D. Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower administrations. Several other members agreed.

Six Fined for Burning Turf

CORVALLIS (U.S.)—Six University of Oregon students who pleaded guilty to burning the letters "U O" on the Oregon State football field Tuesday were fined $50 each here Friday.

The court suspended $30 of each fine pending good behavior and payment of damage, estimated at $92.

Meanwhile the burned turf was camouflaged with green paint and grass clippings for Friday's Oregon-Fresh-Oregon State football game and Saturday's Washington State-Oregon State contest.

Wm. A. Healy, Portland, Dies

PORTLAND (U.S.)—William A. Healy, 73, long-time Portland industrialist, died at his home Thursday night.

Through most of his business life he was associated with furniture sales and manufacture. He was one of the founders of a company from which Portland Furniture Manufacturing Co. grew and was president when that latter firm merged in 1930 with Doernbecher Manufacturing Co. He was vice president of Doernbecher when that company was liquidated last year.

He was one of the owners of television station KLOB in Portland. Healy was born in Seattle and spent most of his youth in Vancouver, Wash.

Survivors include his widow; three sons, William A. Healy Jr. of Bend; Robert S. Healy and John P. Healy of Portland; and a daughter, Mrs. John C. Patrick of Portland.

Suit Filed in Race Accident

An accident at the Hollywood Bowl, auto racing track north of Salem, last July 20, which it is charged resulted in the death of Richard S. Ketchum, a spectator, four days later, has resulted in the filing of a $20,000 damage suit in Marion county circuit court by Marian Ketchum, administratrix, against Valley Sports, Paul Ail Enterprises, Joe Steiner and Marlen Beirne.

Ketchum was struck by flying planks when the racing car driven by Steiner hit the guard rail. Several others were more or less seriously injured as a result of the accident.

The complaint charges the defendants with failing and neglecting to provide Richard S. Ketchum with a safe place to occupy during the racing program.

"Steiner is negligent in that he operated his race car while said automobile was in an unsafe mechanical condition," and that he neglected to properly inspect the car's mechanism prior to operating said race car in the racing area in close proximity to the spectators."

At the time of his death Ketchum was 21 years and 10 months old and the complaint states he had a life expectancy of 44.77 years. He was unmarried.

Venezuelan Girl Is 'Miss World'

LONDON (U.S.)—Suwara Djinn, a tall brunette model from Caracas, today wore the crown of "Miss World," a title that covers a lot of territory.

Wearing a bathing suit that did not cover so much, the 19-year-old Venezuelan beauty won the title in competition with 20 other girls last night. The contest was sponsored by a chain of British dance halls and the London newspaper, The Sunday Dispatch.

Miss Djinn stands 5 feet 8 inches. Her other measurements: bust 34, waist 21, hips 34.

Price of Black Oil Goes Up In Salem

The Fuel Oil Dealers Association of Salem announced Friday that the major oil companies have increased prices on black oils 30 cents a barrel on light domestic and 15 cents a barrel on heavier black oil.

The prices went into effect last Monday, Oct. 17.

Faulty Patch Blamed in 5 Truck Deaths

CUMBERLAND, Md. (U.S.)—A faulty patch on an air-brake hose was blamed Friday for the death of five persons killed in a runaway truck last Wednesday.

Sgt. William F. Baker of the Maryland State Police said he and two Cumberland trucking experts examined the hose on the truck which roared out of control down Big Savage Mountain, smashing into a second truck and an automobile on Cumberland's west outskirts.

Baker said there had been a break in the hose, the break had been patched with friction tape, and the tape had worn out, causing the leak to reappear.

Paul Stewart Myers, 25-year-old driver of the truck, was charged Thursday with manslaughter and Ray Wells, owner of the vehicle, was arrested as a material witness.

Gifted Child Plan Explained

The "Gifted Child" educational program now being undertaken by the Salem School System will supplement rather than supplant the normal grade school curriculum in the city schools, Dr. Wesley Niemi told the Active Club Thursday night.

Dr. Niemi is director of special education for the Salem schools. He told the Active Club members that advanced children will be future leaders and that to neglect them would be a waste of a tremendous natural resource.
