Federal Deficit Drops $1 Billion

WASHINGTON—The federal deficit during July-September was nearly a billion dollars less than in the corresponding quarter last year.

The Treasury Department figures showed today, because of increased tax collections that more than made up for spending totals also higher than those in the first quarter of the 1955 fiscal year.

The monthly Treasury budget statement for September turned up a $3,950,000,000 deficit in the first three months of fiscal 1956. This compared with a $4,850,000,000 deficit a year earlier.

Contest Open To Students

High school juniors and seniors in Salem, valley towns and elsewhere have opportunity to participate in the eighth annual national essay contest on employment of the physically handicapped.

The contest is sponsored each year by the President's committee, cooperating with governors' committees.

The deadline for entering essays is February 10, 1956.

The title of this year's essay is "Independence for the Handicapped Through Employment."

National prizes are $1,000 for first; $400, second; $300, third; $200, fourth, and $100 for fifth. The five prize winners also receive an expense-free trip to Washington, D.C.

In Oregon, prizes will be given to winners in bonds with $100 to first, $50 to second, and $25 each to third, fourth and fifth. The essay winning first place in Oregon will be entered in the national contest.

The Disabled American Veterans contribute the prizes on the national level. The Oregon Machinists Council, Portland Aerie No. 4 of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, and the Department of Oregon, Disabled American Veterans, contribute the state prizes.

This is the only contest sponsored by the federal government and is approved by the National Association of Secondary School Principals, Superintendents, high school principals and teachers have given enthusiastic endorsement to the contest. Full particulars will be mailed to all high school principals in Oregon.

Bus Passenger Sues Company

A suit seeking $2,875 in general and $75 in special damages has been filed in Marion county circuit court by Dorothy Mae Wolferton against Woodrow Wilson Sanders and Continental Pacific Lines.

Sanders is identified as a driver for Continental otherwise known as "Trailways."

The complaint sets forth that the plaintiff was a passenger in an automobile driven by her husband early in the morning of May 10, 1954 near the North Salem drive-in theater along highway 99E.

It is charged that the bus, traveling in the same direction as the car in which the defendant was a passenger, struck the automobile in the rear while attempting to pass. The plaintiff charges that she was injured as a result of the crash.

UAL Strike Set Tonight

NEW YORK—The AFL Flight Engineers International Aest said Friday it will strike against United Air Lines at midnight Friday as scheduled and any effort by United to fly would be possible only "by use of scabs."

The union said its strike against the company, which serves 40 cities, is on a job security issue.

William Kent, union president, told newsmen: "A flight crew has great enough physical and mental concern over the safety of passenger lives without heaping on their minds and consciences the mental burden of scabbing against their fellow employees."

"Such a move by United would set employment relations on United back 10 years."

Mystery of Death Solved

WHITING, Calif.—The "wine" which Mrs. Rose Jones Finigan fatally poisoned in a moment of hospitality was described by sheriff's officers today as a toxic killer fluid.

Inspector F. W. Rosenberg said the 50-year-old personal secretary to film producer C. B. De Mille apparently poured from a wine bottle containing deadly sodium arsenate. The inspector said the bottle had been taken accidentally from the home of Mrs. Finigan's brother-in-law, a termite exterminator.

Mrs. Finigan died yesterday, about 12 hours after taking a sip with a neighbor, Mrs. Dolores Hoyle, 26, who had complained of a cold. Mrs. Hoyle is hospitalized, but expected to recover.

The mystery of the poisoned wine was solved suddenly, Rosenberg said, when officers went to the home of the brother-in-law, Carl Finigan, where Mrs. Finigan and her husband formerly lived.

Carl Finigan told them he used sodium arsenate to exterminate termites and frequently carried it to jobs in old wine bottles.

"How would it look after standing awhile?" he was asked.

"Something like sauterne," Finigan answered.

Revetment Contract Goes to Elte Company

SP Company Sues Heltzel

The Southern Pacific company Friday filed suit in Marion county circuit court against Clas H. Heltzel as public utilities commissioner of Oregon seeking to have vacated an order known as No. 33895 issued by defendant commissioner.

Order No. 33895 declared that amendments to the Southern Pacific company's time table which suspended operation of the utilities train known as the Rogue River were to be held in abeyance pending a hearing and determination of the removal of the two trains which operated between Portland and Ashland and return.

The complaint charges that the order "is wholly beyond the powers granted to the commissioner by the legislative assembly and therefore void."

The plaintiff discontinued the two trains because said order is wholly void and unenforceable. Nevertheless, the complaint continues, the plaintiff is aggrieved because said order, in violation of the provisions of ORS 760.575, prima facie reasonable until judicially set aside and declared void.

Nels A. Peterson Passes in Portland

Nels A. Peterson, 85, a long time resident of Salem, died Thursday in a Portland hospital after suffering an apparent heart attack in a Portland bus depot.

He is a late resident of 456 North 18th street, and was born March 5, 1870, in Norway. He was employed as a gardener in Salem.

Survivors include the widow, Clara, of Salem; a daughter, Elvina Welches, Cut Bank, Mont.; and a nephew, Hans Fjeldmo, Tacoma, Wash.

Funeral services will be announced by the W. T. Rigdon Chapel.

Rear-end Jolts Lead Mishaps

Rear-end collisions have become the leading type of Oregon accident.

There were 6,090 rear-end crashes during the first six months of 1955; and 3,038 of them resulted in property damage. More than 1,000 of the rear-end crashes, which traffic experts blame on inattentive driving, caused injuries and four proved fatal.

The figures, released by Secretary of State Earl T. Newbery's traffic safety division, also reveal that more rear-end collisions happened at non-intersection locations than at intersections.

Other leading types of accidents during the first six months were: turning movements, 6,027; angle collisions, 3,728; sideswiped-over-taking, 2,925; parking maneuver, 2,869; backing, 1,923; sideswiped-meeting, 1,400; head-on crashes, 371; and unclassified, 58.
