

$200,000 Put Up for Drive By Kefauver

Senator Almost Certain To Assay 'Giant Killer' Role

By JACK BELL

CHICAGO — Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee apparently is going to assay a "giant killer" role in a battle with Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois for the 1956 Democratic nomination.

Friends who participated in a three-day party rally which wound up here this weekend reported Kefauver has firm pledges for more than $200,000 in campaign funds and is almost certain to take the plunge into the contest next month.

This would pit him directly against Stevenson, the 1952 nominee who is running again, while Gov. Averell Harriman of New York waits watchfully on the flanks for any sign of a stalemate.

Stevenson, who formally announced his candidacy last week, appeared to have been installed as an odds-on favorite for the nomination by members of the national committee and state chairmen who have most to do with the selection of next year's convention delegate slates.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), Stevenson's 1952 running mate, said he thinks Stevenson is far ahead and will get stronger as time rolls on.

"By the time next year's convention comes around, or even before then, I don't think there will be any doubt about Stevenson's domination," he said.

However, Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.) observed in a separate interview that "nine months is a long time to keep up the pace that Stevenson has set."

Harriman made it clear at a

Russ Build Up Steam For Propaganda Duel

Rebuilt Comintern To Wage Fight On 3 Fronts

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Amid efforts of both sides to keep the Geneva spirit breathing, a crucial cold war battle is shaping up. It is a long-term propaganda battle between two ways of life—to be fought with political, economic and cultural weapons.

A reconstructed Communist International (Comintern) will wage the fight for the Soviet Union. The Comintern program is based on the premise of a military and diplomatic standoff between the two power blocs. The end of the Geneva conference in complete failure was the signal for the Red campaign to get up steam.

All this seems clear from recent news conference here yesterday he isn't closing any doors to acceptance of the nomination if it should come his way. He maintained he isn't an "active candidate."

But he said he retains "the recognized right of a man to seek another office" when he was asked if he felt he ought to serve out his term of governor, which has three more years to run.

Harriman, who said he has an "understanding" with Stevenson on which he wouldn't elaborate, said he doesn't agree that the Democrats ought to pick a "moderate" candidate or write a "middle-of-the-road" platform. He said he subscribes to former President Harry S. Truman's view that the party must bear a "liberal" label if it hopes to win the presidency and Congress next year.

statements of Soviet and satellite propaganda outlets. The campaign appears to have three major facets:

1. A drive to increase Communist influence in all so-called colonial and backward areas.
  2. A stepped-up drive among the working classes in all countries. It is from the working classes that the Communist-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU) whose directorate provides a new Comintern linking Moscow to parties throughout the world.
  3. A drive for "unity of the left." The Communists in countries like France, Germany and Japan will attempt to woo the far-left elements of Socialist parties into a united front to increase Communist power and influence in the parliaments.
- Pravda, the Communist party newspaper in Moscow, underscored this program in its review of prospects of communism at the time of the recent celebration of the Russian Revolution anniversary. The program was elaborated further in statements elsewhere, particularly in France, where Red party is a bellwether for Western Communists.
- While the "peace partisan" movement will be stepped up to demand retention of the "spirit of Geneva," the Communist parties will keep in mind the recent rallying cry of Pravda: "Our century is the century of the victorious march of communism."
- Pravda told the Communists this meant continued "strengthening of the might of the Soviet Union and its defense capacities and training of Soviet people in a spirit of vigilance toward the machinations of the enemies of peace." The article directed Communists elsewhere to "quicken the pace of the national

Recorders Elect Lanke President

Herman Lanke, Marion county recorder and former vice president of the Association of Clerks and Recorders of Oregon, was elevated to the presidency of that organization during its annual convention held in Portland late last week. He will succeed John Livira, clerk of Grant county.

Others elected to office in the association are: Charles Dörner, liberation movement in the colonies and the activation of the struggle of the working class for its rights in capitalist countries.

Roseburg, vice president; Jessie M. Bell, Pendleton, secretary and H. F. Jensen, St. Helens, treasurer.

The convention program included a discussion of the state election laws by David O'Hara, chief elections clerk in the office of the secretary of state.

The association agreed to name a committee to work with the legislature concerning problems arising between the counties and the state. It was recommended that that county recorders and clerks be insured against suits arising from errors or omissions while processing records.

Case Urges Revision Of Immigration Act

WASHINGTON — Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.) called for revision of the McCarran-Walter Act today to bring "a wider sense of humanity to our immigration policies."

He was among witnesses invited to testify before a Senate Immigration subcommittee as it started hearings on bills to overhaul the 1952 act, passed over former President Truman's veto.

Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) recommended that the act be scrapped, but Case said in his prepared testimony he thought this would probably be unwise since "it is, after all, a codification of all our immigration statutes and procedures."

The bulky, complex act has been a continuing source of controversy.

Case said "Injustices have been done" under the act and declared that "some of its provisions carry the seeds of future difficulties as well."

Oregon Woman's Car Kills One of Two Fighting Men

LOS ANGELES — Two men riding in a car Sunday got into an argument.

During the fight, Andis was knocked down. A car driven by Bonita Wu, 23, of Bonanza, Ore., struck and killed him, officers reported.

Miss Wu was not held. Kelley was booked on suspicion of being drunk.
